FROM the BOARDROOM

by CHAIRMAN JAMES QUINN

As a priority for next season, we must make sure we have adequate training facilities for the winter months. Ever since I can remember our form has slipped a little from about the middle of November and I have no hesitation at all in concluding that it has a lot to do with the rough weather we invariably get at Watersheddings and the shortage of good training facilities in the club and around the town.

No, I haven't forgotten that we sold our training pitch. That was a necessity to ease our financial crisis. It doesn't help our training problems, I know, but to be honest it wouldn't have mattered if we had had half a dozen training pitches at Watersheddings in the past few weeks, they would all have been waterlogged, like the centre of the greyhound ring, or at best very heavy indeed and unsuitable for training.

I was going to say we couldn't legislate for the weather. But we can, can't we? And we all know how. Anyway, that's another story and I won't go into it here.

Luckily, we have been using the gym and sports hall at St. Augustine's School on Monday nights for the past few months. As a facility for use 24 hours after a Sunday match that is fine and we are very grateful indeed for it and indebted to those people who make it possible.

However, if the players are going to be inside on Monday nights they need good outdoor facilities for ball work, tactical sessions and other kinds of training on Wednesday and Friday evenings and Saturday mornings.

But what has happened in the past few weeks? The weather has been so bad up here - snow, hail, sleet, heavy rain and high winds - that the players couldn't get on the greyhound area and only rarely on the main pitch, which has to be protected now because we are playing first team, "A" team and Academy games on it as well as using it for training whenever possible.

Our multi-gym has been over-subscribed in the past few weeks, I can tell you... and we have also been good customers at the local swimming baths. But Peter Tunks and our coaching staff will tell you that there is no real substitute for outdoor work in the sessions from Wednesday onwards and I am convinced in my mind that the form of our players has been affected by the constant attempts to make-do-and-mend in freezing conditions or driving rain and cold.

On Wednesday of last week we managed to get the use of the all-weather surface at Hathershaw Sports Centre for one hour. The coaches and players agreed that the floodlit facilities were excellent and that's the sort of facility we need to get on a more regular basis next season.

I have been accused in a reader's letter in the sports pages of the Oldham Chronicle of making excuses, of blaming the weather and the shortage of facilities for our dip in form when other clubs have similar problems. Some do. But many don't. And I don't think many would argue with us when we say that our geographical location, on the slopes of the Pennines, gives us more problems with the winter weather than the clubs in West Lancashire, for instance.

Take Wigan. Not only are they full-time professionals, training most days during the day, but they have excellent facilities at Central Park and the use of other good facilities in the town, particularly at Robin Park.

There, they can use an eight-lane running track, indoor facilities, all-weather surfaces and even a covered running area.

The Wigan players, unlike ours, do not get home from work at tea time and turn out on a wintry night to try and do some training in the driving sleet and mud. Yes, I know Wigan are exceptional. But I submit there are few teams in the Stones Bitter Championship who have to overcome the problems we face up here.

It appears that the problems are not exclusive to the town's Rugby League Club, either. The other night I read that Joe Royle was having to ring round the town trying to find some training facilities for Athletic.

Let's hope 1994 will bring an improvement in the weather in the early months of the year. Mark my words. As the weather improves, so will the quality of preparation and so will the results.

This is professional Rugby League at the highest level. There is an extremely thin dividing line between success and failure on the field of play and merely a slight hiccup in team planning and preparation can make all the difference between victory and defeat.

Roughy 'eds Recalled

No. 17 TOM MARTIN

Tom Martin was a winger who joined Oldham during the first season of the Northern Union making his debut on New Years Day 1896.

Born in Arbroath, Scotland, Tom's family moved to North East England when he was 12 years old and it was from the Tudhoe club in County Durham that Tom was signed by Oldham.

A powerful and elusive wingman, he gained County honours with Durham at Rugby Union and emulated the feat in the new code playing several times for his adopted County of Lancashire.

Tom's last game for Oldham was against Salford on October 28th, 1899 by which time he had played in 99 first class matches for the "Roughyeds" with an impressive total of 57 tries.

