WATERSHEDDINGS SURVEY

WELCOME back — and a Happy New Year to you all! The early winter freeze-up hit us hard at Watersheddings and today's game against Batley is the first here since we beat Huyton on December 6th, more than a month ago.

Our backlog of matches now stands at five following three postponements because of frozen grounds and two because of our involvement in the John Player Trophy through to the semi-final stage.

Thankfully, the thaw came just in time to save our match at Salford last Sunday when our players were in action at the Willows for the first time in a month.

The five games outstanding are those involving Cardiff, Hunslet, Doncaster and Rochdale away from home and Workington here at Watersheddings.

The Cardiff and Hunslet games were postponed on November 15th and November 29th respectively because on those weekends we played Leeds and then Hull in the John Player Trophy.

The game at Doncaster on December 13th was the first victim of the icy blast, the same fate befell the Workington home match on December 20th, and then the game at Rochdale over Christmas became our third weather casualty and our fifth postponement in all.

We quickly re-arranged the trip to Cardiff for what was to have been our blank Sunday date — January 31st.

But at the time these notes were written the other four games had not been allocated new dates, there being special problems to overcome in finding alternative dates for the games at Hunslet and Doncaster.

There are no lights at Tatters Field and Hunslet share Batley's ground at Mount Pleasant, which is also without lights.

An added problem with the Hunslet game is that the ground is already used to its maximum with two clubs playing their home games on it.

We have tentatively suggested that Hunslet could come here to play their "home" game against us but Hunslet are not inclined to agree to that suggestion while they are still in the running for a promotion place. They are currently one of four clubs on 16 points in joint fifth place.

The only free Sunday we might have between now and the scheduled end of the Second Division season on April 25th is in the event of our going out of the Challenge Cup at the first round on February 14th. We would then have a blank on February 28th, the date set aside for the second round.

We have heard that Hunslet might consider asking Leeds for use of the heated Headingley ground to stage our game, but we have not had confirmation of that at this stage.

Rochdale have provided us with two suggested dates for the derby at the Athletic Ground — Wednesday, April 21st and Friday, April 23rd.

The Wednesday date might be acceptable but there is little chance of our agreeing to go to the Athletic Grounds only 48 hours before our trip to Carlisle on April 25th, a match which might decide the Second Division championship.

In the cases of both the Workington and Rochdale games we were prepared to switch venues to get a game on but, in the end, the weather beat us all.

The backlog built up considerably throughout the League with three blank weekends and the Council, meeting last Wednesday, were expected to discuss a possible extension of the season.

It is comparatively easy to extend the Second Division season, as there is no end-of-season play-off involved, and it will be no surprise to see us playing games well into May, especially if we get another bad spell of weather during January or February.

At Salford last Sunday all the team played extremely well and came away with a resounding 17-7 success.

TODAY'S VISITORS

BATLEY SEEK FIRST AWAY WIN

BATLEY, today's visitors to Watersheddings, come here still seeking their first away win in the Second Division.

In view of their performances on home soil, where they have had some notable triumphs, it is perhaps surprising that the Gallant Youths are still seeking a league win away.

Their four Second Division wins (before last weekend's matches against Hunslet and Bramley, that is) have all been recorded at Mount Pleasant and there have been some notable scalps among them – Salford, Rochdale Hornets, Huyton and Cardiff.

Two and a half years ago there was a major shuffle behind the scenes at Mount Pleasant when a new board was installed into office under the chairmanship of former Dewsbury official, Mick Lumb.

It was the new board that took Tommy Smales and Dick Lowe to Mount Pleasant as a coaching team, but there was a big change on the coaching staff in October last when Smales resigned and Lowe took over as the boss.

On the field itself Batley possess some experienced players, notably winger Henry Oulton, the former Wakefield player, who is one of the most prolific goal kickers in the game.

Oulton possesses a mighty kick and Oldham have good reason to know how damaging his marksmanship can be, especially on the compact little ground at Mount Pleasant.

On our last visit there in our promotion season of 1979-80, Oulton landed four goals from all angles and distances as Batley pulled back from 17-6 down to draw 17-17.

Half-backs Trevor Briggs and Neil Pickerill are also well-known names in the game, skipper Briggs having given good service to Leeds and Bramley while Pickerill, a live-wire around the scrum and in the loose, is the twin brother of Clive Pickerill.

In the forwards Batley have recently signed loose-forward Martin Savage from Bradford Northern and Savage will certainly be out to impress today because the big freeze-up has restricted his appearances badly since he moved to Mount Pleasant from Odsal.

