OLDHAM OUTLOOK

A HOME TIE against Batley in the first round of the Player's No. 6 Trophy, made at Salford on Tuesday, is indeed a change of luck after our experiences in the other knock-out draws so far this season.

The first round Lancashire Forshaw's Cup defeat at Blackpool was a disaster in more ways than one, for the cash we received from our share of the takings did not even meet the wage bill for losing!

In the Floodlit Trophy we were hoping that Barrow might beat Whitehaven. Frank Foster's newly-promoted Craven Park boys are pulling in much-improved crowds and we could at least have looked forward to a decent share of the gate.

But our luck was out again. Whitehaven won — and we now face the daunting task of a Tuesday night trip to the Recreation Ground on 5th October. For the benefit of those Oldham fans who might be tempted to go, the match will start at 7 p.m.

It is a match we must win in the hope that we get a more attractive home tie in round two of the televised tournament, for one cannot envisage much of a crowd under the Recreation Ground floodlights and, of course, there is a lot of expense involved in taking a side up to west Cumbria.

It was against this back-cloth of ill luck in this year's cup tournaments that we waited for Tuesday's Player's draw with baited breath.

But we didn't have to wait long. We were first out of the hat and paired with Batley — our first home tie in the No. 6 for two years.

A year ago, you will remember, we played Huyton at Alt Park in the first round and then lost at Salford in round two.

At the time of writing, the exact date for the Batley tie had not been fixed but it is almost certain to be Sunday, 24th October, with a 3-30 kick-off.

By now you may even have had confirmation of that in the local press.

The Player's No. 6 Trophy this year carries more prize money than ever before. There is to be a further 13 per cent increase in prize money, which brings the total up from £22,500 to a record £25,600.

To change the subject, may we now draw your attention to the forthcoming publication of the Centenary brochure. It will be on sale shortly — indeed, it is hoped to have it from the printers in time to have it on sale today — and is very good value for money at 50p for 52 pages.

It covers the whole 100 years of the club's history and there are contributions by Roger Halstead of the 'Oldham Evening Chronicle', Jack McNamara of the 'Manchester Evening News', Don Yates and Tom Webb in addition to many pictures and records of the past.

One of the highlights, in a special section on the Fabulous Fifties, is an article in which Derek Turner recalls that era in an interview with Roger Halstead.

We believe the brochure, in which 'Oldham Chronicle' chief photographer Edward Woolley has submitted many pictures from his personal collection down the years, is a must for all Oldham RL fans, both past and present.

It will recall for you some of the most exciting moments in the club's history. Please take a copy and mention it to other RL fans, both present and past, who may not be here today.

Finally, we wish Warren Ryans, our young second-row forward, all good wishes for a speedy return to full health after his terrible accident in the 'A' team last Saturday.

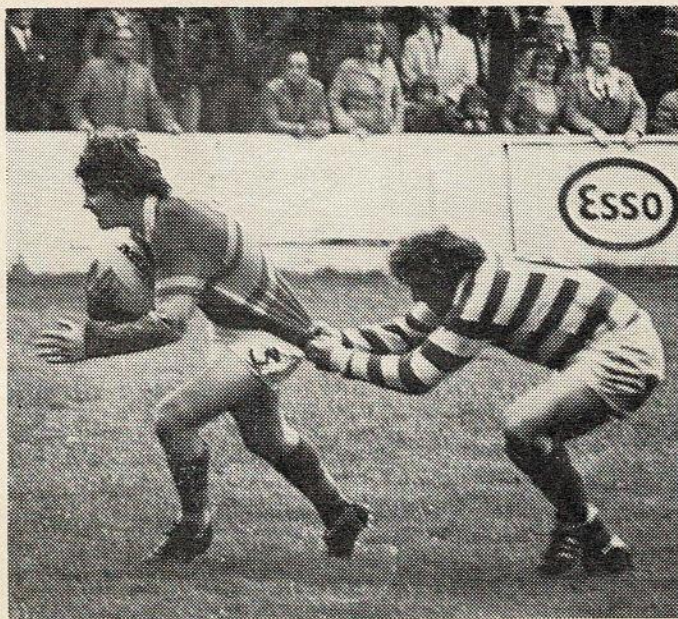

A dislocated hip is a serious injury and Warren is likely to be out of action for the rest of the season.