No. 18

Abe Johnson was signed from Leigh in December 1925, making his debut at Warrington on the 12th of that month when he kicked two goals in the 7-7 draw with Warrington.

A very versatile player, Abe played equally well in the stand off, centre or wing positions and also proved to be a more than useful goalkicker.

Contrary to common belief Abe actually holds the record for points in a match for Oldham. On Easter Monday, April 9th, 1928 he scored two tries and kicked 12 goals in the 60 points to 5 thrashing of Widnes, for a total of 30 points.

Before his transfer to Halifax, just before the Challenge Cup deadline in 1930, Abe had played in 146 first class games for Oldham, scoring 62 tries and kicking 157 goals including two in the 1927 Challenge Cup final victory over Swinton.

ACTION GALLERY

ACTION GALLERY No. 9 The 1964 Oldham v. Hull K.R. semi-finals (Trevor Simms).

One of Oldham's high points in the epic 1964 semi-final struggle against Hull K.R. is captured as "Roughyed" left-wing Trevor Simms evades the tackle of Cyril Kellett and the covering Len Clark to score the opening try in the first replay at Swinton. This being the match abandoned in extra time for bad light with Oldham winning 17-14.

Action Gallery

To coincide with their return to the First Division of the Rugby League, Oldham R.L.F.C. are introducing this special new feature into the matchday programme for the the 1993-94 season.

The ACTION GALLERY is a set of excellent water colour paintings, that depict some of the star players and dramatic moments in the club's history on the field of play.

With the centenary of the Rugby League now just two years away the ACTION GALLERY will cover the full time-span of almost 100 years of professional Rugby League in Oldham, from the early days of the "Northern Union" right up to the intense, high pressure atmosphere of the game in the 1990's.

The team that dominated the R.L. Championship in the 1906-1911 era; the cup specialists of the mid 1920's; the "great" entertaining team of the late 50's, all of these are sure to feature in this unique series which is a must for collectors of Oldham and Rugby League memorabilia in general.

FULL COLOUR copies (size 11½" x 8") are to be made available and will come complete with a detailed narrative giving particulars of the player or incident depicted in the painting. The copies will cost £3.20 each (add 80p if requiring the copies to be sent by post) and can be obtained from Mr M. Turner, 158 Balfour Street, Oldham, OL4 1NS.

Please note that the ACTION GALLERY series are not fabricated images and have all been painted from actual photographs.

A limited number will be available in the club shop for 30 minutes after the match.

A-TEAM NEWS

It has been a very inactive spell over the Festive Season, as we also got a bye in last weeks First Round Youngers Challenge Cup.

It seems an eternity since our last match, when we beat Dewsbury very convincingly on a wretched night at Fartown, to put ourselves into yesterday's Second Division Trophy Final against Doncaster, which was played at Tattersfield, after we lost the toss to stage the game at Watersheddings. So it was another away game, following our visits to London, Hunslet and Dewsbury in this competition.

Hopefully, we return from Yorkshire with our second trophy of the season and preserve our unbeaten record so far.

Yours in Sport

Shane Tupaea

TUNKS' TALKBACK

You do not need to have a Degree in Mathematics to realise the importance of today's game against the men from New Craven Park. Along with ourselves, George Fairbairn's outfit are also struggling at the wrong end of the table as we enter the second phase of the season.

It has been a disappointing few weeks for ourselves, as we have turned in some below par performances but it is now down to ourselves to turn the season around.

It is therefore vital that you, the supporters, get behind the team, as we attempt to improve this indifferent run of form.

Including today's game against Hull K.R., we have seven remaining League fixtures at Watersheddings and I am looking for a marked improvement in our home form, to lay the foundations for a successful end to the season.

Enjoy the game,

Peter Tunks.

I have now been here for two weeks and I can assure you there is never a dull moment here at the club.

I am very much looking forward to working in Oldham, especially being a local lad myself and to increasing all the Marketing and Commercial activities of the club.

Without doubt the Commercial side of any club is its "Saviour" and the support of people within the town will decide whether a club succeeds or fails.

I can only ask that you continue to support Oldham Rugby League Club in the manner in which you are doing and hopefully we can build on this.

SPINDLES SHOPPING CENTRE

It seems that everybody saw our "Barrow" in the Spindles Centre during December.

