The John Player Special Trophy won by Leeds

Today we welcome. . .

ALAN TURNER

Returned to the Watersheddings after two years abroad, scoring two tries in the 32-10 victory over promoted Hunslet, has the ability to play anywhere in the backs.

GREEN VIGO

South African wing sensation who joined Wigan in 1973, producing his finest career display here at Headingley in their 1977 John Player victory — racing in for three memorable tries. A brief unsuccessful period at Swinton preceded his move to the Watersheddings. Scorer of 11 tries for the club in two years, including one at Workington a fortnight ago, 28 tries for Swinton and 85 for Wigan — seven in a 1976 Lancashire Cup Tie against St. Helens.

MICK PARRISH

Began his prolific League career joining New Hunslet from Morley R.U.F.C. in 1978, becoming the second Hunslet player to play and score in every game in a season in 1979-80 — following in Billy Langton's footsteps. Two seasons later he became the first player to achieve the feat with different clubs, scoring 17 tries and 164 goals in Oldham's promotion season. Scorer of 144 goals for Hunslet and over 450 for Oldham, in addition to being a hard hitting defender.

DES FOY

Former England Schools International who joined Widnes straight from school, in 1981. Scored just seven tries for the "Chemics" before moving to Oldham in exchange for Brian Hogan in 1982. His electrifying pace has brought him a further 18 tries for Oldham, in addition to earning him a place on last summer's Great Britain tour down under. After scoring a try from the centre position against France in Avignon, Foy was a surprise choice as stand off in the first Test against Australia, eight games on tour brought Foy five tries.

MICK TAYLOR

Joined Oldham from Britannia Works A.R.L.F.C. in 1982, and made a try scoring impact from the wing almost immediately. His 11 tries for the club include two against Leeds on the opening day of last season.

JIMMY HORNBY

A free transfer signing after giving loyal and often brilliant service to Wigan for 10 years. An Under-24 international, in 1976, he scored five tries last term adding to the 87 scored for Wigan, many of which came at the expense of Leeds sides. Fast and elusive, Hornby is an outstanding finisher.

IAN BIRKBY

A Colts international produced by Castleford. Ian joined Oldham after a loan period in which he displayed all his brilliant attacking skills. Equally at home in either half back role, Birkby is a veritable "box of tricks" and fits in well in the young and talented Oldham team. Scored three tries and a drop goal last season, adding to 13 for Castleford in five erratic seasons.

RAY ASHTON

Another of Oldham's five tourists, and a Colts product of their 1980 season. Graduated to gain international honours at Colts, Under-24 and full levels. Can play stand off or scrum half and has been a consistent try scorer for the club, totalling 59 in just five years, in addition to 17 drop goals. Ray scored one try on tour in seven appearances.

PADDY KIRWAN

A contemporary of Ashton's and a player to have returned to Oldham after a loan spell at Leigh. Another member of that fine Colts side of 1980, and scorer of 16 tries for the club, plus two for the Leigh club.

WALLY JONES

A much under-rated prop signing from Rochdale Hornets, and another player to force his way into international reckoning. Hard working and forceful with vast experience, he was a try scorer in Oldham's 12-12 draw at Headingley in January 1983, having scored just three tries in a lengthy period with Hornets.

ALAN McCURRIE

Originally with Whitehaven, the all action McCurrie shot to prominence with his try scoring prowess (24 in three seasons), before joining Wakefield in time for their march to Wembley in 1979. He continued to score frequently for Trinity, 28 times, in addition to be a shrewd drop goal exponent and a wily broken play kicker. Unlucky not to have added Test representation to his Cumbrian caps, for he is one of the fastest strikers around. 16 tries for Oldham.

ANDY GOODWAY

Thirteen tour appearances brought five tries for probably the outstanding forward in British League today, Andy enjoyed a magnificent tour of Australasia. He was, consistently, the one forward to trouble Australia in Test football, and he seems certain to join Manly for 1985. His seven Tests on tour added to his three previous caps, when he scored a try for Britain in the win at Avignon. His barnstorming running and powerful hand-off have brought him 22 tries for the club he joined from Redhill, near Castleford. Was the subject of massive transfer bids by Hull a year ago. Prop or second row.

