WATERSHEDDINGS SURVEY

WELCOME to the start of a brand-new season of Rugby League football at Watersheddings — and what better way to kick-off than with a visit from that slick footballing team Leeds.

It is fair to say that we did not produce our best in our pre-season friendly against St. Helens last Sunday, but it must be borne in mind that we played without men of the calibre of Terry Flanagan, Mick Parrish, Chris Willis and Andy Goodway and suffered a further injury blow when Mick Coombes damaged a shoulder.

We have not had the best of luck so far with Colin Hawkyard dislocating a shoulder in the Wigan sevens and then Coombes picking up a similar injury.

It is to be hoped, however, that some of the injured players will be back in action for today's big kick-off, though Andy Goodway's appearance will have to be delayed because of suspension.

He received a three-match ban at the end of last season and the games to count are today's match against Leeds and next Sunday's match at Bradford on top of the Saints friendly.

Under new regulations, players cannot turn out now in matches which do not count towards their suspension during their period out of the game. Hence, we had to go into the Wigan sevens minus Goodway and Alan McCurrie (injured) — two players who played a major part in our success in lifting the Seven Seas sevens trophy at Hull at the end of last season.

Nevertheless, we still beat Swinton and Salford to reach the final only to go down to a fast and talented Widnes outfit, who thus gained revenge for our win over them in the Hull final in May.

During the summer there have been several changes at Watersheddings both on and off the field of play.

Mr. Ray Hatton, our chairman for the past six years, did not seek re-election to the committee at the May annual meeting. Neither did committee man Eric Buckley.

They have contributed much to the club over the years and their service should be placed on record.

Similarly, the club welcomes the men who replaced them as a result of the members' poll — Mr. Harvey Ashworth and Dr. Donald Walton.

Mr. Ashworth was ultimately voted in as Mr. Hatton's successor as chairman at the first meeting of the new committee.

Three weeks ago Mr. Hatton accepted an invitation by the committee to become honorary president — the post vacated by Mr. Ashworth when he decided to seek election to the committee.

During the summer Bob Mordell and Adrian Alexander (on trial) have joined Kent Invicta, while at the time of writing the transfer of Gary Bishop to the Maidstone newcomers was also going through.

Two players we had on loan last season — Terry Bilsbury and Denis Boyd — were transferred back to Leigh and Carlisle respectively.

Incoming signings have included the capture of Jimmy Hornby and Tom Nadiola, freed by Wigan at the end of last season, Phillip Morris, a 17-year-old centre from the Castleford area, and local lad Paul Garnett, an England schoolboy international, on amateur forms.

More recently, we have taken two Yorkshire-based players on trial or loan agreements — Ian Birkby, listed by Castleford at £15,000, and Steve Durham, a young forward from Eastmore (Wakefield), who recently returned from the BARLA youth tour of New Zealand.

The Lancashire Cup draw paired us with Workington at Watersheddings, this match to be played on Sunday, September 4.

The tie will give us a great chance to avenge the Cumbrians shock win here in the first round of the Challenge Cup last season.

This year the name of the county cup competition has been changed from the Forshaw's Lancashire Cup to the Burtonwood Brewery Cup and is worth a record £12,500.

The brewery is sponsoring the tournament for the eighth year and the winners will receive £3,200 — £200 more than holders Warrington pocketed for beating St. Helens last season.

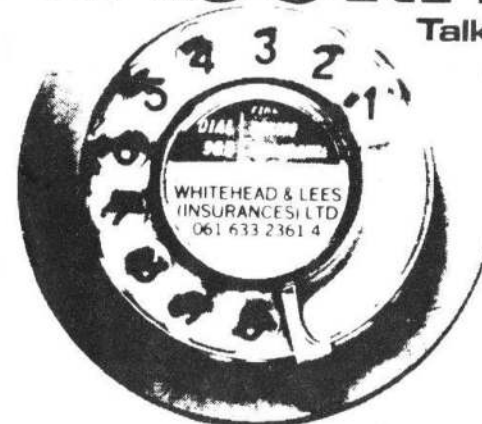

First-round matches are being staged on Sunday, September 4th, the quarter-finals on Wednesday, September 14th, and semi-finals on Wednesday, September 21st and the final on Saturday, October 1st at a venue still to be decided.

The draw for each future round will be made live on Radio Manchester at 11.00 a.m. on the morning after the ties have been played.

Another important news item during the summer was our capture of New Zealand full back Nick Wright, but unfortunately Wright cannot join us until after the completion of the forthcoming Maori tour of England in mid-November.

HISTORICAL NOTES ON THE LEEDS CLUB

by Tom Webb

A friend recently sent me a photostat of odd pages of the magazine "Echoes" published by the Leeds club. The date is March 1893 and a poem mentions the clubs met by the Loiners. Kendal, Penycraig, Cardiff Harlequins, Carlisle, Hawick, Swinton, Broughton, Broughton Rangers, Morecambe, Cambridge University, Oxford University, Richmond, Old Leysians were all mentioned in "The Deeds of Good Old Leeds" which was written with apologies to the shade of Macauley.

