PASSIONATE ABOUT RUGBY LEAGUE

ANNE KEARNS... in the hot-seat while Chris is on sick leave

I WAS stopped in town the other day by a lady who was interested in Oldham RLFC and was keen to know what she could do to help.

The obvious reply was to urge her to come to home games and to encourage others to come with her. As it happened she was a regular fan, but her parting shot was to tell me she would do her best to bring others with her today and also to our remaining regular-season home games against Coventry Bears on September 2 and Bradford Bulls on September 16.

When we had gone our separate ways, it set me thinking of other ways that fans can get involved and help Roughyeds to move onwards and upwards in these difficult times when we need all the backing we can muster.

Every little helps . . . and that's the key. The secret for success is for a LOT to do a LITTLE. Times are hard and money is tight, but there are ways you can help and ideas to suit all pockets.

Many of you go beyond the call of duty already and, believe me, your support is hugely appreciated.

But it will do no harm to put out a general reminder of some of the ways you might be able to give us a lift without spending more than the cost of a coffee and a cake in town.

For £1 get a Roughyeds car sticker and advertise the club wherever you go; for £1 try your luck on a game-day Golden Gamble ticket; for £1 a week join the Club Cash lottery with weekly prizes of £1,000, £250 and £125 plus a rollover jackpot that can rise to a maximum £10,000.

To join just ring the office on 07904 898177, leave your contact details and we'll get back to you.

Beyond that, visit our game-day shop; invest in a game-day Roughyed Review for £3 (24-page, full colour); start Christmas shopping early with Craig Halstead's latest Roughyeds book at £12.95; or join ORSA, the supporters' association for an annual membership fee of £10.

Plenty of options there and please remember: EVERY LITTLE COUNTS.

Have a great day with us,

Anne Kearns,
Oldham RLFC

I'll never forget my first Ladbrokes Challenge Cup final at Wembley a couple of years ago. It was fabulous. I was like a big kid. I'm pictured (right) holding the iconic trophy with Shirley Mullaney, a great friend of the club from H Mullaney and Son Ltd, one of our sponsors.

For any rugby league fan who hasn't been to a Wembley final it's an absolute MUST, one for the bucket list of 'things to do'.

I was VERY new to this great sport back then, but I was absolutely captivated not only by the game but by the fabulous atmosphere and all the support things like street dancers, pre-match entertainment, cheer leaders and, of course, Abide With Me. Ladies, don't forget your tissues !

One other thought. If you plan to go why not get your tickets from us. We have to pay the RFL for our allocation whether we sell them or not so it's a MASSIVE help for our club if we can sell as many as possible.

The tickets we've been given are £30 adults, £22.50 for over-65s, £10 for under-16s.

A couple of months back we were selling Club Wembley tickets at £55, but they're all gone.

All you have to do to buy from us -- and do a great service to YOUR club -- is to drop into the office 10am to 3pm Monday to Friday; book on line at www.roughyeds.co.uk or give us a ring on 07904 898177.

this week head coach SCOTT NAYLOR

HELLO everyone and welcome to today's game against Whitehaven at the Vestacare Stadium.

To say today's game is important would be a huge understatement considering the position of both clubs in the league table and how much is riding on the game because we are late in the season and we are both aiming for the play-offs.

We each have 26 points, as have two more clubs in Doncaster and Hunslet, so it's VERY tight.

The old saying that a game is a four-pointer is very true about today's game, as is its importance in terms of qualification for the play-offs with all that means about our finish to the league campaign.

Seriously, the result of today's game couldn't be any more valuable for both clubs.

It's been a strange few months for us as a club, with a string of close losses home and away that have changed the outcome to our season and have put huge pressure on us to finish strongly in the remaining games to ensure we have a home game in the play-offs come September.

We have an opportunity in our next two games to create a gap between us and those clubs in fourth and fifth place on the table, so it's in our hands and we have to win.

What's happened on the pitch since February is irrelevant, but what happens from now until the end of September is very, very relevant.

We've six games left and we have to finish strongly, starting today,

Many thanks,
Scott

Craig Halstead is here today selling signed copies of his second Roughyeds book.

All profits go to the club.

Joe (11) wins our picture competition

WE are pleased to announce the winner of the competition in which fans were invited to take action shots on mobile phones at the game against West Wales Raiders on July 8.

