

WE'VE GOT THE TOUGHEST TEAM IN EUROPE

They make 'em tough in Oldham.
Trucks that tackle the opposition head on and beat them hollow on our home ground.

Because they're specifically designed for British conditions: the mud and the slush, the hills and the motorways, the rules and the regulations.

That's why you'll see the Big A out in front in all sorts of tricky situations.

WATERSHEDDINGS SURVEY

OUR first-round Silk Cut Challenge Cup victory over Carlisle at Boundary Park earned us a second-round tilt at our First Division rivals Warrington and the match is now taking place after uncertainty during the week caused by the ice-age weather.

On the day of the second-round draw the Oldham-Warrington tie was selected by the Rugby League and the BBC for screening which meant that it was fixed for the Saturday, with a 2.15pm kick-off.

Even at that early stage the Oldham club made it clear to the League and the BBC that it would not consider a switch to Boundary Park on this occasion in the event of it looking likely that Watersheddings would be unfit.

We have now played four times at Boundary Park in the last four years, starting with a Second Division match against Batley in our Second Division championship campaign of 1981-2.

The second occasion was in the first round of the Challenge Cup last season when we took the clash with Castleford to the soccer ground and, sadly, produced a disappointing display as the Yorkshiremen swept through to round two in convincing style.

This season, we played our first-round Silk Cut Challenge Cup tie against Carlisle on the other side of town and the following week we switched our home league fixture with Halifax in similar fashion.

We feel there are many advantages in going to Boundary Park in the winter, but there are also considerable disadvantages, not least the financial one. We feel that each case has to be considered on its merits and that we cannot generalise.

In the case of this tight and finely-balanced cup-tie with Warrington the view of the committee and manager Frank Myler was that we should stay put here at Watersheddings and take our chance with the weather, like most other teams have to do.

At the time we were earmarked for TV, the forecast was that a thaw would set in several days before the tie was due to take place.

We told the authorities we would not consider going to Boundary Park but that we would do all in our power to get the game on here at Watersheddings with use of straw etc. once the temperature began to rise and the ground started to soften.

Unfortunately, the forecast thaw never did come and by Tuesday on the week of the tie extreme concern was being expressed about our pitch being ready in time for the presence of the cameras on the Saturday.

We were involved with talks with the Rugby League public relations man David Howes and we had to reluctantly admit that match prospects were beginning to look bleak.

The matter was then out of our hands and the powers-that-be made alternative arrangements to ensure that a TV game would be played on the Saturday. In the circumstances that was fair enough. Really, it would have been inadvisable to do anything other than that when considering our geographical position and the sort of weather we get here on the edge of the Pennines.

Later, it was announced that the League had rearranged the outstanding first-round tie between Bradford Northern and Wakefield to take place on the heated pitch at Headingley on the Saturday.

This not only ensured a match going on for TV but, with Odsal also frostbound, enabled the League to get a first-round tie out of the way to try and help in easing the chaos that the wintry blast has caused with both cup and league fixtures.

Thus it was that we were able to revert back to the Sunday for our tie with Warrington, and it will have been interesting to see whether the extra day will have allowed the match to go on.

In our most recent game at Halifax we were well beaten 14-19 by the better side on the day. We did well to restrict Halifax to a five-point half-time lead after they had first use of the slope and gale, but in the second half we never made use of the conditions and it was only in the closing stages that we began to play the sort of rugby we are capable of and that helped us to so much success before Christmas.

As a result of this, manager Frank Myler and the players had a pre-cup tactical talk-in at Parkfield Hotel on Monday night. The players relaxed over a sauna and a dip in the pool and then it was down to the serious business of plotting a better type of attacking game for today's cup-tie.

WELCOME FOR WIRES

THE scene is set for a thrilling second-round Silk Cut Challenge Cup-tie today judging by the two First Division clashes involving Oldham and Warrington this season.

At Watersheddings early on in the campaign, Wires surged ahead into an early 12-0 lead in a match which marked the Oldham debuts of two of our Aussies, Mal Graham and Gary Warnecke.

Oldham, at that stage, were still seeking their first league win, yet they stormed back to take control and win in a triumph that was to spark off that memorable run of 11 First Division matches without defeat.

The return clash at Wilderspool three weeks ago was a hard-fought encounter which Warrington won 8-4 thanks to a last minute try by centre Paul Cullen.

It was created by a long pass from Aussie stand-off Phil Blake, who will not be on view today because he has been summoned back to Sydney by his Aussie club boss Bobby Fulton.

In view of today's tie, Warrington manager Reg Bowden immediately contacted Sydney in the hope of obtaining an extension to 22-try Blake's stay at Wilderspool, but it was turned down, so Wires will have to manage for the rest of the season without the First Division's leading try scorer.

Be it at stand-off or centre, Blake has been a constant source of trouble for opposing defences all season, so he is clearly going to be sorely missed at Wilderspool.

Oldham will also be without an Aussie star — namely David Liddiard. After his dismissal at Warrington, David received a two-match suspension by the RL disciplinary committee. He missed last Sunday's game with Halifax at Boundary Park and will also sit out today's cup-tie: a bad blow for Oldham in view of the form he displayed when scoring four tries in the first round win over Carlisle.

Both teams, therefore, will be without a key man in their backs, but both have capable deputies in Hussein M'Barki (Oldham) and veteran Ken Kelly (Warrington), always providing Kelly has recovered from a hand injury which kept him out of the clash at Wilderspool.