MICK MORGAN

After 10 years with Wakefield Trinity, Mick has seen service with York, Featherstone, Carlisle and finally Oldham, representing England in the 1975 World Cup competition — his benefit season. Player-coach at Carlisle in 1982, he succeeded Allan Agar after breaking the world try scoring record for a prop with 25 touchdowns, taking the "Man of Steel" and Division Two "Player of the Year" awards.

MICK WORRALL

Giant second row forward who toured down under last summer earning two Test appearances against Australia — one as a loose forward. Scored a brilliant try here at Headingley in January, one of nine last term and 18 in four seasons. Mick is also a useful stand-in goalkicker having landed 13 for Oldham. Brother of Warrington prop Tony. Injury ended Mick's tour early after just eight appearances (one try).

TOM NAIDOLE

A strapping, powerful forward released by Wigan in 1983. Proved a bargain acquisition for Oldham last term, although he started 1984-85 badly by being dismissed at Workington a fortnight ago.

TERRY FLANAGAN

Ten tour appearances, two tries. This one-club man was Oldham's fifth summer tourist, earning caps against New Zealand to add to those earned against France, and honours at Colts and Under-24 level. One of the shrewdest ball handling forwards in the country, he revelled in the non-Test games on tour, particularly on hard grounds. Captain of Oldham and scorer of 30 tries since his 1978 debut.

ALAN PLATT

An outstanding second rower and kicker with Colts international honours. Happily overcame the broken leg sustained at Hull K.R. a year ago, scoring a try against Hunslet recently. Eight tries and 15 goals for the club in five seasons.

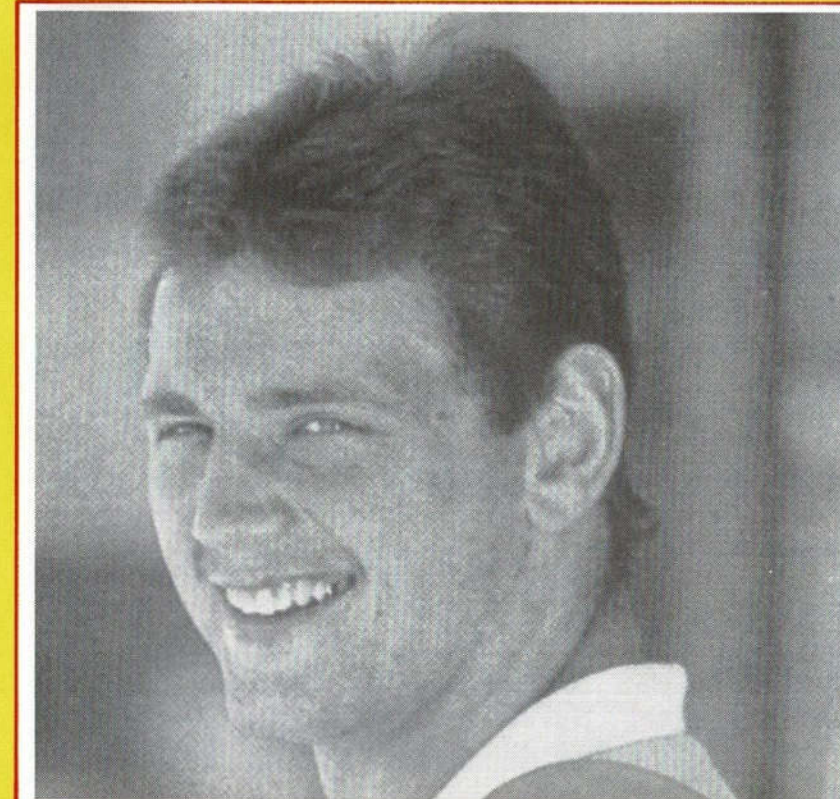

PAUL LOWNDES

Stocky Colts international. A powerful runner, he was very much in evidence last January at Headingley. Paul scored his first tries for Oldham in 1983-84, against Featherstone and Warrington.

PAUL SHERMAN

Up-and-coming young forward who scored a try at Workington recently, his second for Oldham, having scored in the cup last season against Huyton.

