Club notes

This afternoon we welcome our friends from Watersheddings to Belle Vue for the first time since our league meeting in 1980-81.

There have been many changes at both clubs since then, not least in significance being the arrival at Oldham of Mick Morgan (who began his professional career with us and gave such great service to Trinity which deservedly earned him a Benefit before he moved on to York, Featherstone and Carlisle) and the return to Belle Vue of Derek Turner as coach. Derek reached Test status as loose-forward in his career with Oldham which covered the club's most successful days certainly in post-war times.

Both Trinity and Oldham have a great number of promising young players in their present ranks. Oldham, in fact, had five representatives in the recent 'Under 24' International side to prove how well their youth policy has been consolidated and there will be much interest in this afternoon's encounter.

19 year-old Des Foy was in the centre for the international against France, with Ray Ashton at scrum-half, whilst Andy Goodway (prop), Mick Worrell (second row) and former 'Under 24' Captain Terry Flanagan (loose-forward) held places in the pack.

Ray Ashton, who scored a hat trick of tries in the earlier 'Under 24' game at Villeneuve (where our own Colin Maskill made his representative debut) is currently the second highest try-scorer in the league with 15 crossings—only three behind leader John Basnett, of Widnes. That is a remarkable achievement for a scrum half, and a dramatic change in Ashton's scoring power for he registered only 8 in his 35 appearances for his club last season. However, no other Oldham player scored more for the club in that campaign and it was a total also achieved by prop Goodway and former Trinity hooker Alan McCurrie.

Mick Parrish, who joined Oldham from Hunslet, has proved his value with consistent goal-kicking. He landed 90 last season and in this current campaign has kicked 41.

Oldham's most recent signing is half-back Ian Birkby from Castleford who made his debut in the home win over Hull K.R. a fortnight ago.

Our visitors will find a number of new faces in our own line-up, not least a contingent of five Australians—Wally and Scott Lewis and Glen Worne in the backs, and Allan Burns and Brad Waugh up front.

Amongst the young players in our ranks which will be new to visiting fans are Colts captain Richard Kelly, scrum-half Michael Norton, prop Ian Hughes and second rower Paul Gearey who have all made an impact this season. Although only nineteen, Colin Maskill had already established himself as hooker in the previous campaign, whilst experienced players like Nigel Stephenson (now in the loose-forward position), Bryan Adams, Paul Coventry Harold Box, Roy Bratt and Billy Harris will need no introduction.

Injuries have recently robbed us of the services of wingers Andy Fletcher and Lyndsay Rotherforth (the latter, sadly out for the rest of the campaign) whilst the overall power and ability of Mike Lampkowski has been sorely missed from the pack all season. Happily, Mike is now well on the way back to fitness and everyone looks forward to seeing him make his first appearance of the campaign, possibly over the next few weeks.

HALF—YEARLY MEETING

Members should note that the Club's Half-Yearly Meeting will be held on Wednesday 11th January at 7.30 pm in the Belle Vue Sports and Social Club. Admission by member's season ticket.

OLDHAM'S SEARCH FOR SUCCESS

Oldham have had a "yo-yo" existence for most of the recent years of Two Divisional football. When the most recent split was made in 1973, Oldham were in the First Division having completed the 1972-7 One Divisional programme in 9th place.

A year later, however, they were relegated along with Leigh, Hull K.R. and Whitehaven having won 12 of their 30 games with 1 draw. They were unlucky to suffer relegation for no side has since dropped from Division One with a similar return of 25 competition points.

Oldham made an immediate return to the top division, winning 19 of their 32 games and managed to remain in Division One for two campaigns. They actually had a worse record in 1975-76 (11 wins and a draw) than when they were relegated, but a year later they finished at the foot of the table having managed only seven wins.

They failed to be promoted in 1977-8 (finishing 6th) and had a worse season to follow (ending in 9th place).

However, after those two campaigns in Division Two, the men in "Cherry and White" found the road back to the higher division. They ended their work immediately below Featherstone, and Halifax and earned promotion along with Barrow.

A year later Oldham again found themselves at the foot of Division One with only 7 victories and 2 draws to show for their season's work, and Working-ton Town, Salford and Halifax joined them back in Division Two.

Their reaction was remarkable. They lost only 2 of their 32 games of 1981-2 and took the Division Two Championship to emphatically earn promotion once again.

Frank Myler, now Great Britain's coach, was the man at the head of Oldham's coaching staff at that time and his influence on their dramatic change in fortune was considerable. He placed emphasis on a number of highly promising young players and these ideas have continued ever since.

Last season Oldham consolidated their higher status for the first time in recent seasons, finishing in 8th place. So far this season they have improved on that position and are currently in 6th position with a playing record showing 7 wins and 2 draws from 13 games played.

Myler, of course is no longer with them. Peter Smethurst took over the coaching post in April and he has an old-favourite with Belle Vue followers in Mick Morgan to assist him and help his ideas on the field of play.