On the letter page "Occasionally Disgusted", a constant spectator at the football matches on the Headingley ground — note our game was more often described as football than it was rugby — and one with a great regard for the Leeds Football Club, asked "Why should the subscribers on the covered stand hoot at the referee when decisions are not always given in favour of Leeds? It is very noticeable, when the ball is passed forward by a Leeds man, and not seen by the referee, then not a sound is heard; but should an opponent pass the ball forward, even a few inches, what a shout arises, and when the referee lets the ball go, what a hoot for him." There is nothing new under the sun, we are told, and home crowds have suffered from this complaint for 90 years and more.

Clubs on the Leeds fixture list shown in the results of matches up to that stage of that season showed that Hull, Aspatria, Otley, Castleford, Wigan, Hartlepool Rovers, Burton-on-Trent and Rochdale Hornets had also been played.

The "B" team results for February 1893 revealed that Hull "B", East Ardsley and Arthington had been beaten but the Hunslet St. Jude's club had triumphed in their game.

The first team had played 30 games, won 21, lost 7 and drawn 2, scoring 285 points against 91. There is no mention of the "A" team on the couple of pages in my possession but the "B" team had played 16, won 11, lost 4 and drawn 1, scoring 156 against 76. Even 90 years ago the Leeds club was one of the best organised Rugby Union clubs of the time.

Still dealing with Rugby Union days, the biggest attendance at Headingley for a game under Rugby Union control was 27,654 when the club met Halifax in a third round cup-tie (Yorkshire Cup) on April 2, 1892. In season 1891-92 J. H. Potter set up a record for Leeds by kicking 12 goals in a match. Ernest Pollars and Bert Cook equalled that record in due course. Potter, a half back was the heaviest man in the team, weighing 13 st. 9 lbs.

During the Northern Union period, there was a fall in interest and on the occasion of the last match of the season in 1902-03 the game against Wakefield Trinity is recorded as having an attendance of 712 with receipts of £5.9s.

Leeds first success of note in the Northern Union was in 1910 when the Challenge Cup was won and the first appearance in the Championship Final was in 1915 when Huddersfield, the team of all the talents won at Wakefield by 35-2.

Sir Edwin Airey was elected chairman in 1923 and his drive and business acumen took the club to the top, and it was rated as the top Yorkshire club in Rugby football. In 35 years from his appointment, the club took 35 major honours, and a record without equal then, was the winning of the Rugby League Challenge Cup seven times.

We had Lancashire and Yorkshire League competitions incorporated into the overall Northern Rugby League structure and for many years one Yorkshire club had to be reckoned as a Lancashire League club to balance matters. In the late 1950s Leeds elected to play as a "Lancashire" club for two seasons.

In 1960 Leeds ran five teams under the chief coach Joe Warham, now the general Manager at Headingley. Each team had a specialist coach in addition. Dai Prosser looked after the first team, Les Williams the "A" team, George Broughton the "B" Team, Tom Bailey the intermediates (under 19) and Sid Stead the juniors (under 17) which meant that there were 45 professionals and 40 amateurs on the books.

LEEDS RUNNING IN THE POINTS

A measure of the size of the task confronting Oldham in today's opening First Division match of the new season lies in the results of Leeds' two pre-season friendlies — a 48-0 win over Bramley followed by an amazing 90-0 triumph over Rochdale at the Athletic Grounds.

The management and coaching team at Headingley is too experienced and too shrewd to let those results lull them into a false sense of security so far as the First Division is concerned.

Nevertheless, a side cannot possibly do more than run in the points freely and stop the opposition from scoring and coach Robin Dewhurst must have gained considerable satisfaction from the pre-season results, especially in the manner his side settled down to the new laws.

Teamwork in the true Leeds tradition enabled the Headingley side to pile on the points in both games, but the Rochdale match was especially rewarding for young scrum-half Mark Conway, who scored 13 goals and a hat-trick of tries for a personal haul of 38 points.

His 13-goal feat equalled the legendary Lewis Jones's club record haul of 13 goals in a match while his points tally of 38 beat by seven the Jones record of 31 points in a match.

Most record keepers these days do not include pre-season friendlies and the method normally adopted by the League's official figures is to include only league or cup matches.

In that respect, Jones's club records for Leeds will probably stand though Conway's achievement at Rochdale clearly underlines the impact he made on the match and the opposition he will pose to Kevin Dick for the No. 7 jersey.

Dick has recently been on holiday but is now fighting to establish himself once more at the base of the scrum.

Whoever gets the job will be partnered by the man who invariably makes Leeds tick over the vastly experienced and extremely skilful ball player, John Holmes.

Holmes was apparently afforded plenty of room and time to dictate things at Rochdale and his stream of defence-bursting passes kept both forwards and backs on the move.

A new name for Oldham fans to look out for in the Leeds back line is winger Pat Mitchell — "Pele" to his team mates — who was signed towards the end of last season from Huddersfield amateur football.