LEEDS 2 v ST. HELENS 21

After the heartwarming start to the Division One campaign at Hilton Park, it was a bitter disappointment to begin the Headingley campaign with inglorious defeat at the hands of a far superior St. Helens side. Inspired by new captain Peters, Saints' pack contained the outstanding Andy Platt who repeatedly tore gaps in the Leeds defence. Only rarely did Leeds breach a strong visiting defence, with Webb, Creasser and Conway combining for the best first-half raid, but it was St. Helens who took the lead when Round powered over for a converted try. From that moment Saints seemed assured of their first League victory at Headingley since 1977, as they visibly grew in confidence while Leeds were guilty of numerous handling errors. Platt's reward finally came with a fully deserved try early in the second half, and although Creasser's penalty goal reduced arrears to 12—2 Billy Benyon's men sealed victory when Ledger, surely a future international, took his chance brilliantly to ensure a 21—2 victory for St. Helens. For Leeds only Terry Webb found any sort of form, tackling heroically, kicking intelligently and attempting to organise a disjointed unit. Injuries to Squire and Dickinson did not help Leeds' cause but there can be no excuses for a defeat which disappointed everyone at the club.

Top Tackle Count TERRY WEBB 25

ST. HELENS "A" 22 v LEEDS "A" 14

The new Alliance League took Leeds Reserves to Knowsley Road for the first time in 25 years and after an impressive opening game win over Castleford, Drew Broatch's men contributed to an exciting contest before going down to a more experienced Saints outfit. The home side took a tenth minute lead when Gelling forced his way over after McIntyre had been well stopped by Sykes, Welsh international Griffiths converting. Powell, Gunn and Wilson took Leeds back before Crooks failed with a simple penalty attempt, and then Saints appeared to take a stranglehold on affairs when winger McIntyre took Seabrook's long pass for a simple try at the corner. To their credit Leeds hit back immediately for Healy to join the line decisively for Powell to scatter three defenders on his way to the line. Crooks landed a fine conversion, but failed with a penalty to leave Leeds 10—6 in arrears at half-time. Within eight minutes of the re-start Crooks made it 10—8, and then Sowden and Gunn brilliantly opened Saints' defence for Powell to score a second try and give Leeds their first lead at 14—10. Experienced half back Smith was a major influence, however, and his long pass gave the impressive Forber a try, before hooker Nulty bored over for the game-breaking try, although Owen and Powell narrowly failed to bring Leeds a late reward. Forwards Hill, Owen and Gunn tackled manfully throughout, Healy was a fine full back, but the loss of Sykes at half-time left the pack short of vital weight.

IAN POCTER

CASTLEFORD 14 v LEEDS 16

16th September, 1984

Leeds had debutant Roy Powell in the second row for the start of this first round Yorkshire Cup Tie. They were put immediately under pressure by a lively Castleford side and, when Webb kicked straight into touch on only the fourth tackle, they remained locked in their own 25. A chance to break out was lost when Creasser made a half break, only for Smith to drop the pass. It took good tackles by Wilkinson and Powell to stop likely looking breaks by Joyner and Robert Beardmore and, as exchanges hotted up in an unpleasant way, Kevin Rayne needed attention from the physio. Andy Smith needed attention too after getting the worst of a scrap with Kevin James.

After being on the defensive for almost all the first quarter, Leeds scored the first try of the match in their first real attack. David Heron made a superb break down the middle and linked with Heselwood whose inside pass went to Neil Hague. Our stand off raced to the posts and Creasser's goal kick was a formality.

Joyner was replaced by Hyde who immediately flattened Heron on the restart. Webb was penalised for holding the lively England in the tackle but Robert Beardmore missed the easy penalty shot as Kevin Rayne left the field with an arm injury to be replaced by the second Leeds debutant, Phil Owen. As Castleford pressed again, there was a kick and chase by Gary Hyde. He was obstructed and this time Beardmore kicked the easy goal. Hereabouts the field seemed littered with injured players and Castleford contrived to press. A fly-kick by Conway brought some relief and when Castleford were caught off-side 30 yards out, Creasser kicked the goal to make it 8—2.

As the half came to an end Leeds had a good chance on the left, but the overlap was lost when Powell dropped a high pass. Despite being under so much pressure for much of the time, Leeds were worthy leaders at half-time. It had been a real cup-tie under the hot sun which incidentally led to the unpleasant sight of four young girls in the band passing out in quick succession.

