CLUB NOTES

THE KIWIS

The second test at Odsal again demonstrated what is lacking in our game. The Kiwi forwards ran for each other and supported the man with the ball. On defence they all were prepared to tackle and cover any mistake made by a colleague. This aspect has been sadly lacking in the Rovers pack; individually they have performed well, but a collective approach is essential if a high league position is to be maintained.

PLAYERS

Mick Gibbins is back in training and is now looking for match fitness in the 'A' team. Neil Clawson expects to be playing in two weeks' time. Gary Siddall hopes to be playing before Christmas. Congratulations to Steve Quinn on becoming the Daily Express/Hepworths Player of the Month for October. Steve Evans captained the Gt. Britain Under-24's at Fulham on Wednesday. Rovers strengthened their coaching staff by taking on former coach Keith Cotton. Keith will run the 'A' team, while Peter Bell takes over the Under 17's. Dave Weavill, the Dewsbury and former Warrington prop, has been taken on a month's loan. In 11 matches for Rovers Steve Quinn has scored 57 goals and 1 try for 117 points. Tony O'Toole for the colts has in ten games scored 61 goals, 2 d.g.s. and 2 tries for a total of 130 points.

THE SOCIAL CLUB

The entertainment for Saturday 15th November is that top group "Limelight"; the following Saturday "Squeeler", another good group. The Rovers Social Supporters Branch have kindly donated £250 for re-decorating the Concert Room. The club now provides many varied and entertaining evenings; so come along and give it your support. Don't miss the sensational Eric Delaney on Monday 24th November with full supporting artistes.

THE LOTTERY

Agents are still required to sell tickets. If you are a true supporter then try and help a good cause. Contact the Lottery Office in Station Lane for details.

FEATHERSTONE FORUM — GARY SIDDALL

Q1 — How did you get involved with Rugby League?

A — The school I went to played only football. From there I joined the navy and played rugby union. While I was on leave I trained with Rovers just to keep fit. Brian Wigglesworth was the 'A' team coach, and he brought me into the side as sub against Hull, and so began my rugby league career.

Q2 — What did your navy colleagues think of our game?

A — Their experience of our game is through television; and unfortunately they think Eddie Waring is a joke figure. For instance, they have the opinion that all forwards are idiots who work on the coal face; but they enjoy the physical contact of the game. The game has a cloth-cap image — people from the south don't realise that the players are semi-professionals and that clubs have good grounds and facilities.

Q3 — Which forward position do you think you will settle in?

A — I am more concerned at the moment in regaining a first-team place after injury. I enjoy playing at No. 8. The Australians play mobile, fast props and I think this will soon be the case in our game. A prop is always involved in a match, especially in the scrum, where he forms an important partnership with his hooker.

Q4 — How do top R.U. players compare with top Rugby League players?

A — The backs in Union compare very favourably — they have plenty of pace and good side-steps. In the forwards the game is very different and few would make the grade at League because individual skill is not encouraged in Union.

Q5 — Who has helped you most in your rugby career?

A — There are several people I would like to thank for their help. Of the coaching staff I am grateful to Peter Bell, Terry Clawson and Paul Daley. Mick Morgan taught me a lot about forward play. I have taken the sound advice of the senior players of the club, particularly Paul Coventry and Ray Handscombe.

Q6 — Can you recall any funny incidents?

A — I remember one match when I was a spectator at Featherstone. The ball was kicked into the crowd from a penalty. A second ball was thrown on to the field from the bench and play commenced with a tap. At the same time the first ball was returned from the crowd. Vince Farrar collected this ball and was chased by two opponents, whilst play continued at the other side of the field!

OUR VISITORS

TODAY'S visitors, Oldham, complete the opposition for this season of the newly-promoted clubs, following Barrow and Halifax. The sides met earlier in the season at the Watersheddings with Rovers running out winners by 32 points to 17. However, Oldham have shown better form of late with narrow defeats at Hull and Widnes, followed by good wins at home against Leigh and Workington. The club have recently acquired Mick Parrish (centre) and Tony Handforth (hooker), from Hunslet. Geoff Clarkson, a much travelled and respected prop, was signed from Bradford.

Oldham have in their ranks two of Hull K.R.'s cup-winning side, in Brian Lockwood and Clive Sullivan. Both players have represented their country and provide valuable experience to the side. Forwards Adrian Alexander (signed from the Harlequins R.U. club) and Under 24 International Terry Flanagan have been in fine form this season.

Other players to look out for are winger Geoff Munro, who was leading try-scorer in the second division last season; Bill Francis, a Featherstone junior who played for both Wigan and St. Helens, and experienced full back Martin Murphy.

League Record — P8, W2, D1, L5, F117, A150, Pts.5.

Our last meeting at Post Office Road was on December 30th, 1979. The field was covered overnight by plastic sheets to keep out the severe frost, and thus the match was playable. Rovers were top of the league with Oldham close second. Oldham gave a powerful forward performance and only a spectacular John Gilbert try saved Rovers from defeat. Hooker Ray Handscombe sustained a broken leg in the match.

Score : Rovers 8, Oldham 8. Att. 4061. Referee Mr. R. Campbell.