Oldham FC Down the Years

No. 2 — by TOM WEBB

AFTER Oldham FC's remarkable run in the second half of the previous season, when they won seven out of eight games (the last five being consecutive wins), their programme for their second season, 1877/78, was greatly improved and they were opposed by three Yorkshire teams.

Dewsbury believe that their game with Oldham was the first to be played by a Lancashire club in Yorkshire but, in fact, Oldham's first appearance in the county of the broad acres was at Wakefield against the Trinity.

The first game of the season was between the 1st XV and the Next XV. Such clashes were normal in those days and as if to justify their selection the 1st XV won by three goals, five tries, one touchdown, one touch-in-goal and three dead balls to one touchdown, one dead ball, and one touch-in-goal. The proceeds of the game — £22 — were handed to the Madras Famine Relief Fund.

The season officially opened on 6th October, 1877, and on that day Oldham played Wakefield Trinity away while the 2nd XV played the Rest, who numbered 24. Thus we have over 50 names to hand of the people who comprised the playing membership of the club in its second year.

In the first team were T. Seville and J. K. Holroyd, backs; W. G. Lloyd and J. Schofield, three quarters; C. Doody and W. Chadwick, half-backs; A. M. Fletcher (capt.), J. H. Mellor, J. H. Mallalieu, G. Travis, H. Fletcher, J. B. Cook, J. B. Rye, P. S. Scott and J. Fletcher, forwards.

Many years were to elapse before the introduction of the four three-quarter system.

The second fifteen was represented by T. Taylor and J. R. Stott, backs; E. Kempsey and J. Saville, three-quarters; F. Wild and G. Mellor, halves; J. Y. Shaw, A. Hirst, J. Ogden, H. Sykes, J. C. Beard, A. Matthews, D. Jones, C. Barlow and W. Moore, forwards.

The second team beat the Rest by two goals and seven tries to one try so that, in spite of their being almost 40 players on the field at once it was still possible to penetrate defences.

During the season A. M. Fletcher was selected for the Improbables against the Probables in a Lancashire county trial.

Football was developing in the town and the club played Twenty of the District, whose players were drawn from Royton, Oldham Rangers, Oldham Hornets, Glodwick and the 31st Local Rifle Volunteers, who each provided four players.

J. H. Mallalieu came to Oldham from the Broughton Wasps, a team which later amalgamated with Wellington to become the Broughton club (not the Rangers). The Wasps, and later Broughton, were famed for their open play and on many occasions they brought as many as six Lancashire county players for their clashes with Oldham.

According to the annual report Oldham played 23 games of which 12 were won, six lost and five drawn. Oldham scored 16 goals, 44 tries and 83 minors, and conceded 4 goals, 7 tries and 42 minors.

OUR VISITORS BY DON YATES

OLDHAM hope to brighten up their season this afternoon with a victory over fellow First Division strugglers Wigan who, like Oldham, have not made the best start to their League programme. At present they lie in third from bottom spot with only one victory from their three opening League matches. That victory was an encouraging one against the talented Widnes outfit but the other two matches resulted in defeat away to Hull Kingston Rovers and at home to First Division pacemakers Castleford. That defeat against Castleford was the first match under the guidance of new coach Vince Karalius whose tremendous reputation will be tested to the full in rebuilding this Wigan combination.

They come to Watersheddings seeking their fourth successive victory over an Oldham side who they beat by 24-10 here last season as well as by 16-7 at Central Park in matches which were, as usual, full of good, open football.

One match between these two sides which contained a high proportion of excellent, open football was the League clash at Central Park in October 1971. Oldham had made a rather poor start to the season with only two victories in their opening nine League matches and exactly a month previously Wigan had won by 23-7 at Watersheddings so Wigan could be forgiven for feeling confident. However, they were without international forwards Eddie Cunningham and Colin Clarke who were both under suspension so their team lined up as follows: Colin Tyrer; Stuart Wright, Bill Francis, Dave Hill, Chris Fuller; Steve Burke, Warren Ayres; Brian Hogan, Terry Hollingsworth, Geoff Fletcher, Bill Ashurst, Denis Ashcroft and Kevin O'Loughlin. Substitutes: Dave Gandy and Jim Molyneux.