At the start of the second half, "Cas" brought on giant Australian forward Nigel Wilson for Kevin Ward. Powell's hard tackling continued to cause the home team concern, often causing them to lose the ball and his hard, firm tackle laid out Coen in Castleford's first raid. A high Robert Beardmore kick caused concern for Leeds and it was a high kick by Finch on the left wing, which he re-gathered, that led to him scoring the first try for Castleford. Beardmore's goal made it 8—8. This was a bad try for Leeds to concede but they came straight back. An off-side penalty was awarded against Castleford prop Connell, and Creasser's touchline penalty gave us the lead back at 10—8.

There was an unusual penalty awarded against Leeds for anticipating a kick up the field and then there was long treatment on the field for Robert Beardmore who eventually had to retire with Coen switching to scrum half. When Leeds broke out Hague was penalised for a non-existent knock-on and then there was great disappointment for the sizeable Leeds following. A superb sweeping move ended with an inside pass from Creasser to Hague but the try was disallowed for an obstruction who no-one except Mr. Lindop saw.

Justice was done soon afterwards when Conway put in a high kick. It was fumbled under the Castleford posts and gathered by David Ward who sent the supporting Heselwood unopposed under the posts. Creasser's goal made it, deservedly, 16—8 to Leeds after 62 minutes.

Leeds were now clearly in control and Conway was beginning to buzz. A high kick by David Ward caused more confusion in the home team's ranks and the Leeds captain, who had put in a fine tackling lead throughout, was on hand to stop a fine break by his opposite number, Kevin Beardmore, with an interception. As Leeds pressed again Owen dropped a pass following a half break by Conway and soon afterwards Leeds came again with a break by Wilkinson. He linked with Smith, but the latter's inside pass to Creasser was forward.

In the dying stages another try came to Finch following his own kick. He converted it to make the final score 16—14 but it was never as close as that. It was a much better display by Leeds with almost every man playing better than he had against St. Helens. Pride of place must however go to Owen and particularly Powell for their fine displays. Let's hope some of this away form can be reproduced at Headingley.

Top Tackle Count — TERRY WEBB 35

LEEDS "A" 12 v YORK "A" 19

The performance of our second string in this Alliance clash last weekend was horribly reminiscent of that given by the Firsts the previous Sunday. They certainly missed the promoted Owen and Powell and there was little inspiration in the back division apart from Ingham who ran dangerously and tackled well despite being starved of the ball.

Inspiration for York was provided by lively half backs Rhodes and Dobson together with loose forward Colley who scored the first try of the match. After a lovely delayed pass by Gunn nearly put in Mark Wilson, second row forward Turner crossed on the left and Crooks' goal made it 6—5 to Leeds. They were never as close again however and York were in control at 19—6, before Gunn scored the try of the match in the dying stages running off a pass from Sowden. It was a disappointing performance by the home side but doubtless they will soon be fielding much stronger sides than this and some sides will be in for a thrashing.

COUNTY CUP

A cup competition win at Castleford for visitors is not a result which occurs too frequently for the Wheldon Road side win most of the Cup and indeed League games on their own ground and more often than not they are not an easy side to defeat wherever they play in any of Rugby League's various cup competitions. Congratulations go to the Leeds players then who did so well there to achieve that fine first round Philips Video Yorkshire Cup success last Sunday, and though next round's draw brings a very hard task, to win at Bradford, a repeat of last week's solid teamwork should be enough for Leeds to progress.

WELCOME

We welcome to Headingley all our overseas players — some returning, some here for the first time — who arrived in Leeds this week. They are Trevor Clark, Rick Lulham, Tony Currie, Gavin Jones and Trevor Paterson, and we wish them all a very happy and successful period in the Leeds colours. Players from Australia and New Zealand have always been very well received at Headingley and there will be no difference in the warm and friendly reception given to this latest group of a long line of players from Australasia who have enjoyed success and added rich colour to our club's teams over the years.

CURTAIN RAISER

Today's curtain raiser is the second semi-final of the Wynne "Sevens" Trophy, between Armley Middle School (in green) and Holt Park Middle School (in red, white and black). The winners will meet Allerton Grange, who beat Bramley C. of E. in the first semi-final by 12-6. In the past, the finalists in the competition have gone on to represent Leeds in the Under-13 English Schools' Sevens later in the season.

