F. HAMMOND,

(Forward).

FRED HAMMOND commenced his football career with a Junior Club in Elland and was eventually drafted into the Elland Team. It was whilst playing for Elland that he came under the notice of the Halifax Club, and he was secured and played his first match with Halifax v. Bramley on September 1st, 1900. He has been a regular member of the side ever since, with the exception of the season before last, when he was laid up with rheumatism, which prevented him playing in any of the matches. It is pleasing to note however that he has quite shaken off the effects of this complaint, and his play this season has been as good as ever it has been in the past.

Hammond is one of those quite hard-working forwards who does not get the credit for all he does. With his own comrades in the pack he is often spoken of as the best forward in Yorkshire, and those who work with him should be good judges of his merits. He is by no means a showy player, but a hard grafter in the scrum, a sound, without being a flashy man in the open. He can catch a ball as well as most backs, give and take a pass in the most approved fashion, whilst his tackling is irreproachable. With all these good points it is somewhat of a general surprise that he has never achieved the highest honours. He has never represented the County, although he has several times been reserve in County matches. His play is quite in accordance with the character of the man. Quiet, unassuming, honest to a degree he has the respect of all players and officials alike. Had he not been one of the retiring type of a footballer, he would probably have forced himself in for higher honours. If however his merits have been unobserved by the County authorities, the Halifax Club know and appreciate his worth, and his place in the team has never been challenged.

Hammond is just 28 years of age, stands 5ft. 10ins., and turns the scale at 13 stone 8 lbs.

Below we give his record with the Halifax Club.
