Notes

Attention this week is focussed on the serious financial situation of the Club. Details have appeared in the local press of various contributory factors that have led to the present position in which gate receipts are not sufficient to meet normal running costs, let alone build up a surplus with which to formulate new plans. And this in spite of cutting expenses to the bone. All avenues of additional income will be explored but by far the most effective way to restore the balance is for the public to give us much better support through the turnstiles—and our admission charges, be it noted, are amongst the lowest in the League. It may be argued that the crowd will not turn up unless they feel that they are getting value for money in the football they see. The truth is, of course, that they want a winning team. But if team building is a slow process when a club has the necessary resources, what chance of improvement is there when we are living a hand-to-mouth existence and faced with the prospect of having to sell players to keep going? The urgency of this problem has been emphasised this week by our decision to allow Ron Rowbottom to go to Oldham. The decision on whether he was to move or not was his alone, and although it cannot be denied that money was desperately needed, we would have been content had he decided to stay with Widnes. In other words, we can see no future in a policy of selling players, even when faced with a financial crisis, and it is in other measures we must find the answer to the problem. But there can only be one lasting solution, and that is for there to be a re-awakening of the interest which spurred the Club on in the past. Tolerance, goodwill and constructive criticism from the public for what it is, after all, an institution in the town, and if the truth were known, a body which is dear to the heart of many who now appear apathetic or uninterested.

As if to underline the possibilities, we came near to taking the points at Wigan last Saturday. We were defeated by what looked like a thrashing score, but the moral victory was ours. History repeated itself in the fact that we lost a player through injury at a vital stage in the game, as on the last occasion we played at Central Park in the Final of the Lancashire Cup. Certainly, comment after the game was far more complimentary for Widnes than for our hosts! Our lads proved in this game as in numerous others this season, that they have the spirit and the ability to upset any side, given the support which we think they deserve.

OUR VISITORS

When we played Oldham at Watersheddings we almost created the shock of the day by beating them. But after a very good first half we went under in the second to precision Oldham attacking which no side could have resisted. On that account we don't have to remind ourselves that they are a very capable side, and in today's game, provided the weather is favourable, we expect to see some grand rugby. An added tit-bit is the possibility of Ron Rowbottom, a grand servant of Widnes, turning out for his new Club. May we take this opportunity of wishing Ron a very happy career with Oldham.
