SEMI-FINALS

FINAL

COMPETITION RULES

Each side consists of seven players, the usual formation being three forwards and four backs. Selection may be made from eight players, and substitutes allowed at any time in any game.

Each game is played seven minutes each way (except the final which is played 10 minutes each way). If at the end of the usual period the tie is drawn, ends are changed every seven (or 10) minutes, the first side to score being the winners.

Cossack VODKA

'The above Trophy will be presented to the Captain of the winning side on the field by the Managing Director of Cossack Vodka, Mr. Derek Hayman, immediately after the final. It is the first year that this magnificent silver trophy has been competed for. In addition, each member of the winning side will receive an engraved silver pencil. There will also be an award of a silver cigarette box to the 'Man of the Day'. He will be elected by a panel of local and national journalists, and will not necessarily have played in the winning team or even in the final. The major part of the financial contribution made by Cossack Vodka towards sponsorship of this tournament will go towards the development of Junior rugby league sides in the participating towns'.