SUPPORTERS' CLUB NOTES

May we welcome officials and members of the Oldham Supporters' Club to today's match. No doubt after their shock exit from the Lancashire Cup they will hope to see their team back on the winning track, though we trust not at our expense. For supporters wishing to travel to Wigan on Sunday next, a coach will depart from the Social Club at 12.45 p.m., fare £3.25. Booking for this can be made after today's match at the Supporters' Shop at the rear of the South Stand or telephone Mr. M. Billington any evening on Leeds 712617. Please book early.

Neil Hague benefit year is now in its final stages. A second and final collection will take place at the Widnes game on Sunday, 7th October. Volunteers are asked to report to Mrs. D. Hall or Mr. H. Falingham from 2.00 p.m. onwards at the Pools Office, St. Michael's Lane entrance.

Finally best wishes to Maurice and the team at Odsal. Could it be another nail biter?

Season by Season a History of Leeds R.L.F.C.

SEASON 1960-61

At long last, the title of Champions for Leeds at the end of a season in which they also won the Yorkshire League title and headed the League table for the first time in their history.

After struggling to the semi-final of the Yorkshire Cup, needing two games to dispose of Dewsbury, Leeds lost at Headingley to Huddersfield who were beaten in a fine final by Wakefield at Headingley. Our League form was never consistent though we led the table up to Boxing Day when Wakefield won convincingly at Headingley before a 30,000 crowd.

In the Challenge Cup, we were a trifle unlucky to be held to a 5-5 draw by the mighty Wigan before an all-ticket crowd of 32,000 at Headingley. In the replay, however, there was no argument, 32-7 to Wigan before 40,000 at Central Park. Ten successive League wins ended in defeat at Fartown but then five more victories secured that top spot.

Few expected Leeds to triumph in the top four play-off against the Lancashire giants, but St. Helens fell 11-4 thanks to two tries by Rosenberg which took his total to 44 — a post war record for Leeds.

In the Championship Final at Odsal a crowd of 52,300 (30,000 down on the previous year — those were the days) saw Leeds thrash Warrington 25-10 with two tries for Hallas and one each for Evans, Fairbank and Jones. Simms bossed the scrums and Leeds were worthy Champions.

TERRY WEBB

Player Profile

Signing a three year contract with Leeds was just about the highest compliment Terry Webb could pay the club, for the 24 year old rarely stays in the same place for long, having starred in club sides in three different countries.

His contentment with Leeds is reflected in his devastating early season form, which has seen him amass 86 tackles in the opening three matches, in addition to his normal passing, kicking and supporting game. In tying himself to the club for three years Webb virtually eliminates the possibility of his adding further representative honours to the Brisbane selections he gained in 1979, and denies himself further appearances for the Redcliffe club, with whom he enjoyed a particularly impressive spell during the summer — scoring 18 points against champions Easts and skipping the "Dolphins" in his farewell appearance opposite Wally Lewis' Wynnum-Manly.

"I've no regrets at all about signing for Leeds", says Terry, "and if things go well I may be here longer than three years — though I don't anticipate receiving a benefit! Hopefully we'll continue to add to the success gained in the John Player Trophy last year, a career highspot for me having been in two losing Redcliffe sides in the Brisbane Grand Final. Losing in the cup semi-final to Widnes was a blow, but to be frank I was unaware of the unrivalled Wembley atmosphere until I saw the Widnes—Wigan final on television. The occasion certainly brings a lump to the throat and it's easy to understand why every player wants to play there. Wigan's Mark Cannon and Wayne Elvin told me that the atmosphere is indescribable".

"I enjoyed my brief summer spell with Redcliffe, particularly as they had an injury crisis at the time, and playing alongside Test men Fullerton-Smith, Niebling and my younger brother Mick, but to be honest I never envisaged gaining Queensland or Australian selection, much as I would love to wear these jumpers. Therefore re-signing for Leeds was no sacrifice whatsoever. I think representative selectors tend to go for "specialist" forwards rather than play anywhere types."

Certainly Webb has demonstrated his versatility to Leeds fans, appearing in every pack position, preferring the loose forward role and being amazed at being able to prop in England whilst under 13 stones, and his fine support play brought him 10 touchdowns and 24 appearances in his debut season.