There was a healthy response and some of the best entries were used in Roughyed Review at the match against North Wales Crusaders on July 22.

The winner was selected by our media team, Roger Halstead, Dave Murgatroyd and Dave Naylor plus Anne Kearns, who is currently running the office.

The winning picture was of Ben West crossing the line for one of our record-breaking 18 tries in a 102-6 win.

It was submitted by 11-year-old Joe Snape, a junior season-ticket holder, whose prize will take him into the hospitality suite with two adults at the game against Coventry Bears on September 2.

As part of his big day he will also be photographed with Roary on the pitch at half-time.

"He's very happy about this; absolutely made up," said Joe's mum, Catherine.

Joe has just left St Paul's primary, Royton and will start at North Chadderton next month.

A big thank-you from the club to everyone who took part.

BEN WEST GOING IN ... THE WINNING ENTRY

Give Roary some Colour and Win a Cash Prize

ROARY is calling on fans aged 12 and under to give him a bit of colour!

To win cash prizes for first, second and third (£10, £5, £2.50) just get out your crayons or paint brushes (anything goes) and give him a makeover on this page.

You can have him wearing anything you like -- home kit, away kit, or anything else that takes your fancy. Be bold, imaginative and creative. It's just a bit of fun.

Closing date for the return of entries, which must include name, age and contact number, is the Coventry Bears home game on September 2 when you can pop them into a box which will be clearly marked and situated near the turnstiles.

Winners will be announced, photographed and presented with their cash prizes by Roary at the Bradford Bulls game on September 16.

If you can't attend on any of those dates speak to Anne Kearns in the office on 07904 898177 and she'll tell you what to do.

Remember -- you must be no older than 12 !

Q. How long have you been with the club?
I became the Oldham mascot in 2008 after a spell as the British lion.

Q. Favourite past and present player?
Past is Lewis Palfrey, I've spent a bit of time with Lewis, travelling to a few Rugby promotional events. Boy can he get lost driving around Leeds!

Present player is big Phil Joy, a true Oldhamer.

Q. Favourite away supporters?
No fans come close to the Oldham's, but if I have to choose another set of supporters, it has to be the "Thunder Army" (BOOM BOOM)

They're a great group of people, I always love them coming to Oldham or me travelling up to Newcastle.

Q. Favourite other mascot?
I love the North Wales mascot, Colyn, Roger Ram from Dewsbury and the Hull KR mascot. I even like the Bradford Bulls boys, but that brings me to the next question.

Q. Best Moments at the game?
The first time I went to Odsal the bull didn't show. I enjoyed my second and third visits though, so much that they asked me to come back every week. All I did was have a little dance with their cheerleaders. I think the girls prefer cats!

Q. Is there a downside to being Roary?
I get lonely. I travel to a lot of away games, even to France, but I don't see enough mascots here at the Vestacare Stadium.

Q. What do you do when it's not a match day?
I love going to Spindles in Oldham to see Mike and the gang there.
When I'm at home I tend to wash my hair a lot. It takes a long time to dry this fur, back combing is the answer, you ladies will understand.

A brilliant play-off series that ended in heartbreak with Super League the star prize

GEORGE COWBURN continues his series in which he looks at Oldham's contribution to big events in RL history

THE 2000-01 season was Mike Ford's second in charge at Oldham as player-coach and his last as a player.

He signed off in the Northern Ford Premiership Grand Final, a match which, had Oldham won, would have seen them promoted to Super League.

The NFP was Rugby League's second-tier competition behind Super League and midway through the season there was little sign of Oldham reaching the play-offs let alone the final.

A superb run of nine consecutive victories, including seven in 22 days, propelled Oldham into fourth place, level on points with third-placed Rochdale Hornets, a point behind second-placed Widnes but ten behind league winners Leigh.

For their preliminary semi-final Oldham would travel to Hilton Park to play Leigh in a game few gave them a chance of winning.

In a major surprise, however, Oldham became the first side to win at Leigh in 16 months by the narrowest margin,15-14, with local lad Keith Brennan's drop goal separating the two teams.

Two tries by John Hough (another Oldhamer) and Mark Sibson, plus three Pat Rich goals. made up the rest of the points.