Local lads Mark Whelan and Alan Watts will probably form the second-row with long-serving Jimmy Waltham on the blind-side of the front-row alongside No. 8 Mick Frain and hooker Brendan Cummings.

Paul Storey, a 19-year-old local lad, has been holding down the full back spot with John Jones, Steve Presley and Malcolm Shaw forming the three-quarter line with Oulton.

The scoring records tend to indicate that Batley have some score power. Before last weekend's matches they had scored 146 points in 13 outings which was more than Huyton, Blackpool, Dewsbury and Rochdale and only one point fewer than Huddersfield and four points fewer than Swinton.

Their defence – 224 against – was better than Huyton, Doncaster and Bramley and only five points inferior to Hunslet and six points worse than Cardiff.

Up go the arms in celebration as Alan McCurrie wins the touch-down race to score Oldham's second try at Salford.

Alan McCurrie makes a break and looks for support in the build-up to Dave Nicholson's opening try in our 17-7 win at Salford.

Dave Nicholson scores his fifth try of the season at Salford . . . and then throws up his arm in celebration as the ball rolls away.

AUSTRALIAN REFEREE

by Brian Batty (Daily Mail)

GREAT BRITAIN'S trips to France are guaranteed to produce something special or sensational and there is no sign of this situation ever changing.

The trend, with referees making the headlines rather than the players continued with the latest episode in Marseille.

This time, instead of a European official dominating the scene, it was the turn of Australia's top referee Greg Hartley to emerge as the man of the moment.

Hartley's threat to call off the game if there was no end to the nasty, niggling fouls and incidents seemed, on the surface to suggest a fit of panic.

Yet Hartley insisted 24 hours later that this was not the case and that he would repeat the treatment if the occasion arose again in the future.

There is also the feeling that perhaps he was a little hasty in dismissing second row forward Les Gorley but there were few complaints from the British camp on either count.

It was only Hartley's second game in France and he will remember the first just as much having sent off five players in The Catalans-Toulouse game in 1978.

Hartley based his motives for the Marseille 'quit fighting or walk' measures on the fact that it is foreign to his Sydney experience.

"In Australia when a player decks another one it is all done and dusted in seconds. The guy goes down and the offender walks," said Hartley.

"But this business of continual niggling fouls is something referees at home don't have to handle. It is not healthy for the game and I was not going to tolerate it in the second half."

Having made five trips to Aussie I reckon I have seen plenty of the type of incidents over there to match the Marseille stuff.

But I would not quibble at the way he refereed in this game and certainly the penalty count came out in Britain's favour although things like that can often be misleading.

The decision to bring a neutral official 12,000 miles was justified and will certainly be repeated for we cannot afford to go back to days of having French officials in charge in their own country.

A SHORT HISTORY OF BATLEY

by Tom Webb

JUST one hundred years ago the Batley club commenced activities. It started at Mount Pleasant and has never played its home fixtures on any other ground, although for the past couple of seasons it has allowed Hunslet to play its "home" games at the hilly ground.

Within four or five years the club had become one of the strongest in Yorkshire with Simms, Ireson, Haslam, Elliker and Naylor as their outstanding players. The Yorkshire Rugby Union Cup was won in 1885 and "Old Ebor" a well known Yorkshire journalist of the time called the team, "The Gallant Youths", a name which is still used.

In 1895-96 Batley became a founder member of the Northern Union and when the Challenge Cup was inaugurated a season later Batley defeated St. Helens in the final. On the three occasions that Batley won the Challenge Cup the only team to score a try against the Gallant Youths was St. Helens. The clubs met in the final in 1897, in the first round in 1898 and the third round in 1901. No other club crossed the Batley goal line in the three cup tournaments. Incidentally we don't have a try line, the proper name is goal line and this goes back to the dim and distant past. It would be logical to change the name to try line but Eddie Waring's commentaries for a score of years have always used the wrong description.

The emergence of Batley as a power in the Northern union dates to the signing of Wharton P. Davies and Dai Fitzgerald. "Wattie" Davies was synonymous with Batley, often being the leading goal and try scorer. Dai Fitzgerald received the longest suspension under the professional laws ever meted out to a player. He was out of the game for 18 months.

The other great names of the early days were the two Goodalls, Oakland, Spurr, Garner, Fozzard, Alty, Oakland, Gath, Shackleton, Stubley, Rogers, Maine, Munns, Phillips and Fisher. George Main became Mayor of Batley in 1938 when he entertained all his surviving team mates to a special celebration.

The Auty family were well known in Batley, members of the family gaining honours in both Rugby League and Rugby Union. Ex Alderman Joseph Auty developed the "Auty Scheme" for the purchase of the Mount Pleasant estate which was to become an open space for ever. He gave £500 and guaranteed to raise another £1,000 which meant a considerable sum of money in long gone days.