"The big difference between British and Australian League is undoubtedly the tackling. Down under the defenders hit hard with the shoulder all the time and that's one of the reasons why forwards don't last nearly as long. Over here there's much more appreciation for attacking play — for instance, almost every prop in England can turn and unload, whereas in Australia props tend simply to run and hit hard," he says.

With so many natural attributes, Leeds supporters may be surprised to learn that Webb has one further skill still to be revealed at Headingley — goalkicking. In Australia he is regarded as one of the surest marksmen on the Brisbane circuit, yet he has not kicked for Leeds. Why?

"David Creasser, Kevin Dick or Mark Conway have always been in the team so there's been no need, and anyway the footballs are different to in Australia so I may lack a little confidence. If there's a crisis I'd be happy to take over and that applies also to the captaincy. I enjoy being skipper".

Shortly Wally Fullerton-Smith will team up with his Redcliffe colleague Webb, and the pair will no doubt recall their four month stint with Tonneins, in France during 1981-82. "It was a fabulous period" says popular Webb. "The club had lost five straight games when we arrived and then we won ten and drew one so we were treated like heroes".

Sounds similar to the Headingley story last season. Some players have the Midas touch — Terry Webb is one of them, as he has proved for Redcliffe, Tonneins and Leeds.

AMATEURS IN YORKSHIRE SENIOR COMPETITION CHALLENGE CUP

Two top amateur teams are to take part in the Yorkshire Senior Competition Challenge Cup, one of the top tournaments in "A" Team football. The leading Yorkshire amateur sides Redhill (Castleford) and Heworth (York) have been nominated by the B.A.R.L.A. Executive Committee, less than a fortnight since the announcement that amateur counterparts Dudley Hill and Mysons are to take part in the John Player Special Trophy competition.

The Yorkshire Senior Competition Challenge Cup is contested by the 14 "A" Teams in Yorkshire and Redhill and Heworth were selected as West Yorkshire League Premier Division Champions and Yorkshire League Premier Division Champions respectively.

Both clubs have received home draws with Redhill being drawn at home to one of the strongest teams in recent years, Hull K.R. whilst Heworth will entertain last season's beaten finalists, Hunslet.

RUGBY ROUNDS

SLALOM LAGER DIVISION ONE

Possibly the pick of this afternoon's Division One fixture list is the local Derby between Leigh and Wigan, at Hilton Park, with John Wood's side attempting to build on his side's comfortable victory over Hunslet. Leigh completed the double over their arch-rivals in two free-scoring meetings last season. Halifax have made a fine return to the top sphere, culminating in their John Carroll inspired success over Castleford, and they will be favourites to earn further points at the expense of struggling Workington today. The Cumbrians have already conceded 90 points in two games and were victims of Andy Dickinson's hat-trick display last term. Mighty Widnes visit Elland Road today in a repeat of the 1934 Cup Final and Hunslet will be hoping for a similar result after conceding 117 points in their three League games, while Widnes seek to erase the memory of their recent defeat at Oldham. Hunslet's last victory against the "Chemicals" was ten years ago in a 1974 Floodlit Trophy tie. Another cup final repeat takes place at Barrow where 1967 Wembley opponents Featherstone are the visitors. A close duel is likely with Rovers seeking their first victory on the ground since 1980, after failing to win in their last eight away fixtures. Hull K.R. and St. Helens both take unbeaten records into their clash at Craven Park, with the Robins looking to repeat their Premiership semi-final victory of last May, as Saints look for a first victory at the ground for five years. Hull too, have a stiff task at Wilderspool against a Warrington side who took three points off them to rob them of the crown last season, and seek their first League points under Reg Bowden. The Bradford—Castleford clash brings together the 1982 Yorkshire Cup Finalists and some of the finest individual talents in the game. Castleford drew at Odsal last season, winning there in a Yorkshire Cup Tie, but their ability to do so again revolves around their stifling of eight try Ellery Hanley, now the finest individual talent in the country.

Newcomers Mansfield meet Carlisle at Field Mill in a clash of two unbeaten sides, with ex-Leeds man Des Armitage lining up for the marksmen against his former colleagues. Home advantage could sway the issue for Mick Blacker's men. Fulham, unable to play at Crystal Palace until October, travel once again to Swinton, for the second successive week, to face another of the Second Division pacemakers. The "Lions" seem capable of promotion this time, while Fulham have lost a number of key players. Unbeaten Bramley, fresh from a fine victory at Southend, take another long haul to Whitehaven, where they last won in 1980, to face another of Division Two's unbeaten outfits, while Sheffield play their third home game against former glamour side Salford.

