Chairman's Column

Well here we are, the last home game of the season and it seems to have been a long campaign, since we started way back in February.

It should be a cracking game today against Oldham and every one here at Barrow Raiders extends a big welcome to the "Roughyeds" fans and directors. Oldham have recruited well over the season and will be no pushover today. I hope all from Oldham enjoy their day here in Barrow.

It would have been nice to have had a day off this week and gone straight to Leeds and the Grand Final but it wasn't to be last week at Featherstone. It wasn't for the lack of trying. It also wasn't for the lack of support either. We must have had 400 plus travelling supporters - absolutely tremendous. On a slightly off note it was reported to me that some supporters were using bad language. I know it's easy to get carried away but that's no excuse. We pride ourselves as having the best supporters in Rugby League bar none, and Rugby League is a family sport and has no place for bad language. It reflects on our club as well, so please take care.

I think we've made progress again this year but we've still got further to go on all fronts on and off the field but we can only do it with your continued support and help. So, in my final column of this season I would like to thank every single person at Barrow Raiders for their help and assistance during the season. I would like to thank our sponsors for all their support. I hope you will continue to work with us in putting Barrow Rugby League where it belongs. At the top.

Let's get behind Cresta and the team today and cheer them on to victory and a Grand Final at Headingley against Featherstone.

Thank you all.

North West Evening Mail

Welcome to all for this the last home game for Barrow this season, but let's not forget the Cumbria v USA game on Sunday November 4th. All at the club were hoping today's game would not go ahead in the hope that Barrow could have reached the Grand Final at the first attempt, with a win at Featherstone last Sunday, however it wasn't to be and now a difficult 80 minutes awaits both Barrow and Oldham.

If the fixture is anything like when we met not too long ago here at Craven Park, then it should be a great game.

Oldham will come full of confidence after a big win over Workington last week and they should not be lacking in vocal support.

Talking of Grand Finals are Wigan going to be the shock team and go all the way in Super League, the game was played last night in Hull, and there could have been another away win for the Cherry and Whites. I've witnessed many great comebacks but nothing like last week at Bradford, they will have gone to Hull full of confidence.

How the game has changed, in years gone-by there would have been no comeback from 30-6 down, so the message to all clubs is never throw in the towel.

Anyway that's it for now, it has been a good season all round, congratulations to the Board of Directors, the Coaching staff, the players, and you the supporters, the gates have been tremendous and you will support a club that is going places hopefully next season in division one. If we can't make it today, then it will be best wishes from me to Oldham in their quest to win the final.

Crarey's Comments

I was really hoping I wouldn't have to think about these programme notes. I had hoped it would all be over last Sunday and we were now heading for the Play-off Grand Final.

I'm not worried though. We've beaten Oldham here once already this season and we can do it again. Steve Deakin is a shrewd man and his side is tactically good but in a game like this anything can happen. It is simple; if you lose you are out. So it will be absolute war.

And that's where you come in. The support you have given us this season has been fantastic. Week after week, home and away, you have been there with your encouragement. It has been great.

So I look to you all to provide us with that extra man this afternoon.

While I am saying thanks I would like to give praise to Phil Atkinson who is now retiring. It has been a pleasure to be involved with him over the past couple of seasons. The same goes for Michael Basan, who will be returning home, and Khamal Ganley who is struggling to get a work visa that will allow him to continue with us. Also Ian Rawlinson who had to call it a day a couple of months ago. Thanks to you all.

I'd also like to thank the directors who have been great with me. I'm not the best of losers and when I have felt a little low they have been there to cheer me up.

What the players have achieved over the past two seasons has made me really proud. Finishing third in this tough division and getting to the last eight of the Challenge Cup is some feat.

I hope they look back on this time as the best playing environment they have been in.

Whether some of them move on or not, and whichever division we are in next season, some serious team building will be needed.

We have just signed on Joe McKenna, Brad Nicholls, Brett Carter and Chris Larkin and they will be the stars of the future. But we will need to replace the experienced men that we might lose.

Things didn't quite go right for us at Featherstone last weekend. In the first few minutes Paul Raftery had a gashed mouth and Ganley had a facial injury. It meant bringing on subs much earlier than we wanted.

We were a little off the pace but it will be different this week. And it will be different the next time we meet Featherstone.

Remember, there are eight clubs in our division who would give their right arm to be in our position, just one game off the National League Two Play-off Grand Final.