The play-offs were recorded by Yorkshire TV for their programme 'Rugby League Raw' and when interviewed afterwards Ford reminded Oldham fans: "We have won nothing yet."

Such a great performance though was cause enough for Roughyeds supporters to celebrate.

That win set up a mouth-watering major semi-final at Spotland against our neighbours Rochdale Hornets with a place in the Grand Final at stake.

After 68 minutes few Oldham fans thought we would make the final.

We trailed 32-14 with 12 minutes left. In a last throw of the dice Ford returned to the field nursing a head knock from earlier in the the game.

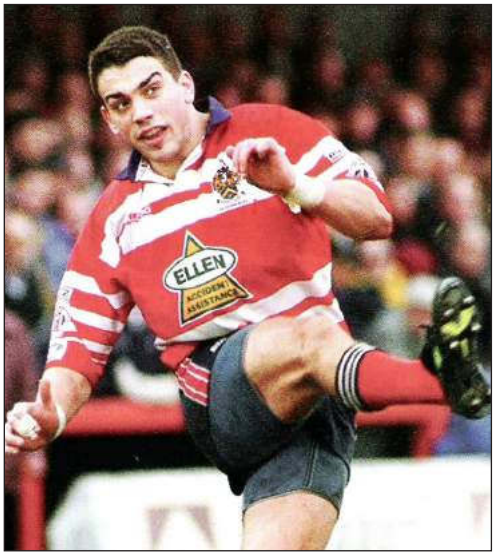
What followed was the most amazing passage of play seen in a long time from an Oldham team. We scored 25 unanswered points in a tidal wave of attacks that swept aside the Hornets defence.

Oldham scored five tries in total - two by Kiwi forward Brian Henare and one each by Keith Brennan, Leo Casey and Joe McNicholas.

Ford chipped in with an important drop goal late on but the real match winner was Pat Rich, whose goal-kicking was immaculate.

Nine goals from nine attempts - the last two from the touchline under great pressure - made the vital difference that sent Oldham into the Grand Final.

MIKE FORD



PAT RICH

All roads then led to Spotland as a crowd of 8,974 filled the ground to capacity on a sunny Saturday, July 28 for the Grand Final against a Widnes side captained by former Oldham favourite Martin Crompton.

Watched by a live TV audience, the game wasn't a classic - too many mistakes for that - but Widnes were deserved winners by 24-14 with a little too much know-how and experience from players such as Paul Atcheson, Jason Demetriou, Crompton, Richard Agar, Phil Cantillon and Tommy Hodgkinson.

The loss of skipper Leo Casey after 20 minutes didnt help and try decisions by the video referee went against Oldham as Widnes seemed to get the benefit of the doubt on two occasions.

The mammoth efforts of top tackler Phil Farrell, grafter Paul "Knocker" Norton and the Gibbons twins, Anthony and David, came to nought and the 151st and final try in Ford's career was of scant consolation.

Oldham scored first when Brennan took advantage of hesitation in the Widnes defence following a Dave Gibbons high kick and the last two tries came at the end --- for Ford off a Kevin Mannion pass and for Mannion himself after a Dave Gibbons break and link with Ford.

A seemingly nervous Rich (not the only one) could only manage one goal in contrast to his heroics in the semi- final.

WE have three milestone men this week, headed by club captain GARETH OWEN (above) who will reach 100 games for us against Whitehaven today.

He made his debut, on loan from Salford, in coach Scott Naylor's second year here, 2014, and later joined us as a contracted Oldham player, eventually to be honoured with the captaincy of his home-town club.

"I couldn't think of anything to make me prouder," he said.

His best seasons were in the Championship in 2016 and 2017, although injury restricted him in the latter to 18 appearances.

Milestone man No 2, PAUL CROOK, reached 2,000 career points in our win at Hemel where he kicked ten goals and scored two tries.

In his first season here, he has kicked 104 goals and scored four tries for 224 points.

DANNY LANGTREE, milestone man No 3, scored twice at Hemel to total 17 for the year --- the best by a second-row man in the 21-year history of the new club.

Five into three wont go, so play-off battle will be a thriller

WHATEVER criticism is levelled at the structuring of rugby league competitions, the fact remains that a strength of Betfred League 1 is that everybody plays everyone else home and away with a play-off at the end.