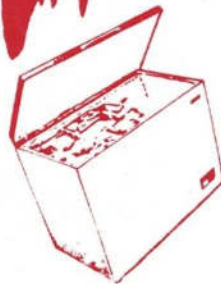

Rovers — Box; Coventry, Evans, Gilbert, Kellett; Quinn, Hudson; Anderson, Handscombe, Morgan, Vickers, Smith, Bell. Subs : Robinson, Hobbs.

Oldham — Murphy; Munro, Ward, Lund, Fitzsimmons; Francis, Gwilliam; Alexander, O'Mahony, Herbert, Blackwood, Mordell, Flanagan. Subs : Ashton, Hall.

DOWN MEMORY LANE

1975

Five years ago the Rovers defeated Warrington at Post Office Road 14 - 7. John Newlove and Peter Smith scored the tries and Harold Box kicked four goals. A crowd of 2,625 witnessed this game, a result which saw the Rovers maintain their second position in the first division league table with 12 points from 8 games. Dewsbury were in first position followed by the Rovers, Widnes, Salford, Hull and Wigan.

On the International scene England defeated New Zealand in the World Championship match at Odsal by 27 - 12 before a crowd of 5,656. The Rovers hooker, Keith Bridges, dominated the scrums 2 - 1 as England recorded an extremely comfortable victory. England's tries came from Ken Gill (3), Steve Norton, Stuart Wright, Ged Dunn and Eric Hughes. George Fairbairn landed three goals but missed with five other attempts.

In the next World Championship game England defeated Australia at Wigan 16 - 13 in front of 9,200 spectators. Again, Bridges (with a 14 - 9 pull in the scrums) gave England the possession that was so vital. England's tries came from Jeff Grayshon and John Holmes, and on this occasion it was the accurate goal-kicking of Fairbairn that proved decisive. However, Australia (despite the defeat) still took the World Championship Crown.

Oldham supporters will remember their team's game at Headingley against Leeds five years ago. Referee Stan Wall, amid the din of the home fans sensing victory when all seemed lost, did not hear the hooter go as Oldham completed a tackle under their own posts with the scores level at 15 - 15. Leeds were allowed to play the ball, and the move ended with John Holmes scoring the match-winning try for Leeds in the corner.

The Rovers chalked up their second away victory of the season at Lawkholme Lane, Keighley, with a 9 - 3 success. Mick Smith scored the try, whilst Tommy Smales kicked three goals. A young Vince Farrar had another great game in the loose as well as winning the hooking honours.

At that stage the Rovers were sixteenth in the league table with 10 points from 11 games. The leading try-scorers (after 12 games in all) were Carl Dooler 7, Ken Greatorex 5, Mick Smith 4 and Vaughan Thomas 3. The goal-kicking duties had been shared between Howard Derbyshire 13, Tommy Smales 12 and Don Fox 8.

The Second Test Match at Odsal against New Zealand saw Britain win 15 - 9 before 15,740 spectators in a game which was not one to remember. Britain's team was: Charlton; Burgess, Shelton, Buckley, Stopford; Hardisty, Smales; Roberts, Kemel, Edgar, Halliday, Ramsey, Rae.

Oldham's floodlights were used for the first time fifteen years ago in the Great Britain - France Under-24 game before a crowd of 6,333. Britain won 12 - 5 and Oldham were satisfied by the play of their sole representative, Kevin Taylor, who was reported to have tackled well and attacked fearlessly.

Side by side, father and son — Jack and Dale Fennell

ALL-TIME GREATS — JACK FENNEL

Jack was born at Featherstone on 6th May 1933 and first came to prominence in local schoolboy rugby. At centre he captained Featherstone Secondary Modern School team which won the 1948 Yorkshire Schools Cup Final — he played for Yorkshire Schoolboys. Leaving school he played for Featherstone Amateurs and Bagleys Recs. He signed for Rovers in December 1952 after trials.

Jack made his first team debut against York at home; in the corresponding away game he scored his first points for the club when he kicked a goal. The 1953-4 season saw Jack playing 'A' team football being deputy to Joe Mullaney. In the final three games Joe was injured so Jack played and kicked ten goals. With Joe back at stand-off Rovers began to use Jack as a utility back and he gained 27 appearances during 1954-5. The third round cup tie at Leigh was a memorable game for him — playing at stand-off he kicked four superb goals in a 13-9 victory.

The 1955-6 season proved one of his most successful - playing in 40 games he became Rovers second player to land a century of goals in a season. His 102 goals beat Freddie Miller's 101 record. He was also elected Player of the Season.

The following season he settled down in the full back position. He reached another century of goals in season 1957-8, a season in which he reached his highest points score in one match — 8 goals and a try against Hull K.R. The 1958-59 season was perhaps one Jack ought to forget. Ousted at full-back by Cooper he played most of his football in the 'A' team — Jack regained his place in the 1959-60 season and was a member of Rovers successful Yorkshire Cup winning side that beat Hull.

With Jack Anderson pressing for the full-back spot Jack continued to give outstanding performances to keep his place. Terry Clawson had taken over the goal-kicking role. The 1962-3 season was Jack's testimonial one and he played in 39 consecutive matches. The 1963-4 season brought another 21 appearances, but Gary Cooper was successfully switched from centre to full back. The result was that Jack made only six appearances in the 1964-5 season, three of which were as substitute.

Jack Fennell was never capped during his illustrious career, but his hundred per cent loyalty to the club and total commitment for the blue and white made him a player that Featherstone Rovers were proud of. Career details — App. 322, Goals 465, Tries 30, Points 1020.