Mitchell, a coloured boy, was snapped up in April from Huddersfield works side Britannia Works — the same stable from which Oldham signed his opposite flanker for Britannia, Mike Taylor.

If Taylor and Mitchell are in direct opposition today it should be quite an interesting tit-bit on the wing.

On the other wing, Andy Smith has proved in previous matches against Oldham that he is a dangerous attacker who needs only half a chance to leave defenders behind on his way through to the line.

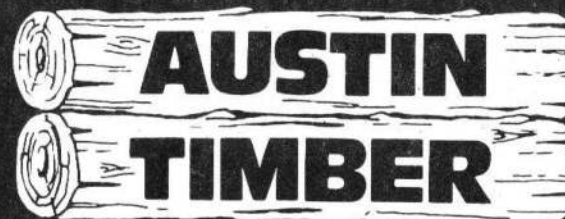

Up front, Leeds have a very mobile pack, built around men like Roy Dickinson, David Ward, Tony Burke, the Rayne twins and David Heron — all fast men, who should cope well with the new rules.

Others who could come into the running include John Carroll, Mark Massa, Kevin Squire, Wayne Herson, Russ Sowden, Andy MacIntosh and, of course, Kevin Dick.

Full back Paul Gill, alas, is still recovering from the serious leg injury he received against St. Helens in the Challenge Cup last February. He is making steady progress but will be sidelined for several months yet.

Continuing their policy of signing talented youngsters, Leeds also have a trio of teenagers whom they expect to see in the big time before long — second-row Roy Powell, full back David Healy and centre David Creassner.

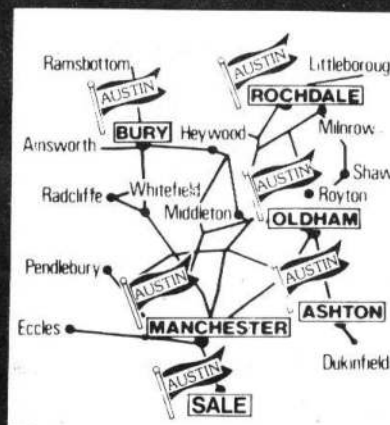

Last season Leeds won 15-8 at Watersheddings in the second match of the season (gate 3,136) but were lucky to snatch a 12-12 draw in the dying seconds of the return match at Headingley in January.

BEHIND THE WHISTLE — A. Givvons

WELL, here we are at the start of another season. Many important decisions regarding our game have been made and no doubt the knockers will be looking for excuses to raise objections and find faults.

The new international laws of the game have been approved to ensure as near as possible uniformity in interpretation of law, improved entertainment value, and a definite speeding up of play in certain areas.

A recent meeting between senior referees and coaches on these new laws resulted in a firm resolve to clearly interpret certain laws that have been allowed to lapse and thus cease confusion.

The seven changes in law have been well publicised and are:-

- 1) Four point try.
- 2) The sixth tackle.
- 3) Scrum head and ball.
- 4) Scrum feed.
- 5) Scrum formation.
- 6) Kick off.
- 7) Offside at play-the-ball.

These items can be discussed in future programmes. I think it important to highlight the points agreed with the coaches.

- a) At the sixth tackle the referee will blow his whistle and declare "sixth tackle" or "release the back". The tackled player must immediately place the ball on the ground. The opposing team will then pick up the ball and play it. If they fumble the ball before playing it they are allowed to pick the ball up (i.e. the ball is not in play until it is played). This play the ball is not included in the tackle count. If a player is deemed to deliberately knock on at the fifth tackle the referee will penalise him.
- b) At the play the ball a player can play to himself but must release the ball. The tackled player must be immediately released and shall not be touched until the ball is in play.
The tackled player shall without delay regain his feet, lift up the ball facing his opponents line drop or place the ball in front of his feet.
When the ball is on the ground it may be played by either player.
- c) "Held"
Wherever possible referees will insist that the tackled player is put to the ground. Shouting "held" will be kept to an absolute minimum.
- d) Forward Pass.
A referee will now give a penalty for a forward pass if in his opinion it was deliberate or if the catcher was in front of the passer.

On behalf of all the senior referees I would like to wish you all enjoyable rugby for 1983/84.

IN THE COLTS DRESSING ROOM

ANOTHER new season is already here. We will have played our first match of the season by the time you are reading these notes, but first I would like to just look back on last season which was very satisfying in as much as we finished 7th position in the league with a very young and inexperienced side, the highlights being our drawn game with Hull K.R. the giants of the Colts league and the defeat of Hunslet who finished up winning the Colts Challenge Cup. We were also delighted by the selection of Harry Mahero, Keith Atkinson for Gt. Britain and Lancashire, and also Nicky Marner and Ian Sanderson for Lancashire Colts.

I would also like to take this opportunity of welcoming teenage centre Phillip Morris to the club and also Paul Garnett who has signed on as an amateur. I am sure you will be hearing a lot more of these two players in the future.

Any players between 17 and 19 who would like to play for the Colts will be welcome for training Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 6.30 p.m.