Oldham were at full strength and fielded: Martin Murphy; Mike Elliott, Phil Larder, Trevor Buckley, Norman Hodgkinson; Cliff Hill, Tommy Davies; Ken Wilson, Kevin Taylor, Dick Bonsor, Bob Irving, Arthur Daley and Ray Clark. Substitutes: Tony Scahill (for Buckley) and Jim Reynolds (for Taylor).

Wigan stand-off Steve Burke was making his rugby league debut as 'A. N. Other' and received a tremendous amount of publicity which, no doubt, helped to swell the gate to 6,455 on a cold, damp evening. The spectators who did attend enjoyed a fine, open game in which debutant Burke was able to cross for a try and so impress the crowd. Wigan, who led 12-5 at half-time, went on to record a 28-13 victory with full-back Colin Tyrer leading the assault with a try and five goals. Other Wigan try scorers were Stuart Wright, Bill Francis, Chris Fuller, Steve Burke and Bill Ashurst. Oldham's spirited reply came from Phil Larder (try and two goals), Mike Elliott and Cliff Hill who each scored a try. Although no one can be wholly satisfied with a display that ends in defeat, the Oldham performance that evening was very encouraging and Mike Elliott's try was the best of the match.

One would hope that this match is just as entertaining, especially as both sides are desperate for League points in the scramble for higher League placings. Although there is a long way to go before the relegation issues are imminent, both clubs cannot be too pleased with the season so far and this afternoon's winners will be hoping that success could spark off a climb up the table away from the relegation zone.

RUGBY LEAGUE is celebrating the comeback of one of its greatest characters in company with soccer who recently laid out the red carpet for the return of George Best.

Rugby has missed Vince Karalius just as much as soccer has mourned the absence of Best even though both men could hardly be more opposite in their sporting outlook.

Best grew up in an atmosphere of soccer hysteria, pampered by Manchester United and worshipped by as many birds as blokes.

He finally betrayed his vast soccer skills by quitting the game in a sordid blaze of publicity after a series of affairs with beauty queens had bored the pants off most true sports fans.

But at 30 he has proved he still has plenty to offer in skills and style even if it is costing Fulham a minimum of £500 a match.

The last thing that would have motivated Karalius on his return to rugby as Wigan's coach is money for he is now reported to be comfortably placed.

If there was one thing Vince preached in his days as a player and has maintained as a coach it is the very quality Best has lacked — dedication and discipline.

Many was the time in fact when Best was involved in yet another controversy that I felt it would have done him good to have been pitched into a game of rugby under the guidance of a man of the Karalius mould.

Karalius collected only modest pickings from rugby league. His greatest rewards were winning a trip to Australia and trampling his Test rivals as far into the turf as was humanly possible.

But he never wasted a cent and it seemed fitting that if he had to start up in business it should lead him into the demolition aspect for he has brought down plenty of objects in his time.

Karalius will place a heavy emphasis on fitness — he believes the majority of clubs do not provide elaborate enough equipment — as he attempts to rebuild Wigan.

"It seems strange moving in to Central Park", he says. "When I was at St. Helens the greatest thing was to go to Wigan and win.

"It was like a Wembley of its own when we clashed. They are a club with a great tradition and I just hope I can put them back where they belong."

Dear Sir,

I must write and congratulate everybody involved with the 'new' style match programme. For me, it is well worth 10p, especially the very interesting article about Oldham down the years.

As an avid programme collector it was certainly a belting cover, in our colours, and with a very neat glossy finish. Carry on producing this programme, I will certainly buy one as I have always done.

Wish all the lads good luck this season, and tell them not to be despondent about early results, remember things always get worse before they get better, so cheer up you guys, and up the 'Roughyeds'.

All the best,

Yours faithfully,

COLIN WICKHAM (aged 18½)