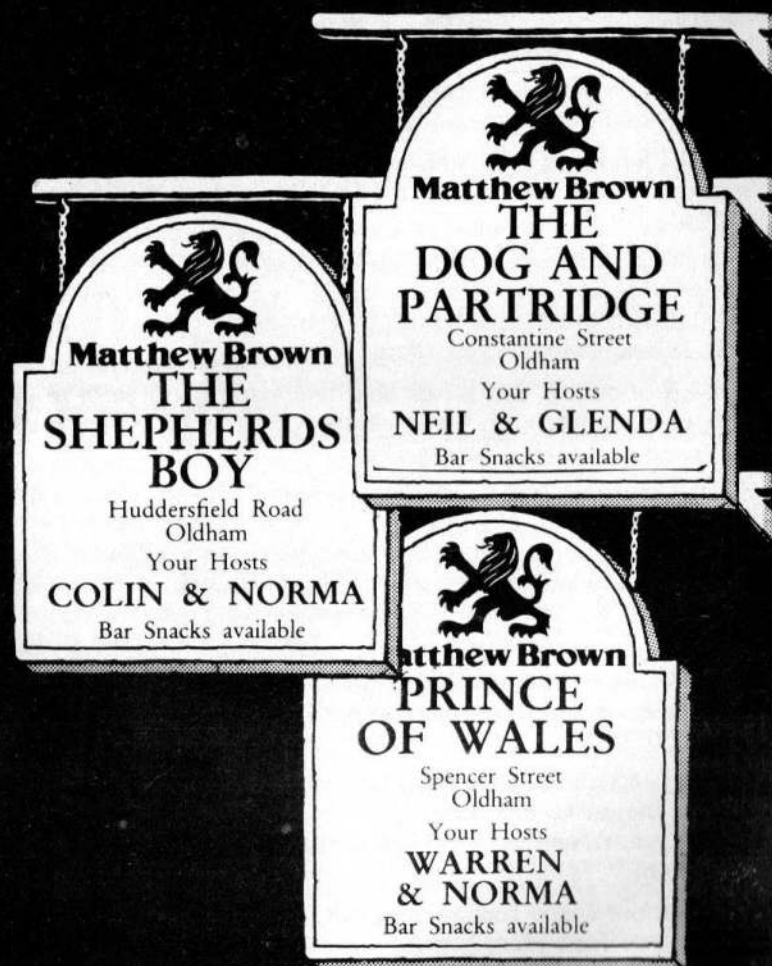

On that occasion, Warrington were minus players such as Bob Eccles, Tony Worrall, Carl Webb, Steve Hesford, Ronnie Duane, Ken Kelly (all injured) and Mark Forster and Brian Carbert, who were on Great Britain under-21 duty against the French at Whitehaven.

Oldham were without David Topliss, tragically hurt in a road accident, David Finch, Mike Taylor, and Terry Flanagan.

BRIAN BATTY Daily Mail

Australia's decision to hand Don Furner the international coaching job has ended speculation surrounding the successor to the ill-fated Terry Fearnley.

Furner, who has done a great job with the fast rising Sydney League side Canberra Raiders, is a former Australian Test forward.

He regards his elevation to the position of national team coach as the ultimate honour and certainly appreciates that he is in for a very demanding 12 months.

'This is a wonderful challenge for me and one that I've always dreamed of but I know it will be far from easy,' says Furner.

With Frank Stanton sticking to his decision to make a clean break from international coaching to concentrate on Balmain's future it was inevitable that Australia would go for a new man.

Terry Fearnley got a lousy deal in certain quarters from many people after the last Australia-New Zealand series and announced he was not interested in carrying on even if he was asked.

But it is not going to be easy for Furner with Australia going through a similar rebuilding phase as we are in this country.

The Aussies tangle with New Zealand in the Tasman series this summer and that is going to be a most fascinating contest for the Kiwis have also lost several of their most experienced stars.

At least this series gives the Australian selectors the ideal opportunity to assess the form and ability of the players bidding for Kangaroos tour places next autumn.

The Aussies will be coming over here with mostly new faces and only a few of their record breaking 1982 squad.

But they have to maintain such high standards in Sydney football that they should have plenty of depth to choose from and I am sure we will have some new stars emerging on this coming tour.

If we get a series to match the recent one against New Zealand then we will do well but in the meantime Britain have their own talent recruiting campaign to complete.

Warrington expect to have Kelly back today at stand-off as well as under-21 internationals Forster and Carbert.

Despite Blake's return home, the Wires still have a large overseas contingent in Aussie full-back Brian Jonstone and forwards Bob Jackson, Les Boyd and Kevin Tamati.

The back division is a strong one in which choice can be made of veteran John Bevan, Rick Thackray and Brian Carbert for the wings, Paul Cullen, Mark Forster, and Barry Peters for the centres.

For much of the season Blake played at centre with Ken Kelly at No.6, while Andy Gregory makes the scrum-half berth his own despite a strong challenge from the youthful and highly-promising Paul Bishop, son of Tommy and brother of Gary, who is on our transfer list.

A large share of Warrington's strength lies in the forwards where, at strength, they can field men of the calibre of Boyd and Tamati at prop and Alan Rathbone at loose-forward.

Rathbone was under suspension for the game at Wilderspool where the loose-forward job was filled capably by Billy McGinty.

A front-row of Boyd, Hodson and Tamati is a handful for any side, while the second-row of Jackson and former Shaw lad Mark Roberts is a nice blend of defensive stability and attacking flair.

Throw in Rathbone at the back and you have a set of forwards that compare with most in the league.
