OUR VISITORS

For this evening's game we welcome to Wheldon Road the Officials, Players and Supporters of Oldham. At the present time their team is placed sixth from the bottom in the First Division, but have quite a few matches in hand of other clubs concerned in the relegation struggle, and they should certainly steer clear of this problem.

Oldham, promoted to the 1st Division this season, have now built up a useful side, making some canny buys to strengthen their playing personnel. Now coached by Jim Challiner, former Great Britain and St. Helens coach, the team consists of quite a few players from our own area. These include props Terry Ramshaw, now skipper of the side, and Barry Kear, who was bought from Hull this season for £2,000, a fee voluntarily donated by their supporters. Another local in the pack who has played for most of the season is Dickie Brown, recently placed on the transfer list. At half-back two players who live at Pontefract, David Treasure, formerly with Bradford N., and Mick McCone who was bought from Doncaster. Two seasons ago they signed winger Stephen Lunn, who played with our "Under 17" team, but he does not yet appear to have consolidated a first team spot.

Other notable players in the team from Watersheddings include international full back Martin Murphy, goal-kicking centre Phil Larder, hooker Kevin Taylor and one of the bargain buys of the season in second row forward Keith Flanagan. Out of the side through a serious injury is Tony Wainwright, former Leeds centre.

When we played at Oldham in January in snowy conditions we came away victors by 8 pts—6, a pointer that this evening's game could well be a hard fought affair.

CLUB NOTES

Team Performance

Since the best-to-be forgotten cup tie against Salford, the 1st Team, as if to prove their performance was completely out of character, have gone from strength to strength and have won all six matches played and scored 168 pts to 37 against in the process. This has been done by good, clean, attractive rugby played in the best tradition and it is worthwhile mentioning at this stage that no 1st Team player has been sent off this season, a record for which all concerned can be justly proud.

In that fine win over Wigan last week, two performances stand out for special mention—the breaking of the club's and his own personal record of 121 goals in a season by Sammy Lloyd, and secondly the impact made by Clive Pickerill in only his second full 1st team appearance. His play was a revelation but not surprising to those supporters who have watched the 'A' Team this season. Well done, Clive, due reward for the dedication and application you have given this season, and an example for other young players to follow.

Another player worthy of mention for his standard of improvement this season is prop Alan Bence, now surely one of the best number 8's in the game.

Injured List

Our playing strength has been severely hit recently by injury and illness and for the last two weeks we have been unable to field an 'A' Team.

This formidable list includes players who are out of action for the rest of the season—Keith Worsley, Alan Lowndes, Steve Norton, Derek Woodall and Roy Hepton, who have suffered breaks or need surgical treatment; Steve Fenton has a knee injury, Gary Stephens—hand trouble, Ray Newton—bronchitis, Malcolm Reilly—knee trouble and so on.

By Roger Halstead of the Oldham Evening Chronicle

RUGBY LEAGUE coverage in the national press is very much on the decline.

It is perhaps unfair to generalise because some papers do allocate more space to League than others. But it doesn't need a close scrutiny of the nationals to conclude with a reasonable degree of accuracy that our game is losing column inches—and losing them fast.

You cannot put a pint into a gill glass, and vast changes in our social climate over the last decade or so have led to the growth in popularity of such participation sports as fishing, bowls, squash and numerous other hobbies and pastimes that are now overtaking Rugby League in the national paper sports editors' list of priorities.

As League has waned—certainly in terms of gate figures—there has been a boom in other sports, Union included, and this is not unnaturally reflected in our sports pages.

While sitting at home the other day I glanced, at random, at three popular morning papers.

One carried 15 paragraphs of Rugby League, a 12-paragraph bowls column, and no fewer than 38 paragraphs of Rugby Union, split into five different stories by named writers.

Another carried ONE filler par on League but a huge spread on bowls, including a picture.

Another managed 10 paragraphs on League in its total of six tabloid pages of sport.

I am well aware that I am leaving myself wide open to accusations that you cannot gauge the quantity of publicity given to any one sport by merely taking one day's editions.

It could, I agree, have been a quiet day on the League front—but with papers regularly carrying news and features these days on squash, bowls and fishing it must naturally follow that League coverage diminishes.

Sadly, this is only the start of it. With the advance of technology in the printing and allied industries vast changes in national newspaper production are envisaged in the next year or two.

Manchester, in the next few years, will lose its "pull" as the biggest national newspaper centre outside Fleet Street. One can expect a much heavier concentration of production from London.

There is a very real threat of the League area—Yorkshire, Lancashire and Cumbria—becoming little more than a grey area on the national papers' map of campaign, if not exactly a mere dot.

Alive to the problems, the R.L. Council appointed, a little more than 18 months ago, its own P.R.O. in the shape of the energetic and hard-working David Howes.

As a full-time journalist himself David knows as well as I, or any other newspaperman working in Rugby League, just how hard life can be in the battle for space—possibly more so than many, including myself, working in newspapers covering a limited area.

He is doing a good job in the face of the most tremendous odds, but he needs the support and backing of all R.L. men—and particularly the help of YOU, the fans on the terraces—if the fight is to be won.

In the ultimate analysis it is the views and opinions of you people, the readers of Rugby League, that are going to count most.

YOU are the sports editors' market. YOU are the people who may very well choose which paper you buy on the strength, or weakness, of the game's coverage in that paper. YOU are the men, and women, who need to shout from the grandstands and terraces of our grounds that you want to see more space given to our game.

For 6½p postage—a letter to the sports editor of the paper you take—you can do Rugby League a big service.