We have come too far in the past couple of seasons to let it slip away now.

So how about another great Craven Park roar to help carry us over the line.

Once again, thanks to you all.

From: Peter Wilson ex-Daily Star

Everybody at Craven Park today will have more important things in mind but excuse me if I finish off this season's columns by getting a few bees out of my bonnet. They are starting to irritate.

First, while Super League's average attendances top 10,000 for the first time, crowds at London's outpost, Twickenham Stoop, have slumped by 30 per cent to a figure of fewer than 4,000.

After 27 years of professional RL in and around London, have we shown that the local public are remotely interested?

A friend of mine in Rugby League has a son who lives less than half an hour from The Stoop, home of Harlequins RL. He's a great fan of the sport, but would never think of becoming a regular.

His reason - there's just no soul, no sense of belonging, nothing remotely permanent or club-like about Quins RL. In fact, it's just another rugby team. Which might go some way to answering Martyn Sadler's query in a recent League Express: Why do Londoners not like Rugby League? They may well like it, but only as a TV show. It is, and always has been - a tribal sport.

Second, has the experiment of three points for a win, two for a draw and one for a narrow defeat made a scrap of difference to the National Leagues? Well it has done just that - made exactly one scrap of difference.

If the National Leagues had been played under the old two points for a win only Batley and Dewsbury (National One) and Hunslet and Skolars (National Two) would have swapped places. And they had no effect on the play-offs whatsoever.

Rugby League has never been slow to change - but this has proved to be a totally pointless exercise especially when there is no bonus point for winning by more than 12 points. A bonus for losing? I said it was barmy at the time and it still is.

Finally, Amateur Rugby League. Having been chairman of three clubs down the years - Corby Pioneers, Tameside Borough and Manchester Knights - this is a particular pet subject. There are already occasions of clubs struggling to raise teams for long journeys (Milnrow didn't come to Ulverston on the third weekend of the season and have already folded) and I'm sure it won't be long before more 18-nils appear.

For what it's worth, I'd like to see Barrow and District League clubs form a well-run high-profile West Coast Premier League. Millom may be too strong at the moment but the others, plus possible additions such as Heysham Atoms, Blackpool, - even perhaps a revived Marsh Hornets - would make far more sense than regular trips to all corners of Lancashire and Cheshire and expensive nine-hour away days. How many times do Barrow clubs make the journey south with a coach and barely 13 players? Surely that can't make sense.

County Cups and National Cups ties would provide any necessary variety. Is there a will? If so there's a way.

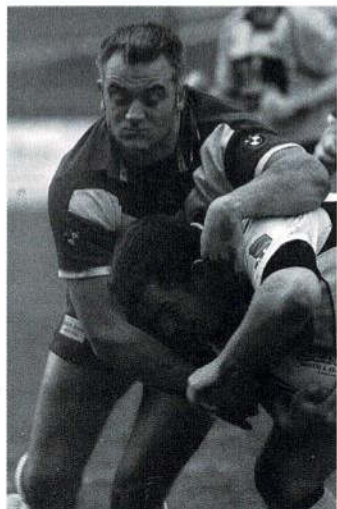

PS: To the Raiders: All the best in today's play-off match - even if it is against my "other" team Oldham.

Captain's Talk

Welcome all to what will be our last home game of the season against the Oldham Roughyeds, I'm sure everyone has been waiting for this game all week there has been a buzz around Barrow as surely there has been in Oldham.

Oldham at present are on the back of two decent wins against Swinton and Workington so will be travelling up here high on confidence, despite us beating Oldham earlier in the season many fans thought Oldham were the best team to play here this season so we know how hard it is going to be today.

Ideally we didn't want to play today, we gladly would have taken the week off and gone straight into the Grand Final next week but unfortunately we didn't produce the goods at Featherstone last Sunday to deserve that luxury. After watching the video of the game midweek we were worse than I thought! Luckily we have that second chance to put things right so expect two highly charged teams going for that Final spot. As we definitely know now that this is our last home game of the season, on behalf of all the players may I (AGAIN) thank you for all the support you have given the team home and away, it is always appreciated wherever we play and hopefully we can give you another day out in Leeds next week!

Finally most Barrow fans know I'm retiring at the end of this season, personally I would just like to thank everyone who has wished me all the best for the future and the friends I have made amongst the supporters.