PREVIEW

Keighley meet perennial strugglers Doncaster at Lawkholme in their best opportunity of ending the dismal spell, but they will remember Doncaster's 30—0 win over them last year. Bridgend's crowd potential will be tested against Dewsbury, after the encouraging return against Swinton, Batley get the opportunity to dent York's winning start to the campaign at Mount Pleasant and Rochdale meet Runcorn, two sides looking for first victories. Wakefield, struggling to come to terms with Second Division football following their sad relegation last season, make the longest journey to Southend, who, after taking over from Kent Invicta, have found life equally tough. The arrival of their Australian contingent should increase attendances at Roots Hall.

MAKING A SPLASH FOR THE NEW SEASON

New Rugby League Personality Girl Val Moss and Miss Slalom Lager Collette Caton help send the new Slalom Lager Championship Season off with a splash.

The 1984-85 Slalom Lager Season is highlighted by a £90,000 sponsorship investment from which £13,000 will be handed to the Slalom Lager champions, £9,000 to the Second Division leaders and £8,000 to the winners of the Slalom Lager Premiership. The remaining £60,000 is to be invested in the League's Capital Development Fund for ground improvements.

Val, a 22 year old Blackpool model and beauty queen, is the League's sixth Personality Girl, and will be undertaking modelling and promotional duties around the Rugby League scene during the season, including the Sunday Mirror Road Shows.

23	OLDHAM (H)	Rothmans Rugby League Yearbook 1984-85 Rugby League clubs have made more than 200 First Team coaching appointments during the past decade involving over 130 individual coaches. The fourth edition of the best selling Rothmans Rugby League Yearbook reveals that during the last 10 years, Huddersfield have employed the most coaches, 12 — while, of the established clubs, Barrow, Castleford, Hull and Huyton have made only two appointments. The longest serving coach with the same club is Castleford's Malcolm Reilly, dating back to December 1974, Maurice Bamford having made the most moves with six First Team posts, at Dewsbury, Halifax, Huddersfield, Wigan, Bramley and Leeds. A unique analysis of the coaching scene during the past decade features a club-by-club register of coaches, an index of coaching personnel and a dossier of the playing and coaching careers of coaches in service during the 1983-84 season. Among a host of new material in the 13-a-side code's most authoritative publication is a review of rule changes since the historic breakaway in 1895, spotlighting the evolution of the play-the-ball and scrums, which have been reduced from more than 70 per game in the 1940's to only 15 last season. The 416 page Yearbook details clubs' disciplinary records for the first time including a five year review. Last season, 137 First Team players were sent off, Doncaster topping the dismissal chart with 10, while Keighley, Leeds and Swinton kept a clean record. Once again compiled by Raymond Fletcher, of the Yorkshire Post, and Rugby League P.R.O. David Howes, the fact-filled annual features many new statistical compilations, highlighted by leading scorers since 1895; Challenge Cup Semi-Finals in the Wembley era; attendances of 20,000 plus during the past decade; and the League's expanding sponsorship programme. The most comprehensive review of the 1983-84 season provides the popular club-by-club match analysis and players' summaries, which for the first time, include substitute appearances. The historic tour of Britain by Australian State Champions Queensland is fully chronicled. A detailed survey of the transfer scene lists the 71 registered overseas players, 21 of them Test stars, and reveals that while 145 players were recruited from the amateur ranks, Rugby Union converts were down to only four. The 13-a-side code's number one publication encompasses full details of the 1983-84 League campaign, cup competitions, records, international matches, awards, attendances, "A" Team and Colts results and referees, and looks ahead with a week-by-week display of the 1984-85 fixtures for the Slalom Lager Championship and the Second Division. Illustrated with more than 100 photographs, the 1984-85 Rothmans Rugby League Yearbook is published by Rothmans Publications and Queen Anne Press on 20th September, priced £7.95, and is available from bookshops or The Rugby Football League, 180 Chapeltown Road, Leeds LS7 4HT, plus £1.00 postage and packing.