"It's a simple, basic model that the wider sporting public understands," says Newcastle Thunder official Mick Hogan.

With six games left to the end of the regular season it's shaping up into two well-defined battles.

There's the one between Bradford Bulls and York City Knights to finish top and go up automatically and another in which five clubs, including Oldham, will be involved in a bare-knuckle scrap for the remaining three play-off spots.

It could hardly be tighter. The five are separated by two points and four of them, Oldham, Doncaster, Hunslet and Whitehaven, are all on 26 points.

Workington are in pole position with 28 points, but Roughyeds have a for-and-against difference which is vastly superior to the rest and will be worth another league point if it comes down to points scored and conceded.

It's going to be a roller-coaster few weeks so make a note of when we're playing here at The Vestacare Stadium and please do your best to attend - and bring a friend -- because we can't stress too much that home support can be our 18th man.

After today we play Coventry Bears here on Sunday, September 2 and Bradford Bulls, the big one, on Sunday, September 16.

Of the five, only Oldham and Workington Town have still to play both Bradford and York, while Doncaster have already played them both, home and away.

The five will go into battle like this:

WORKINGTON TOWN (28 points): Home: Coventry Bears (today), York City Knights, London Skolars; Away: Bradford Bulls, Newcastle Thunder, Doncaster.

OLDHAM (26): Home: Whitehaven (today), Coventry Bears, Bradford Bulls; Away: Newcastle Thunder, York City Knights, London Skolars.

DONCASTER (26): Home: London Skolars (today), Newcastle Thunder, Workington Town; Away: Whitehaven, Keighley, North Wales Crusaders.

HUNSLET (26): Home: Hemel Stags (today), London Skolars, Newcastle Thunder; Away: York City Knights, Whitehaven, Coventry Bears.

WHITEHAVEN (26): Home: Doncaster, Hunslet, Coventry Bears; Away: Oldham (today), Hemel Stags, York City Knights.

Stay safe, fasten your safety belts for the ride !

Our Visitors
Whitehaven

Oldham host Whitehaven today for the first time since a thrilling do-or-die fixture on the penultimate weekend of the 2016 season.

The game, played at Bower Fold, was a relegation duel won 20-18 by Oldham. The result relegated the Cumbrians but ensured Oldham's Championship survival.

Scenes of joy and despair were displayed on the pitch and terraces as both sides and supporters reflected on the thrilling drama that had just unfolded.

Whitehaven almost bounced straight back into the Championship during the 2017 League 1 season. A play-off semi-final at The Recreation Ground against York saw the two sides locked at 20-20 after 80 minutes. Extra time couldn't produce a winner and it was left to a Ste Roper golden-point drop-goal in the 105th minute to set up a play-off final game with Barrow Raiders.

Whitehaven, featuring stand-off Paul Crook, were unable to reproduce their heroics at Craven Park a week later and despite a valiant effort, they went down 10-6 and were consigned to a second season in the third tier of the game.

Haven's 2018 season began with a round 1 fixture at home to Oldham. A new look Roughyeds side made the long trip north to face Carl Forster's 'Haven, a tough test for any side.

Oldham were able to win the game 14-0 and record a rare victory at the Recreation Ground.

A thumping 44-6 away defeat at Doncaster in their next game meant that Haven had to wait until the middle of March to record their first win of the season — against Hemel Stags. That victory spurred on Forster's side in their next game and they were able to record a 14-12 win against their old foe Workington Town.

April and May's fixtures brought four wins out of five for Haven with only a blip at home to North Wales Crusaders blotting the copybook. Most notable of all was a 26-18 win over high-flying York City Knights who have only been beaten by one other side this season: Bradford Bulls.

A tremendous effort. June saw a reversal of fortunes as losses came against Newcastle, Bradford and Hunslet whereas July saw a string of five consecutive victories. None of the games were more important than completing a double against Workington, this time winning 24-22.

Last time out Whitehaven visited the cauldron of Odsal Stadium where they faced a Bradford Bulls side eyeing an automatic promotion place at the top of the table. Bulls coach John Kear has challenged his players to win all their remaining games and they easily despatched the visitors 46-0.

Haven will want to return to winning ways today and keep up with the pack chasing those three play-off places. Oldham will want to keep their noses in front and record a double over the men from the Recreation Ground.

It should be a great game.
