WATERSHEDDINGS SURVEY

Since our last home game against Leeds on August 25th, we have been active in our attempts to strengthen the side and we followed up the capture of Green Vigo from Swinton by signing local lad Des Foy on loan from Widnes.

Vigo comes to Watersheddings in a player-exchange deal for Clive Hunter. He made his debut against Leeds, but was unfortunately sent off in the next match at Bradford where an Oldham side reduced to 12 men midway through the first half pulled off a memorable 23-10 victory.

In his third game at Blackpool in the first round of the Forshaw's Lancashire Cup, the South African scored a splendid try with little room in which to work and this put us in front late in the game.

Foy, who is only 18, has come to Watersheddings on an indefinite loan agreement. We have always enjoyed good relations with the Widnes club and the idea is that the agreement will benefit everyone — the player because it will give him the chance of regular senior football, the Widnes club because they feel senior rugby will help to speed up Des's development, and the Oldham club because he is a player who will undoubtedly strengthen our middle backs.

Des made his debut on the left-wing at Bradford and did sufficient there to encourage Frank Myler to switch him to right-centre for the match at Blackpool, where he formed a new right-flank partnership with Vigo.

The youngster had an impressive debut, crowned by a superb try which put us back in the game after Borough had taken a surprise 10-4 interval lead.

The Oldham club feel both players can add considerably to our strength and we hope that both enjoy their stay here at Watersheddings.

Our early-season results have been very encouraging, indeed. We drew 15-15 in the pre-season friendly at St. Helens when it needed a last-minute try by Saints to level the scores.

We lost 7-17 at home to Widnes on the opening day of the First Division season and then ran a powerful Leeds side close only three days later. Leeds won 15-8, but it was a game that was evenly locked at 5-5 until midway through the second half.

So to Bradford and our marvellous victory which shook everyone at Odsal. Few teams will win at Odsal this season and although there were those who were quick to point out that Northern had a weakened team, virtually the same side went on to beat Hull K.R. 15-14 only seven days later in the first round of the Yorkshire Cup.

On the same day Leeds went to Castleford and rattled up 33 points, so our early-season results give rise for a quietly-optimistic view that we might be able to hold our own this time in the First Division.

Another development at Watersheddings since our last home game came with the announcement that Brian Hogan had taken over as skipper from Terry Flanagan. The move was made by the coach, who feels Terry might benefit from not having to concern himself with the whole side.

Sadly, in the very next match against Leeds, Terry was hurt just before half-time and the injury is taking some time to heal — a disappointment for all concerned. However, Terry is a resolute young man who has barely missed more than a handful of matches in three seasons and he will certainly be back in action as soon as ever is possible.

We would like to take this opportunity of placing on record the club's appreciation of all he has done as skipper, linking with that the very best of wishes to Brian Hogan, who has taken over the leadership.

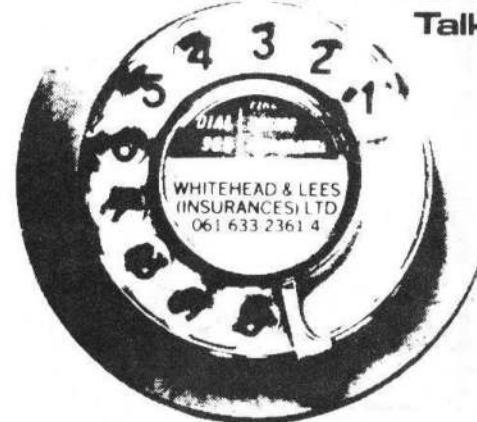

After today's match we begin a run of fixtures that could give us the opportunity to pick up points, but first of all we play Warrington away on Sunday (3 p.m.) in the Lancashire Cup and France here at Watersheddings next Wednesday (7.30) in a match designed to help the French in their preparations for the forthcoming Test series against Australia.

Receipts will be split 50-50 between the Oldham club and the French League so it is obviously in the club's interests for as many supporters as possible to pay us a visit to watch an international side in action against a club side temporarily relieved of the pressures of First Division Football.

On Sunday week we go to Halifax and then the following Wednesday night we are at home to Featherstone Rovers followed by a match that should produce one of our top crowds of the season — Wigan at Watersheddings on Sunday, October 3rd.

HISTORICAL NOTES ON WARRINGTON

By Tom Webb

In 1882-83 when the Warrington Club would be around seven years old, its ground was situated in Sankey Street with dressing rooms at the old White Hart Inn. The club colours were black and matches were played against St. Helens Recreation, Longsight, Altrincham, Northwich, Bradford & Clayton, Moss Side, Runcorn, Crewe, Little Lever, Whalley Range and Newton-le-Willows. J. E. Warren was both honorary secretary and club captain.