The Barrow was a resounding success and something we will be repeating from time to time.

One thing that people may not have realised was it was manned throughout by volunteers, mainly from the Supporters Club. This week the Supporters donated £2,000.00 from the proceeds to the Club.

May I, on behalf of the Chairman and Directors of the Club, say a very big thank you for all your efforts and time given over the Christmas period.

20 year old John Clarke has "hooked" the prestigious title of Castlemaine XXXX title "Player of the Month" and is consequently the "Man with the Can" for December 1993.

After a difficult month for Oldham, which began with a relatively easy victory against bottom club Leigh, followed by a good performance in 16-8 defeat by the mighty Wigan in the Regal Trophy, there then came two disastrous home defeats by Halifax and Salford.

Both these games could have gone either way but crucial incidents in the mid second half on each occasion took the game out of Oldham's grasp and left them very much in the relegation scramble, although there is still time

However, according to our resident judge, Roger Halstead of the Oldham Evening Chronicle, John was: "the epitome of consistency" and proved to be "a real discovery in his first season in professional Rugby League."

Continued Roger: "Seeing him battle away at this level it is easy to see how he became the first young player to win the 'BARLA (British Amateur Rugby League Association) Young Player of the Year Award' on two separate occasions".

JOHN SMITH'S TOUR BY AUSTRALIA 1994

The three-match John Smith's Test series between Great Britain and Australia will be housed at Wembley, Manchester United's Old Trafford and Elland Road, Leeds, providing capacity for a record breaking aggregate attendance.

The Ashes treble will be staged in London on Saturday, 22nd October, in Manchester on Saturday, 5th November and in Leeds on Sunday, 20th November.

The current attendance record for a British Test series is 133,684, set on the Australian's last visit in 1990, producing world record receipts of £1,180,000.

All three Test grounds will be all-seater by the autumn, with a capacity of nearly 78,000 at Wembley, 43,000 at Old Trafford and 39,000 at Elland Road.

Ticket prices at Wembley are £8, £13, £17, £20, £24, £27, and £30 in the stadium plus £40 for the Olympic Gallery. A special promotion will be mounted for organised parties of junior fans who will be offered £13 seats for only £4. An initial allocation of 5,000 seats have been reserved for this development exercise. For the Great Britain v. New Zealand first Test at Wembley last October, Keighley Cougars alone took 1,000 schoolchildren on this scheme.

Seats for the Old Trafford and Elland Road John Smith's Tests will be priced at £10, £15 and £19 with an allocation of the £4 junior special offer again made available.

As a special incentive to encourage attendance at all three John Smith's Tests, purchasers of a ticket for each of the three Tests will receive a £5 discount.

Order forms for the John Smith's Test series can be obtained from the Ticket Office, The Rugby Football League, 180 Chapeltown Road, Leeds LS7 4HT with Access/Visa bookings made on the Ticket Hotline, 0532 629991, Monday to Friday 9.00 a.m. to 5.00 p.m.

The League has already decided that no League matches will be played on the weekends of the Wembley Test and the Leeds Test.

The remainder of the John Smith's Tour fixtures will be determined at a meeting in Sydney between Rugby League Chief Executive Maurice Lindsay and Australian Chairman Ken Athurson over the weekend of the Coca-Cola World Sevens from 4th-6th February.

Mr. Lindsay said today: "The number of John Smith's Tour matches and the opposition are still subject to debate".

Wembley will be staging its sixth Rugby League International. Visits to the twin towers in 1963 and 1973 were unsuccessful, but a return for the first Anglo-Aussie Test in 1990 attracted a current record British Test crowd of 54,569.

Two years later the Stones Bitter World Cup Final between Great Britain and Australia was attended by 73,631 - a world record for a Rugby League International match. Last October the third highest crowd for any Anglo-Kiwi Test in the 82-match history - 36,131 turned up for the John Smith's first Test.

Old Trafford made its Rugby League Test debut in 1986, the first Great Britain encounter with Australia attracting a then British Test record of 50,583. The 1989 Kiwis played their first Test in 1989 before nearly 20,000 fans before the Australians returned in 1990 to draw level in the Test series in the second encounter before 46,615 spectators.

