SAINTS SLIPPING

Since Swinton gave the Saints two beatings in three days the Saints have not been able to recover the brilliant form which culminated in the Good Friday victory at Wigan. It was a good win over Featherstone but their defence these days is not what we expect from the Rovers.

Last week the Saints went to Hull without Vollenhoven and lost Killeen after a quarter of an hour. Northey with a damaged foot had to have "pain" injections before the game. So the Saints were under the weather from the start. One try by Alec Murphy was all that we could show for a valiant effort by the forwards who nevertheless were beaten for possession.

On Monday, Wakefield came to Knowsley Road and went away with the points. The Saints were on top in the first half and played with skill but had not the speed to make use of their opportunities. It was only Coslett's six great goals and the try which he made for McGinn which kept the Saints in the game, but unfortunately he spoiled his brilliant work by another unnecessary obstruction. On Saturday the Saints confounded the critics by doing even better at Widnes than they did at Wigan. It was the best pack of forwards that the Saints have ever turned out.

PETER FEARIS KICKS A GOAL

A few days ago I met Peter Fearis at his country pub in Essex. He recalled happy memories of both the Saints and Oldham and in between expressed his pleasure that the Saints had got such a good goal-kicker in Kel Coslett. Strangely enough the game that stood out in his memory was a cup-tie between Saints and Oldham at Oldham. From my memory too, I should imagine that it was one of Peter's best games but the highlight was the goal that gave the Saints the victory. A free kick from over halfway and Captain Greenall handed the ball to Fearis who proceeded to set it up. Karalius chipped in with "No, kick for touch," but Doug characteristically replied "Oh well, he has got it placed. Let him go." And when the ball sailed over the bar the Saints were winners by one point in a game in which every Saint did his very best.

NEW BACKS

The Saints are looking everywhere for good backs, though, of course, they would sooner see their own players doing well enough to fill the gaps.

Jim Fairclough, a West Park player, who earlier in the season scored 10 tries for Wigan in 10 games, was listed at £500 and was taken on trial by Widnes for a month. His month is up on the 11th and it has been agreed that he then becomes a Saints player.

David Ledger and Briers, both Blackbrook threequarters, have agreed to play trials for the Saints. David, a fast winger, is a younger brother of Eric, who came into the Saints first team along with Frank Carlton. If David does better than his brother he will be good enough.

NOT THE OLDHAM OF OLD

That Oldham should be joined with Bramley with the threat of second division football next season is something we all regret. It comes as a big shock but Oldham were slipping somewhat even while Bernard Ganley was still kicking goals for them. When Pitchford and Alan Davies went over to Wigan, Oldham were left with a major team-building job on their hands. With a tradition like Oldham's we have no doubt that they will complete the job speedily and we wish them success.