Like Oldham and most senior clubs of the time, the Wire played the touring Maori team in 1888-89. The gate receipts for that game were £42. Overall receipts for the season were £669 for first team games and £110 for second team matches. The club also held an annual ball. The ball for the following year showed a loss of £3 7s.3d, the sale of tickets not even covering the cost of the band which was four guineas. In 1888-89 the club had 412 members.

The famous Jack Fish first played for Warrington in October 1898 having been secured from Lostock Gralam, near Northwich, which then played Northern Union football. Jack's last match was against Coventry in 1913.

Arthur Skelhorn was paid £5 to sign on and his club Stockton Heath received the same sum in 1911 when Jim Tranter was also signed for a fee of £4, with his club Newton receiving a fiver for his transfer.

I have a list of the scoring achievements of Warrington players for the period 1886-87 up to and including 1979-80, excluding unofficial war time games, compiled by Ernie Day, a Warrington stalwart who had senior experience with Halifax.

Leading the way with 2,300 points, 744 tries and 34 goals, is the fabulous Brian Bevan whose career spanned the years from 1946 to 1962. Next to him comes Harry Bath, the Australian with 798 goals, 87 tries and 1,857 points. Billy Holding, is a good third with 838 goals and just half a dozen tries, in all 1,694 points.

Derek Whitehead, former Oldham favourite, Steve Hesford, Jack Fish, Laurie Gilfedder and Eric Fraser all scored over 1,000 points for Warrington, an honour which just eluded Harold Palin who obtained 982. Ernie Day and Harold used to travel together when playing in Yorkshire.

Jeff Bootle, Ben Jolley, George Thomas (killed in the first war), Parry Gordon and John Bevan all topped 500 points and former Oldhamers or players with Oldham connections were Jim Challinor 409 points, Gerry Helme 399, Ned Catterall (1924-27) 309 points, Terry O'Grady 252, and Griff Jenkins who had exactly 150 points.

Other famous players to don the primrose and blue outfit included Bill Shankland and Dave Brown from Australia and Charlie Seeling, son of the player with the same name who toured with the early New Zealanders. Other famous Wire men include Tom Blinkhorn, the two Cunliffes Bill and Tom, Steve Ray who also had a spell with Oldha, Smack Bate and his brother Bob, Roy Francis, Bryn Knoweldon and Billy Belshaw. Scores of other one-time household names have been omitted from this long list.

Bob Anderton, the one-time club secretary and manager of two touring teams to Australia and New Zealand was quite an athlete in his younger days. At the Warrington Football Club Annual Sports of 1910 he won the 100 yards off 10¼ yards in 9 and 4/5th seconds and the 220 yards off a handicap of 18 yards in 22 and 2/5th seconds. With a pace of that nature he should have been a "natural" for a wing position but he was a club administrator rather than a player.

The wire-pulling industry of Warrington gave rise to the name "Wirepullers" and eventually the "Wire" by which the club is known.

The club has always encouraged the amateur game and the schoolboys, hence the strength of the game at junior level in the town, which was always part of Lancashire until the government switched both Warrington and Widnes into the county of Cheshire. Crossfields, Thames Board, Latchford, Rylands, Woolston Rovers and Shell-Carrington are the leading amateur organisations in the town. May the Warrington League enjoy the growth of more clubs as we have done in Oldham during the last few years.

WIRES CAN SPARK A BIT!

We meet our Forshaw's Lancashire Cup second-round opponents tonight with the visit of Warrington to Watersheddings for what should be a cracking First Division game.

In the past 12 months or so, the Wires have gone through a period of transition, especially where their forwards are concerned.

Last season Tommy Martyn and Ian Potter left Wilderspool to join Leigh, while another stalwart, Brian Case, is currently on the transfer-list and out of the limelight at Wilderspool.

Hookers Tommy Cunningham and Tony Waller were last week transfer-listed after a period of staying away from the club and local fans will not need reminding that the Wires have taken our hooker, Roger O'Mahoney, on trial.

The latest forward to leave Wilderspool is Eddie Hunter, who joined Leigh three weeks ago in a player-exchange deal for Leigh's player-of-the-year last season, Tony Cooke.

There was a change of coach at Wilderspool towards the end of last season when Kevin Ashcroft left Salford to replace Billy Benyon, who has since taken charge at St. Helens, his old club.

One of Ashcroft's first signings was, the vastly experienced Barrow Prop, David Chisnall, who has seen service with Leigh and St. Helens also.

The recruitment of Cooke and Chisnall adds experience to a young set of forwards such as Neil Courtney, John Fieldhouse, Bob Eccles and Mike Gregory.