Also I appreciate the opportunity given to me by Barrow RLFC to play professional rugby, I have played under many coaches in my 14 years here and learned off all of them, not just how to play rugby but also how to conduct yourself in general, it has also given me chance to meet many interesting/strange people but also to make friends for life. Enough of my ramblings back to the game, get your throat tuned up and lets hear that Craven Park roar again for the last time in 2007.

Enjoy The Game

Carnegie Great Student Run TAKING SUPPORT BEYOND BOUNDARIES

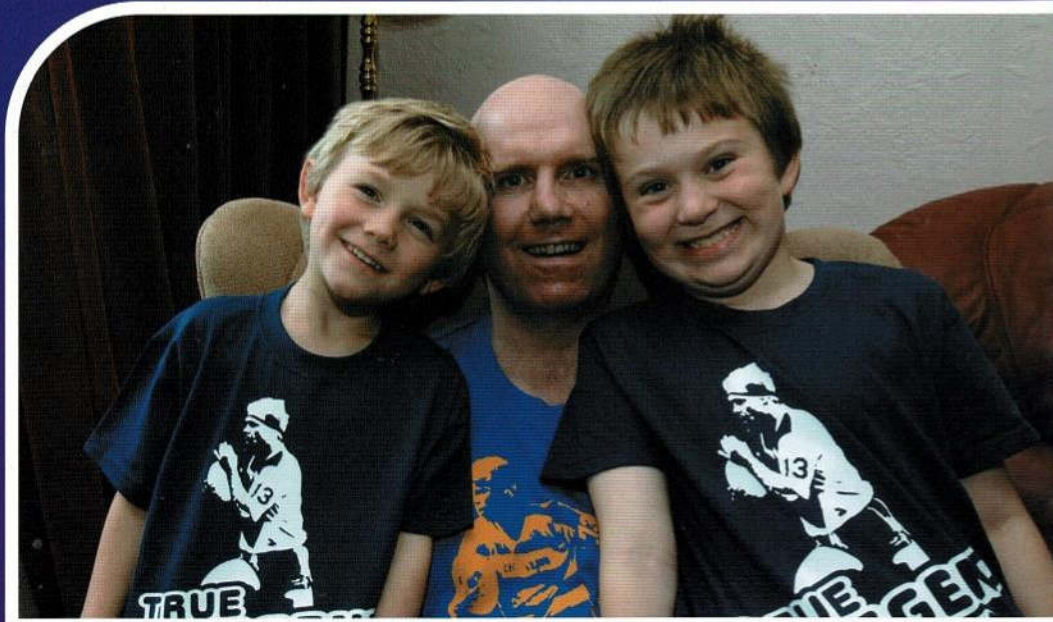

When Leeds Met launched the Carnegie Great Student Run 2007, leading the way was former Widnes, Wigan and GB star Joe Lydon. Joe declared his intention to run the 5km race to raise money for the Mike Gregory Trust Fund. Mike is one of rugby league's most popular, respected and courageous stars who captained Warrington and his country with such distinction.

The Mike Gregory Trust Fund was formed by friends and supporters from the rugby league community who knew of Mike's battle against Motor Neurone Disease and felt compelled to do something to help.

It is Mike and his family's intention that the trust's funds will be used to cover his ongoing medical expenses and help raise awareness about the effects of Borrelia/Lymes Disease.

Through the Carnegie Great Student Run and the Carnegie Challenge Cup, Leeds Met Carnegie provides a unique opportunity for the whole of the rugby league community to participate and support the Mike Gregory Trust Fund.

HOLT EYES ANOTHER BARROW RECORD

DARREN HOLT of Barrow Raiders needs four points to equal his club's record 305 in a season by utility back Ian Ball in 1979-80. Ball's tally consisted of 26 three-point tries and 119 goals, including 11 drop goals, in 31 appearances. Holt's total of 301 comes from a club record 140 goals, including three drop goals, plus six tries in 30 matches. Holt equalled the goals record with two in the Co-operative National League Two qualifying semi-final 36-20 defeat at Featherstone Rovers. The scrum half had set the record in 2004 when his 140 goals included eight drop goals, in 29 matches. Holt also passed the 2,000 points milestone for Barrow with four at Featherstone taking him to a record-extending 2,002 from 59 tries and a club record 910 goals, including 54 drop goals.