Oldham have been in the wilderness as far as the game's major honours have been concerned for a long time. They have not won the R.L. Cup since 1926-27 and it is, of course, one of the game's great omissions that this club with its long and great traditions has never carried its colours into the Wembley Stadium.

Not since 1958-59 (when our present coach Derek Turner was a member of their highly talented and successful team) have they lifted the Lancashire Cup, and although they reached the 1966-67 and 1968-69 finals of that County competition, they have never Challenged the final destination of any other trophy since those great days of the 1950's.

With a sound base to work from, and with a highly talented bunch of young players developing all the time under the guidance of Smethurst and Mick Morgan, Oldham fans hope that the record books will be altered in the not too distant future.

For a club which first held the R.L. Cup back in 1899, and won it twice again in the 1920's and which has never contested the final for 57 years—everyone will echo those hopes.

Meanwhile, this afternoon we are delighted to welcome them to our ground in the knowledge that we shall enjoy an exciting game of rugby football.

It is our first meeting in league football since 1980-81 when we earned a 'double' over these men from Watersheddings with victories of 24-15 at Belle Vue and 15-13 at Oldham. A season later we defeated them here at Belle Vue by 18-12 in the Second Round of the R.L. Challenge Cup.

The hopes of everyone connected with our club will be for a continuance of that success over Oldham this after-

RESULTS IN DETAIL

Sunday 4th December at Belle Vue.

TRINITY 16 HULL 32

Goals: Maskill (4).

Tries: Gearey, S. Lewis.

Team: Kelly, Jones, S. Lewis/Worne, Coventry, Adams; W. Lewis, Norton; Bratt, Maskill, Waugh, Burns, Gearey/Box, Stephenson.

Attendance 8,179 (£12,200).

Sunday 11th December

WHITEHAVEN 10 TRINITY 38

Goals: Maskill 6, Stephenson 2 dg.

Tries: Burns, Stephenson, Kelly, Maskill, Gearey, Coventry.

Team: Kelly; Jones, S. Lewis, Coventry, Adams; W. Lewis, Norton; Hughes, Maskill, Waugh, Gearey, Burns, Stephenson.

The debut of Wally Lewis and his brother Scott, along with the visit by a Hull side giving a debut to Peter Sterling, brought a record Belle Vue attendance in First Division league games of 8,179.

The interest generated from this game can be shown from the fact that the attendance was more than 2,500 higher than the previous best attendance of the season here (for the County Cup clash with Castleford).

More important, however, is the sustaining of that increased interest and, following our side's emphatic victory in Cumbria last Sunday, alongside the exciting potential of the visit here by Oldham, we shall hope for an encouraging attendance figure this afternoon.

The RL scene

by J. C. Lindley

Mention has been frequently made in these columns of the lessons to be learned from Australia regarding various aspects of our game.

Amongst these has been the difference in emphasis on youth in Australia's International and State sides compared with our own representation selections.

However, it has been increasingly noticeable since the last Kangaroos tour and also following the successful B.A.R.L.A. tour to New Zealand, how many young players have been given their chance at senior level with clubs throughout the First and Second Divisions. There has been general satisfaction, also, with the way these young men have relished the challenge and, in so many cases, consolidated a regular place in their side.

At a great number of clubs, the financial situation has virtually dried up any activity in the transfer market and what signings have been possible have come from the amateur R.L. ranks and a club's own Colts nursery.

Whilst many clubs have long used a "youth policy", there has been a general reluctance in recent years to hurry players into senior football.

The Colts League, and that age-group's international set-up, have undoubtedly been good for the game but often this has meant players remaining within that age-group of competition far longer than their potential demanded.

At long last that age-old maxim of "if they are good enough, they are old enough" has again been used by the majority of clubs. Rugby is essentially a young man's game and often a youngster progresses far quicker and with improved skills at senior level alongside some experienced players than he does remaining within a restricted age group.

Throughout the league young players like Schofield, Divorty, Proctor, Crooks, Patrick (Hull), Lazenby, Clark (Hull K.R.), Banks, Fox (Featherstone), Conway, Creasser (Leeds), Marchant, England (Castleford), Hulme, Lydon, (Widnes), Duane (Warrington) and many, many more have benefitted from being given senior recognition at an early opportunity.

Here at Belle Vue we have many players between 19 and 23 years of age who have established themselves, and others showing promises to follow suit. Our to-day's visitors, Oldham, have a great number of young players who have formed the nucleus of the side which has brought long-awaited consistent success to Watersheddings and it is on these youngsters that Oldham's future now firmly rests.

It is very satisfying to see that Great Britain's selection for the forthcoming test against France continues a similar faith in youth. Whatever the outcome of that game, the belief is firm that such policy will continue when the 30-strong party to tour Australia this summer is announced.

The success, style of football, and commitment of Britain's "Under 24" side, as well as the individual performances of young players at club level, firmly suggest that this is the right path.

Nevertheless, it may well be worth very serious considering a lowering of the age group for the young internationals to "Under 21" as it was several years ago. After all, at 23 years of age or so, the majority of these players should be full internationals if the Australian policy is really made to work in the best interest of the English game at club level and on the individual scene.
