CAPTAINS' DAY

RETURN to winning ways for Salford on Sunday was made by three captains in the team, who scored all the points.

Wales and former club skipper David Watkins started the revival when he romped over for the first try and followed up with three conversions and a penalty.

Next on the scoresheet came Great Britain and Salford leader Chris Hesketh with a set-piece effort from a scrum which has been employed successfully on several occasions during the season and this time helped earn Chris the player of the match award of a set of tyres from the match sponsors, National Tyre Service.

Finally, Lancashire skipper and club vice-captain Kenny Gill notched a brace of touchdowns to complete the League double over Bradford Northern—our first double of the season.

CARRY ON DEAN

Terms were agreed at the weekend with Keighley for the transfer of hooker Dean Raistrick to Salford, shortly before his trial period of one month was due to end.

Dean, who has won more than his share of possession from the scrum during this time, was signed for a fee of £5,000—£2,000 below Keighley's asking price—and is sure to make a valuable contribution to the side for quite some time.

HOLD ON COLIN

Colin Dixon's groin injury is proving more troublesome than was expected and it could be another two or three weeks before the big Welshman is match fit again.

Better news, though, of colleague Bill Sheffield who could put in an appearance this evening, depending on how he came out of a tough training stint on Tuesday.

NATIONAL TYRE SPONSORSHIP

LAST Sunday's game with Bradford Northern brought success not only to Salford but also to the match sponsors—National Tyre Service.

They used their annual day out at the Willows to entertain 300 of their customers and to promote sales of their tyres, batteries and RoSafe Safety Wheel System.

The company's Director and General Manager, Brian Brown, who was introduced to both teams before the kick-off, said after the match: "It has been an excellent day all round. The facilities at the Willows are ideal for our requirements and we will certainly be back again next year."

That will be the third season in which National Tyre Service have associated themselves with the club and, naturally, we welcome their financial backing.

Sponsorship has become an invaluable asset for every sport and we can feel well pleased that we are able to provide the service and facilities to tempt a company of the standing of National Tyre Service to allocate us a portion of their advertising budget.

There is still an opportunity for you to win a set of five Dunlop Worldbeater tyres, fitted free, plus a RoSafe System.

The free-to-enter competition involves matching up six current Salford players with six photographs of them as boys and writing a National Tyre Service slogan.

Entry forms and collection boxes are around the ground and in the Variety Centre and the closing date for entries is January 12th.

OLDHAM SCENE

By DON YATES

OLDHAM, who provide tonight's opposition, have recently run into a spell of good form and they visit the Willows hoping to pull off their third successive victory with an enthusiastic and skilful team.

Full-back Martin Murphy represented Lancashire at under-17 level before joining Oldham in April 1967 from Astley and Tyldesley Colliery. He is a fine attacking player who has played twice for Lancashire and once for England.

Leading try scorer is winger Mike Elliott, 30, with 11 tries. This former Cwmcllyn RUFC player, who turned professional with Oldham in August 1962, was also the club's leading try scorer last season, when he crossed for 22 tries.

Top points scorer during the past four seasons has been Phil Larder, a fast and skilful centre who joined Oldham from Sale RUFC in August 1968.

Last season he totalled 184 but seems likely to top that score this season for he has already totted up 120 points.

Centre Stuart Bottom is a product of the club's junior nursery having been signed from Oldham "B" in May 1971. He is only 23 and is a fine prospect for the future.

Scrum-half Mick McCone, 30, is a product of Wakefield junior football who joined Doncaster in 1966 after representing Yorkshire under-19. He moved to Oldham in January 1972 for £1,000.

Due to the injury received by David Treasure at Bradford, the Oldham stand-off this evening is likely to be Tony Wainwright, a former Leeds Intermediate who joined Oldham from Leeds for £3,000 in September 1972 and who is a fine utility back.

Both prop forwards in the Oldham team, Barry Kear and Terry Ramshaw, are former Salford players.

Kear, who has made one appearance for Yorkshire, joined the Reds from Featherstone for £3,500 in January 1973 but moved on to Hull 12 months later.

It was last October that he moved to Oldham at the same time that Terry Ramshaw arrived at Watersheddings.

Ramshaw, like Kear, began his career at Featherstone but since then he has served Halifax, Bradford Northern, Wakefield Trinity, Salford and Hull Kingston Rovers.

His spell at the Willows was from October 1971 to December 1973 whilst his representative career covers games for both Yorkshire and England under-24.

In Kevin Taylor, Oldham have one of the best hookers in the game. He has been at Watersheddings since October 1962 when he was signed from Werneth after representing Lancashire at both schoolboy and Under-17 level.

This most loyal servant to Oldham has also played for Lancashire, England under-24 and the full England team.

Former Waterhead junior Fred Hall is a consistent and hard working second rower who, although he played as a junior in Oldham, joined Blackpool Borough before being transferred to Oldham for £700 in January 1973.

Alongside Hall could be Steve Herbert, 19, an outstanding prospect who joined Oldham last February from Leigh Colts. He scored two tries on his debut last April when Oldham beat Barrow 21-19.