Elland Road's first staging of a Test was in 1985 when a crowd of 22,209 witnessed a dramatic 6-6 draw to leave the series tied. The Australians called in on their 1986 visit en route to a Test whitewash of Britain, before New Zealand returned in 1989.

The Kangaroos completed the ground's quartet of Tests a year later with a capacity crowd of 32,500 for the deciding 1990 series encounter, Australia retaining the Ashes with a 14-0 victory.

This autumn's eagerly awaited visit will be the 18th Kangaroos tour since 1908. Britain have won nine of those home Test series, Australia's eight successes including a current run of seven consecutive triumphs.

Honours are even in the 108 Ashes Tests, each side winning 52 with four drawn, Australia having the advantage on points scoring difference.

Last Time Out . . .

with ROGER HALSTEAD

An extract from Roger Halstead's match report in the Oldham Evening Chronicle of September 13th, 1993.

Debutant scrum-half Martin Crompton was an outstanding individual in a workmanlike team as Oldham scored five tries to two at windswept Craven Park yesterday.

Rovers beat St. Helens in their previous home game, but on this occasion they were ripped apart in the last 20 minutes by an Oldham team which lifted its level of performance when playing into the stiff breeze.

Choosing to play against the wind when winning the toss, the Robins must have been well satisfied to hold Oldham to 8-8 at half-time.

Midway through the second half they were still there at 14-14... then Oldham cut loose with three quick tries to pick up their opening win in the First Division after defeats by Halifax and Bradford Northern.

As the hooter signalled Oldham's first win under the captaincy of Aussie star Bob Lindner, travelling supporters showed their appreciation and then roared their approval a second time when Lindner led his men over to greet them from the side of the pitch.

The Aussie made a useful debut as the Oldham pack got well on top in the second half and earned one of the biggest cheers of the day when he took his team to applaud the support on the popular side.

This was heady stuff for the fans after two seasons of Second Division mediocrity and it compensated for the bitter disappointment of an undeserved defeat by Bradford.

The pack laid down the foundation, the half-backs provided the link and the threequarters applied the finishing touches with centre Darren Abram scoring stylishly early on and Shaun Irwin adding two more tries in the second half.

Rovers had plenty of determination and spirit, if not much class. They never once held the lead, but they twice came from behind to level and it wasn't until Crompton crowned a splendid individual performance with the third Oldham try in the 58th minute that the home challenge faded.

Out of five tries scored by Oldham, Crompton touched down once and helped to fashion three more.

He linked beautifully with Mike Kuiti to send Abram sidestepping past Mike Fletcher and Wayne Parker on an inside dash to the posts in the eighth minute.

Early in the second half Crompton teased the Rovers defence on a crossfield run before putting Irwin into a gap for the centre to finish well from 30 yards out.

The Oldham scrum-half scored himself when Bright Sodje failed to smother his grubber kick close to the line.

Then, as Rovers finally capitulated, he again combined with Kuiti to set up position from which the ever-alert Paul Groves nipped in from dummy half.

Oldham won a scrum against the head just outside the Rovers quarter and Crompton sold the dummy, went clear and almost succeeded in giving Kuiti a well-deserved first try for the club.

The Rovers defence was unable to gather in time to stop Groves scoring under the sticks and Paul Topping's fourth goal put Oldham firmly in control at 24-14 with 20 minutes left.

For good measure, Irwin made absolutely sure by crashing over from dummy half after Mike Bibby had fumbled a Crompton up-and-under.

Competitive in everything he did, Irwin replied in the best possible manner after allowing David Liddiard to give him the slip to score the first Rovers try after half an hour.

Liddiard, hooker Richard Chamberlain and scrum-half Parker, the brains of the outfit, were the only Rovers players to give Oldham much trouble.

It was Parker's clever creative play which provided centre Rob Hutchinson with the second Rovers try early in the second half.

Oldham were opened up easily on that occasion and coach Peter Tunks will want to know why.

He need ask no questions, however, of Scott Ranson, who effectively bottled up the potentially dangerous Sodje, or of stand-off Topping, who played his opposite number, Dean Clarke, out of the game.

