Message from the President of the Supporters' Club

Dear Friends,

I would like to thank you all for the support you gave us last season, and hope you will continue to do so this following season. As most of you know, we have bought a new canteen on the Pavilion side, and we hope it will be ready for the first match. I wish our Ex-President, Mr. W. Hilton, the best of health, and hope to see him at Watersheddings this coming season. Why not join the Supporters' Club now and get your friends to join as well.

Yours sincerely,

T. GUEST,

President O.F.C.S.C.

Secretary's Message

Dear Members and Friends,

Once again we come to the beginning of a new season at Oldham.

We have a new Chairman of Oldham Football Club in Mr. K. Fisher and we in the Supporters' Club wish him well in his new duties.

The Supporters' Club have had a good trading season as a whole, while membership is down, the sale of refreshments on the ground are up, and we have sold quite a number of Oldham Football Club Ties, Button-hole Badges, Scarves and Blazer Badges. All these items in club colours can be obtained from me at the above address.

The new canteen which we had hoped would be in use last season is now almost ready for use. This so far has cost over £250, which has been paid for out of the season's work.

On behalf of the Supporters' Club I should like to take this opportunity of thanking all the many people who have helped in any way during the past season. I should also like to thank the many people who write for Year Books from other towns. I feel that I know some of you quite well as you ask for this book year after year.

This year we hope to sell more goods than ever, so why not ask to see one of our lines and show the Rugby League that Oldham is still a name to be feared, and that our opponents know that we are there by the badges and scarves that we wear.

Yours faithfully,

ALAN CRAIG,

Secretary O.F.C.S.C.

Message from the President of the Club

Hello Supporters,

It is with a great deal of pride that I write this foreword for your Year Book 1969.

I realise the challenge that is behind everyone interested in the fortunes of Oldham Football Club, Officials, Players, Staff, Members and Supporters' Club for next season. We must all put our differences behind us and work as one — The object, to get this club of ours back where it belongs, at the top of the honours lists in the Rugby League.

Enthusiasm is the greatest gift any team can possess, and I am sure that the present committee can ensure that the players will be fighting to play for Oldham in 69-70 season, and I can promise a closer co-operation between our two organisations. We shall rely on yourselves, the Pools organisation and all other efforts, plus careful planning, to ensure that we keep expenditure below Income.

We must start the season with a great deal of optimism. Man for man our team is as good as any in the league and once all their efforts are channelled to the same object they must start to play the football we know they are capable of, and win more matches than they lose. Next season is our greatest challenge, not only to our club but Rugby League in general. Far reaching decisions have to be made — Summer Rugby, Television, Saturday afternoon or evening matches — and our own committee being reduced to nine members.

I urge everyone to become a member next season and make sure that you all have a say and an interest in what could be our most exciting year.

Yours in Sport,

KEN FISHER.

REVIEW By ROGER HALSTEAD

(Oldham Evening Chronicle)

Possibly more than ever before, there is talk around the town about the possibilities of turning Oldham Football Club into a limited liability company. Of course, there is a terrific amount involved in any such move and if any subject called for reasoned thinking of all the circumstances, both for and against, this is it.

But I am convinced that the time is approaching when the possibilities must be delved into.

Never before have Rugby League clubs faced such a challenge against apathy and decreasing popularity as they do now.

The crippling thing, of course, is that because of the general decline in the game over the last decade, most clubs are having to meet that challenge at a time when they are at a low ebb, particularly financially.

At Oldham, a club which now has only around 700 or 800 members, there must be serious doubts about whether the club in its present form is able and ready to meet the fight.

Personally, I doubt it — and I don't mean to be critical of the men in charge at Watersheddings; more the antiquated system on which the club is constitutionally based.

These must be days of drive, vigour and enterprise if Rugby League — to say nothing of Oldham — is to survive.

At league level there are so many factors which cause consternation, that a club cannot afford to be anything but courageous and determined in its deliberations.

And I say the Oldham club is more likely to get that solid foundation as a limited company than it ever will as a members' club.

Members did a wise thing at the last annual meeting when they cut the committee in size from 12 to 9, to be operative from 1970.

I have argued for a long time that a 12-man committee is too unwieldy and too large to be an effective working body.

The reduction of three is a forward step and it will be interesting to see what effect the smaller committee has on the general running of the club.

The annual meeting was such a flop in many ways, however, that it hardly gave confidence for the future.

Perhaps the time has come at last for a really big constitutional change in the administration of professional Rugby League in the town.

At least, it's food for thought.
