HITTING THE HEADLINES

Anyone who did not go to Swinton last week and only read the headlines on Sunday morning would have thought that Swinton were the unlucky team and the Saints team did not know where they were going.

As a matter of fact after five minutes the Saints had to play with eleven men against thirteen, as Dickinson and Moses were crippled within the first few minutes.

On Saturday our own spectators knew that the four key men—Moses, Karalius, Carlton and Murphy—were missing, but it was Warrington who got all the sympathy for their weakened pack.

Really the Warrington pack was the best part of the Warrington team and for a considerable spell in the first half they carried the battle to the Saints in admirable fashion. In the second half, too, they had their moments and several times looked like going through.

The atrocious conditions were responsible for a great many mistakes in handling by both sides, and many observers who had partisan feelings for neither side were of the opinion that the game was good to watch, that the effort displayed by both sides was worthy of the occasion, even though the finer points of an attacking game were somewhat lacking.

TO-DAY'S SEMI-FINAL

The semi-finals of the Lancashire Cup this year see the four leading Lancashire clubs in opposition, and the final at Swinton should attract another big attendance.

To-night we have another chance to measure our skill against that of Oldham. Last season in the final at Wigan, Oldham beat us by 10 points to 3, but the team think that they can reverse that decision to-day. However, that is as maybe.

Both sides have lost only one match this season so far. The Saints won at Oldham by 21 points to 7, and lost at Leeds by 23 points to 5.

Oldham's most serious handicap this season has been the absence of Alan Davies, who was badly injured on the world tour. However, they must be feeling much more confident, after Saturday's game when Alan made his first appearance of the season in the game at Workington, which Oldham won by 24 points to 13.

Both sides are sure to have out their best available men, and we are all looking forward to the contest which will take us not to Wembley, but the next best thing—to Swinton.

THE FUTURE

This month will see Whitehaven and Leeds at Knowsley Road. These are two of the teams who beat the Saints on their own grounds last season, and as Leeds have inflicted on the Saints their only defeat this season, there will be a keen desire to prevent them scoring a double.

The "A" team are in the process of establishing themselves again. It is no use going year after year with the same players in the "A" team. The players themselves get tired of it and the "A" team begins to lose its first quality, that of being a training ground for young players who will ultimately reach first team standard.

Of course there have been many experienced players who have given really good service in training the younger players by their advice and example and this side of the game must never be lost sight of.

We will always be glad to hear when our players do well with other teams as Jack Grundy and Joe Ball have done at Barrow. At Rochdale George Parsons has found a good place, and McIntyre at Barrow, Billy Adams and Houghton at Liverpool are bound to earn good reports.

In their absence new players have to make their way. On Saturday Oldham "A" are here and we will have an opportunity to see how they are progressing. If young Large is recovered from his bout of influenza there should be something to report.

SUPPORTERS' CLUB NOTES

You will have learned from the press that the Supporters' Club have again handed over to the parent club a cheque for £500-0-0d. This money being the sum promised to the Club for the building of the new ramp at the rear of the Edington Stand.

Coach tickets for the away match with Huddersfield next Saturday can be obtained from the Supporters' Club Canteen before or after to-day's game.

Refreshments are now on sale in the Canteen and the Kiosks.