Tony Peters, 24, is enjoying a spell of good form in which he is proving to be Oldham's best forward.

He is a former Leigh junior who joined Leigh in June 1971 and moved to Oldham on a free transfer in August 1973.

This Oldham squad have twice fallen to heavy defeats at the hands of Salford but they are sure to have learned from those previous encounters and will give the Reds a far more difficult game this evening, and one which should provide ample entertainment for New Year patrons to the Willows.

Answers

OUCH! Kenny Gill takes the considerable weight of former teammate and Oldham forward Barry Kear in a recent encounter.

Changing image at Clarence Street

by ROBERT MILLS, Yorkshire Evening Press, York

RUGBY LEAGUE'S image is changing rapidly, growing away from the cloth-cap-and-clogs era and into a more professional, streamlined game.

And, as the overall picture of the 13-a-side code gets more stylish, many of the clubs are developing into Seventies-style enterprises.

Such is the story at York, a club which has over the years won a reputation as one of the "also-rans" and "make-do" outfits, but is now poised to join the elite.

Since secretary David Bradley arrived at Clarence Street from Wigan last January he and the board of directors have set about the task of shaking off the cloth cap that was York's only head gear in the sixties.

ACTIVITY

Their efforts have been comprehensive, and have included a trip to Coventry City in the First Division of the Football League to study the sort of promotional activity which boosted their reputation and took them out of the doldrums.

The plush new sports and social complex, costing over £100,000, stands as concrete testimony to York's initial success and to the club's off-the-field ambitions.

York may still be struggling for credibility on the park, but the signs are that the three squash courts and social club mean the start of a new era for the club as a whole.

League officials have already said that they see Clarence Street as an international venue in the near future.

And why not?—if you are going to get a crowd of 5,900 for an England-New Zealand match, it might as well be at Clarence Street as at Odsal Stadium.

CLAIMS

The first breakthrough will almost certainly be the staging of a Yorkshire county match next season.

York came a close second to Dewsbury in this year's voting, but their claims will be much harder to resist next time.

And the new York should soon establish itself as the social centre for Rugby League in Yorkshire—a good move for the game as a whole, since the city has been regarded as one of the game's outposts, lacking any real League tradition.

The League put their money where their mouth is with a maximum £20,000 loan for the project. The vast proportion of the remaining £80,000 has been "created" by chairman Robert B. Massey.

Meanwhile, York's Development Fund, formed nearly 18 months ago, continues to thrive.

It raised well over £20,000 in its first year—a figure which staggered all but a few of its most ardent fans—and all the money has been pumped into the running of York Rugby League Football Club... a real going concern.

Dutton first to 100 goals

DESPITE his team's defeat at the hands of Featherstone last Sunday, Widnes full-back Ray Dutton scored a personal triumph when, with his last goal of the match, he became the first player to reach the 100 goals mark this season.

Dutton's tally is made up of 83 place goals and four drop goals for the Chemics plus 13 in the three County Championship games he played for Lancashire.

A try against Salford and two at Keighley brings David Smith, Wakefield Trinity winger, to within two of reaching Salford's Keith Fielding and Maurice Richards at the top of the try scoring table, while Dave Barends (York) comes into the reckoning to the exclusion of Johnny Butler from the top half-dozen.

David Watkins, helped by tries against Trinity and Bradford Northern, has increased his lead in the points list to 21, and Castleford's Sammy Lloyd has moved from seventh to fifth place, ousting Nigel Stephenson (Dewsbury) from the top six.

Leaders up to and including last Sunday's matches were:—

Player's Trophy must stay

By BRIAN BATTY (Daily Mail).

RECENT suggestions by such fashionable clubs as Leeds and St. Helens that the Player's sponsorship should be diverted to different competitions has sent the eyebrows soaring within Rugby League.

The proposals have come at a time when cash within the code has never been shorter and many clubs are on a starvation diet financially.

They have also come when Player's have agreed on a three-year contract, raising their prize money by more than 40 per cent.

I know that a lot of officials in League have been disturbed by the decision of Player's to sponsor a knock-out competition in Rugby Union.

It has perhaps led to a little confusion in some areas of the media but nothing that both codes cannot live with over the next three years.

I feel it would be a grave mistake to change the present Challenge Cup competition for it has an identity all of its own.

There is automatic interest and support for the game's most attractive competition with perhaps the semi-finals suffering because they must be played on Saturdays for the sake of television.

But the earlier rounds, mainly staged on a Sunday, attract decent crowds and it will be a sad day when fans turn their back on the Cup.

There seems even less merit in suggesting that Player's switch their sponsorship to the League competition for this would bring absolutely no response from the fans.

Surely, as the sponsors, Player's are entitled to arrange their own competition with the co-operation of League officials.

They cannot feel very happy with these proposals and the danger is that one day they may feel influenced to withdraw their sponsorship.

I hope we never reach such a point for I can happily state that the Player's No. 6 Trophy and the Challenge Cup have become the two competitions I enjoy most in a season.