In the past couple of seasons Middleton-born Courtney has been a tower of strength in the Wires' front-row, while young second-rowers Fieldhouse and Eccles are a strong and mobile unit.

Both have had representative honours, Eccles making his mark for the Great Britain under-24 team and Fieldhouse earning Lancashire county honours towards the end of last season.

One of the latest youngsters to sign for Warrington made his debut against Huyton in the first round of the Forshaw's Lancashire Cup. He is 18 year old loose-forward, Mike Gregory, yet another product from that marvellous academy of rugby skills and talents, Wigan St. Patricks.

Outside the pack, Warrington have a nice blend of youth and experience. International stars John Bevan and Ken Kelly provide the experience which augments the youth and exuberance of players like Phil Ford and Rick Thackray on the wings, Paul Cullen at stand-off and Ronnie Duane in the centre.

Stand-off Kelly has been figuring lately at scrum-half, with Cullen outside him, while Welshman Bevan could well appear at left-centre.

On his day there are few more reliable goal-kickers than full back Steve Hesford, as his past displays against Oldham will testify!

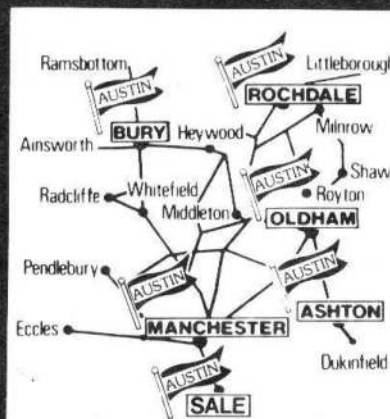

Indeed, there are all the ingredients for a splendid exhibition of Rugby League football and another classic at Warrington on Sunday in the Lancashire Cup Second Round.

BRIAN BATTY Daily Mail

It is the heart of winter ... a typical Rugby League Cuptie with steam rising as two packs paw the deep mud and suddenly a fight erupts.

Within seconds a slight, bedraggled figure dressed in black steps between two burly props, dodging the blows being aimed and with a few words waves the pair to the dressing room.

'Tut, tut chaps that won't do at all,' he says, as one of the players questions the legitimacy of his parentage on his way to that early bath.

Seconds later as the scrum reforms the same official decides to have further words and pulls aside the offending No. 7.

'I say old boy, this is just not on. For heaven's sake please stop the ball in the second row.'

Then in the dying minutes a player is hurled to the ground over his opponents' line in a vain bid to claim the winning try.

A look of distress crosses the official's face as he says sympathetically, 'Dreadfully sorry but you did not ground that ball. My apologies but it's no try.'

And so it goes on as referees brush up on their image, water down their language and smooth the way for a nice, sweet friendly relationship with players.

These fellows we've cursed and condemned for ruining so many games in the past have got to cut out the swearing this season.

They are in danger of losing their respect and worse still, corrupting the players in a sport in which they have won praise for their handling from many outside observers.

I just hope that having learnt to control their tongues on the field referees will remain as gentlemanly off it.

That is ... turn the other cheek when being battered over the head by an outraged fan as happened on more than one occasion last season.

And duck quickly when being spat at as happens regularly on grounds where getting from the pitch to dressing room is no mean feat.

After all, who do these overpaid, underworked officials think they are abusing the English language on a Sunday.

LANCASHIRE CUP

Our second-round tie in the Forshaw's Lancashire Cup will now be played on Sunday (3 p.m.) at Wilderspool. It was due to be held this evening, but the Warrington club lost its floodlights in a fire and the tie would have had to start at 5.30.

After protracted talks involving both clubs, the Lancashire County R.L. and the Rugby Football League, it was formally agreed to bring forward our league fixture against Warrington from Sunday to this evening and to play our county cup tie at Wilderspool this weekend.

"A" TEAM AND COLTS

The "A" team, runners-up last season in the Lancashire Combination, had a 17-12 win over Wigan "A" at Watersheddings after going down 17-13 at Widnes in their opening league fixture.

Tries at Widnes were scored by a trialist right-winger (2) and Les Chadwick, with Alan Platt landing two goals.

Against Wigan, Dennis O'Neill, Paddy Kirwan and Paul Lowndes scored tries with Mick Worrall kicking four goals in a thrilling match won for Oldham by a Lowndes try in the closing stages.

The colts recovered from a 27-11 defeat at Wakefield on the opening day of the season to win 31-5 at Huddersfield. They then had a splendid 11-11 draw with Hull K.R. and, in the next match, they were leading Leigh 19-2 when the game was abandoned in the second-half.

They have since had two defeats — a 20-18 reverse at St. Helens and a 28-15 home defeat by Castleford.
