HUNSLET v. OLDHAM

A Happy and Prosperous New Year

TO-DAY'S GAME.—For our opening game in 1966 we give a hearty welcome from Parkside to the Officials, Players and Supporters of the Oldham Football Club. We hope that to-day's game will, in its standard of play, set a pattern which will augur well for the future of our game, which, if played in the right spirit and in accordance with the existing rules, is a fine and attractive game. It is our opinion that there is little wrong with the rules of the game as they are, but players do not play to the rules nor are they penalised for not doing so. This is not just a matter for referees but for Club Officials, who must ensure full support at the highest level for referees who do the job for which they are appointed: that is, to implement the Laws of the Game. These should not be sacrificed on the altar of the god of "Keeping the Game moving at all costs." The Law says that the forwards in a scrum "shall create a clear tunnel at right angles to the touch-line." When did that last happen? The Law says that after a tackle "the players opposing the side of the tackled player shall relinquish their hold on him and refrain from touching him until the ball is in play." How rarely does this happen in a game! One of the weaknesses of our game, from the spectators' point of view, is the readiness to change rules to try to remedy weaknesses which, in fact, stem from non-compliance with existing rules. We feel that, however estimable a proposed rule-change appears to be, there is little point in making it when existing rules are rarely implemented or consistently disregarded without penalty. The time is ripe for a "Combined Operation" from Players, Referees and Touch Judges, Club Officials and the Council of the Rugby League to ensure that the game is played in accordance with the existing Laws of the Game in every particular. This will, of course, initially demand patience, particularly from the spectators because we have allowed the game to deviate so far from the Laws. It is not too big a task — indeed, it must not be!

We have not yet met the men from Watersheddings this season, as our fixture due to be played at Oldham on October 23rd last was postponed because of Test Match calls on our players on that date. We have, however, vivid memories of their visits to Parkside in the past two seasons in the Rugby League Challenge Cup Competition. Our visitors are in the process of finding a settled combination and have hit the winning trail again after a six-match losing spell in November and early December, which they ended with a victory at Headingley three weeks ago. Coached by Frank Dyson, they will demand a top-class performance from our players if we are to gain two points to-day.

Prominent among their young players are two Yorkshire forwards — front-row man Charlie Bott, who was signed from South Yorkshire Rugby Union Club, Old Thornensians, and teen-ager Irving, signed a