Wally Gibson was sound at full-back, displaying courage and skill under the high ball and always running out of defence effectively.

While Crompton played the lead role of the half-backs on attack, Topping helped out his forwards in midfield by pulling off 37 tackles - only three more than the industrious Kuiti and four more than Tiny Solomona.

Topping had every reason to feel satisfied with his performance in a position that was comparatively new to him.

He also kicked four goals from six shots in difficult conditions, the two he missed passing only inches wide despite acute angles and a powerful wind.

The pack's performance was a team effort in every sense of the word, each of the seven forward used making valuable contributions.

Solomona was well marked early on, but by midway through the second half he had proved who was boss. Rovers were sick of the sight of him by then.

Substitute Craig Richards was equally punishing in the heavy-foraging department, while Lindner, Andy Goodway and Kuiti formed a skilful and penetrative back-row.

Lindner used the ball cleverly, did his tackling, took the ball up and was punishing in the first half as a wide runner - a role Goodway adopted successfully in the second half.

Oldham went in front early, suffered a bad spell, regained the initiative, but lost it again when Lindner was penalised for standing in the five-metre zone on the short side at an Oldham play-the-ball.

This led directly to Liddiard's try and an equalising goal off the touchline by Mike Fletcher.

The visitors were unlucky when Irwin was stopped on the line, after an excellent spell of attacking rugby, and when Crompton's pass to Kuiti was judged forward as the Kiwi went clear.

The half finished, however, with both Lindner and Goodway making handling errors deep inside the Rovers quarter, Oldham going in for the break with a first-half error rate of 40 per cent.

This had to be improved considerably and it was slashed to 18 per cent during a second half in which Rovers scored only one try to Oldham's four and threatened seriously on only one more occasion.

THE ACADEMY

with Manager
JACK BUCKLEY

It is now patently obvious that the Academy set-up has developed into a vital part of the major Rugby League Club policies. We have already witnessed the immense benefits which have been reaped by clubs such as Leeds, Warrington and Wigan, who regularly parade their Academy graduates on the "Big League" stage.

In our first year of Academy Football at Oldham, we have seen at first hand, the sheer professionalism of some of the clubs we have met. The preparation and presentation of these sides has been on a par with their more senior teams and is a situation we must strive to achieve here at Oldham.

That the Academy is an integral part of a club's strength should be self-evident and we must, over the next few months, project this image to potential players, parents and amateur club coaches, if we are to attract the stars of the future.

We aim to prove, between now and the end of the season, that Oldham are fully committed to the Academy ideal and that we have as much to offer as the more established Academy teams, plus the potential for even better things to be achieved here.

Back on the playing front, we suffered a major setback last weekend with our hastily rearranged trip to Cumbria. Workington were never going to be an easy proposition and we went down to our first defeat of the season since the opening match.

Hopefully, by this time we shall have accounted for Dewsbury during the week and are now back on course to achieve our objective.

Happy New Year to you all. Today is a big day for the Oldham Rugby League Development Scheme because it sees the draw for the Oldham Schools Rugby League Cups. There are competitions this year for Under 11's, 12's, 13's 14's, 15's, 16's and 19's. I don't know if it is a record entry but I am very pleased that there are 61 Senior Teams from 15 different schools and 18 Junior School entries. A total of 33 different schools playing Rugby League on a competitive basis. That represents a player base in the Under 16's age band of about 1,500 players. I estimate that we need a play base at Under 16's - the region of 2,000 players to ensure a constant supply of players coming through the Juniors to the Seniors.

I am delighted to welcome the brand new Sponsors of the Oldham Schools Cups, Quantum Sports and Leisure. Their Managing Director, Philip Hawthorne, is with us today and I extend our thanks to him for their generous support.

At half time there will be a presentation of BFL Skills Award Badges and Certificates to players from Radcliffe, Mayfield, Blackshaw Lane, Rushcroft and Beal Vale Schools.

QUOTE - UNQUOTE

(Peter Tunks had this to say about last weekend's game at Odsal)

"Our forward defence was non-existent at times and you won't win matches when that happens. It is also increasingly apparent that you cannot play effectively at this level without a good stand-off."