When the backs were not playing well in the game of 70 years ago, the forwards took charge of the game and told the backs to "Get back in t' watter", and no doubt these brawny players took charge of the game. Bob Spurr once said that his team mate Fred Fisher should be disqualified because "He tupp'd 'em with his tummy, bumped 'em with his knee, and finished 'em off wi' t' booit".

Ike Fowler like Davies and Fitzgerald was signed from Wales and because he joined Batley and Welsh Rugby Union withheld his international cap and he didn't receive it until some 50 odd years later.

Batley fell "into the doldrums" and the club was kept going on a shoestring. A couple of years ago a "ginger group" took over the club and the new board of directors brought renewed hope to Mount Pleasant.

This year the club is to celebrate its centenary with a book by Brian Cartwright who acts as groundsman and who prepares the pitch for two clubs, Batley and Hunslet. He has also been a hospital broadcaster, match time-keeper, club historian and player. He works off the field to spread Rugby League anywhere he can.

COUNTY HONOURS FOR OLDHAM LEAGUE PLAYERS

by Alan Burke

Public Relations Officer, Oldham Amateur Rugby League

BROTHERS Dave and Peter Grimbley, who play for the local Saint Anne's amateur team, have both been selected for the Lancashire open-age side, which this afternoon are facing Yorkshire in the opening game of this season's BARLA County Championship. The under-19s County title race also opens this afternoon, with both matches being staged at Fartown, Huddersfield, and with a total of nine Oldham League players appearing for the Red Rose county, thus giving the local league its strongest representation for many years.

Dave Grimbley retains the Lancashire scrum-half position which he aquired for the first time last season, and from which he was later selected as a reserve for the Great Britain amateur International team. Peter, the younger brother, has been selected as loose-forward and will be making his first appearance in the senior County side, although he did represent Lancashire at youth level, as a centre-threequarter, four years ago. Dave Cassells, who is player-coach of local side Saddleworth Rangers, will be playing at centre, and makes a welcome return to the County team after having gained similar honours a few years ago. The last of the quartet is Waterhead's strong-running forward Mick Hough, who will be one of the Lancashire substitutes, and who gains his first major representative honour. Mick won the Ben Powell Trophy as Man-of-the-Match in last season's Oldham Standard Cup Final.

Five Oldham-based youngsters have also been called up for Lancashire honours, with John Henderson having been selected as captain. John was a member of last season's Championship winning under-17s Lancashire County side, and as well as having made several appearances in the senior Saddleworth team, he also impressed earlier this season while at centre for the Oldham League's open-age side. Indeed, he will also still be eligible to gain youth honours next season. Fellow Saddleworth colleague Mark Rowbottom maintains his position in the Lancashire youth team pack, and he will no doubt be hoping to repeat his performance of last season which eventually gained him a place in the Great Britain team against France.

Two more Saddleworth youngsters are also included in the Red Rose outfit, both of whom will be gaining their initial amateur honours. Steve Walsh will appear at open-side prop, while Chris Willis has been selected as stand-off, although he has to undergo hospital treatment this week following an injury he received to his hand in last Saturday's County trial.

Jeremy Hodgkinson, the powerful Saint Anne's forward, will also gain his first BARLA honour by being named as substitute for the Lancashire under-19s side, while fellow clubman, winger Steve Whittle, has been named as one of the reserves to travel.

Players at both age-groups will be anxious to impress the International selectors, especially at open-age level, with the Great Britain side due to travel to Papua New Guinea, Australia and New Zealand at the end of the season. The squad for that tour will be named later in the season after the annual International against France, which this season is being played at the Recreation Ground, Whitehaven. The under-19s' players also have a good reason to impress, as the International encounter against the French youngsters will this season be played on the other side of the Channel, and while many of the British youth players will still be available for the 1982-83 season, at the end of which the young Lions also visit Australasia.

Paul Dalton, the Saint Anne's second-row forward, who gained Lancashire under-17 honours last season, has missed out on today's County game due to sustaining a broken bone in his hand, although he hopes to have recovered in time to challenge for a place in the Lancashire youth team when they face Cumbria on February 7th at the Leigh Miners Welfare ground.

Quarter-final matches in the Oldham Standard Cup, which were postponed last month, are now scheduled to take place on Saturday, January 23rd. Cup holders Waterhead play Salem Hornets at Waterhead Park; East Ward entertain St. Anne's at Kingsway School, Rochdale; Shaw take on Mayfield at High Crompton Park; and Langworthy Juniors play hosts to Saddleworth Rangers at Bolton Road, Pendlebury.