(Jim Quinn speaking about Oldham's bad run of results)

"We always knew it was going to be a difficult season, but I think the time has come for our senior men to get together with the coach and offer their views, based on their experience and judgement. We will get out of this if we pool our resources."

(Tiny Solomona on his decision to leave Watersheddings)

"Breaking my arm and not being able to play has made me do a lot of thinking about my future. I started to miss my home country and when Auckland came in with their offer, it was a very difficult decision to make but financially, a good one for my family."

The first League game between Oldham and Hull KR was on September 27th 1902 when Oldham travelled to Humberside and recorded a seven points to two victory, with Rovers first visit to Watersheddings the following January again ending up with an Oldham win 19-2.

Since those earliest encounters there has been many a fierce contest between the "Roughyeds" and the "Robins".

Strangely enough for five years between 1908-1913, the Watersheddings match was a festive fixture with Rovers coming to Oldham on Christmas Day, with Oldham's visit to Hull usually coming in the first month of the season.

Of all the encounters between the two sides there are three (or should I say five) which stand out above the rest.

The first was the 1925 Challenge Cup Final at Leeds when a Reg Farrar inspired Oldham team won 16-3, for local skipper Herman Hilton to lift the cup for the Roughyeds. Although Rovers took some consolation by defeating Swinton in the Championship final the following week at Rochdale.

Then we have the legendary twice replayed Challenge Cup semi-final in 1964, when after two titanic struggles at Leeds and Swinton, Rovers ran out deserving winners in the second replay at Huddersfield to earn the right to meet Widnes at Wembley. The scores were 5-5, 14-14 and finally 12-2 to Hull K.R. However most supporters of both clubs will need no reminding that Oldham were actually winning the Swinton clash by 17-14 in extra time when the match was abandoned for bad light. Rovers lost in the final 13-5, but it was the epic semi-final that passed into Rugby League folk-lore.

The most recent "big match" between the two clubs was of course, the 1990 Second Division Premiership Final, when on a sweltering May afternoon at Old Trafford, Oldham staged one of the most dramatic R.L. comebacks of all time. Rovers had set off like a house on fire and five minutes into the second half they held a 29-6 lead, but Oldham gradually clawed their way back and a late try by substitute Tommy Martyn gave Oldham a historic victory by 30 points to 29.

SKIPPER'S SPOT

With Oldham Captain
BOBBY LINDNER

Happy New Year to you all and let's hope it's a Happy New Year for us on the field. It didn't start too well at Bradford.

They had one of those days when everything they tried came off. However, we are fully aware that we didn't cause them enough problems.

We, as players, must pull together with the coaches, Directors and Supporters, because together we can turn this season around.

There is still plenty to play for in terms of glory, as well as survival in the First Division.

Today's visitors from Hull K.R. know all about survival. They've had a pretty torrid time over the past couple of seasons.

In George Fairbairn they have a good young coach, who has managed to produce some excellent results in recent weeks.

In September we went to East Yorkshire and picked up a vital victory.

Today is even more important and the difference may be the noise from the terraces. So please get behind us and together let's go up that table!

Enjoy your Rugby

SUPPORTERS CLUB

Welcome to today's game against Hull K.R. from Humberside. Let us hope we can play as well as when we met them at New Craven Park earlier in the season. I am sure, whatever the outcome, it will be a very exciting game played in the best of spirits by both clubs. This is a very important match which we must WIN and make our first double of the season in the First Division.

So here's wishing all our fellow supporters from Humberside, Directors and Players, a very enjoyable match at Watersheddings.

During the past weeks we have donated to the club £2,000 from our profits in the Club Shop to help with having no home matches of late. This is beside other bills paid by the Supporters Club over the last 12 months to help the club out. Although we have very little income coming from our Canteens, we still try our best to help the club in many ways, we would like our supporters to know that we are still functioning from a very small band of people.

So, come along and join the Supporters Club and also our Junior Reds, the fee for each membership is £2.00.

Our next away match is at Warrington, so come along and book your coach seats in the canteen this afternoon or phone 665 1832 (night or weekends) or 624 4865 daytime and support the team in its fight to stay in the First Division.
