Yes, there is life outside SL

The Leigh Sports Village recently held "An Evening with England RL" which featured national coach Steve McNamara and included England stars James Graham, Sam Tomkins and Adrian Morley. It was a terrific evening but at the end of it someone shouted "there's life outside Super League" which brought a round of applause.

Few will forget the upheaval when the concept of Super League was first proposed. There were angry scenes and demonstrations particularly from clubs who were being asked to merge and when those plans were scrapped there was much bitterness over the clubs who weren't one of the original 12 teams. They felt they were being cast adrift but a look at today's Co-operative Championship and Championship 1 proves that there is very much a life outside Super League.

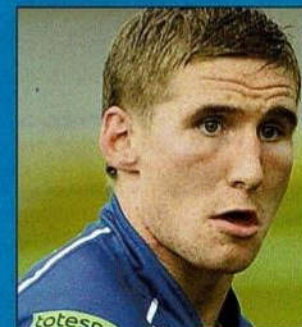

In fact it is a very successful and important part of Rugby League both on and off the field. Not only are the competitions able to attract top line sponsors like the Co-operative and Northern Rail but thanks to Sky Sports many matches are now broadcast live. When Sky lost the NRL games they turned to the lower divisions and it's been a great success. Personally I'd rather watch good old British RL and there have been some terrific matches.

And who would have thought all those years ago there would be so many clubs playing in top class facilities? The way clubs have grasped the nettle and either improved their grounds or moved to completely new facilities is fantastic.

Like their Super League counterparts the clubs have not been afraid to open up their competitions and help spread Rugby League. We now have a French team, a Welsh team, one from London and another from the north-east competing and it's now a vibrant game both on and off the field.

At the start of the season Halifax and Widnes were seen as the real contenders for honours in The Co-operative Championship but we currently have Featherstone occupying the top spot and a resurgent Leigh, who were lucky to retain their Championship status, going treat guns. But even they don't have things all their own way with second from bottom Dewsbury Rams giving Rovers an almighty scare in the last round before being edged out 36-32 while Leigh lost out to Halifax in a 46-40 thriller.

In Co-operative Championship 1, Blackpool Panthers came back down to earth after their 132-0 win over Gateshead when they were pipped 24-22 by York - such unpredictability is the mark of a good competitive sport.

Rhino graduated from school of hard knocks

A true Brit as a player, Batley coach Karl Harrison is happy to place his faith in English youngsters

Report by BEN COLLINS

KARL HARRISON is used to taking hard knocks. As an old-school prop for Hull FC, Halifax and Great Britain, it came with the territory. A disappointing result on Saturday against the Catalans Dragons in the quarter-final of the Carnegie Challenge Cup was tough too. But the boss won't dwell on that for long.

Being a Super League coach can be even tougher, though, as 'Rhino' found out the hard way. Having been head coach at Keighley, he worked under Brian Noble at Bradford before being appointed Salford coach in June 2002.

The Reds were relegated that year but Harrison led them back into Super League at the first attempt and into the play-offs in 2006.

A struggling start to 2007 saw the ruthless Reds board sack Harrison that May but the 46-year-old worked hard to get back on his feet and rebuild his coaching career.

He set up a kitchen, bathroom, bedroom business having had some previous experience in the industry, before being appointed Huddersfield's new senior scholarship coach in December 2008.

Harrison then took over as Batley head coach in April 2009 following the resignation of Gary Thornton and has transformed a struggling side into an ambitious young outfit.

The Bulldogs are eyeing the Co-operative Championship play-offs this year and have reached the quarter-finals of both the Challenge Cup and the Northern Rail Cup, in which they host Sheffield Eagles this Sunday.

And Harrison has instigated the transformation at Mount Pleasant by putting his faith in youthful, local talent.

"What I want to produce is a very young, English-based club," he said. "With the exception of David Tootill, all my players come from within a five-mile radius of Batley."

"They're all young, all British, all enthusiastic, and I think that's what more clubs at this level need to have."

"I don't want overseas players, and we'll see if that decision's right or wrong. But you live and die by your decisions, and I think it's time to support British youngsters."

"All my players have maybe been held or assisted by Super League clubs. They weren't ready to play Super League when they were 19-year-old but two years in the Championship - if you coach them in the right way - won't do them any harm."

"That's my personal opinion. I think we're probably the only team in the competition with no overseas players and that's the way I want to keep it."

Nothing would give Harrison greater pleasure than to see some of his young charges earn another shot at Super League but the Leeds-born coach, who still lives in the district, won't be returning to the top tier any time soon.

Karl Harrison - ambitious for his young team

It has been some achievement for Harrison to establish his business, based nearby, during the credit crunch, and he is unwilling to step away from those commitments just yet.

"I've been in Super League and thought I did a pretty good job so when I got sacked by Salford, I'll be honest with you, it did hurt me," he admitted. "It took me a long time mentally to get over that."

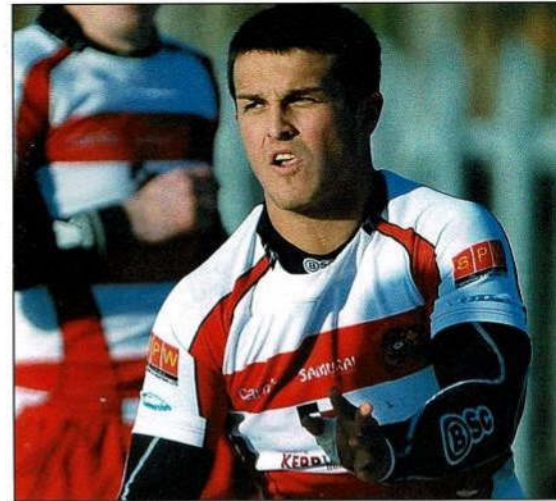

"In the meantime, I set up a business from scratch and focused all my energies into that because it was a big step."

"To throw away three years of hard work to get back into full-time coaching - that's not for me at the moment - but that's not to say I never ever will do."

"I'm happy here at the moment, focusing all my energies on coaching Batley and making my business a success."

Returning to the Championship has provided a different challenge to that Harrison had become accustomed to in Super League.

But it is one he relishes and his passion for the game is

Gareth Moore has been a revelation for the Bulldogs rubbing off on his impressionable youngsters.

"The Championship's very, very tough," he said. "You've got to prepare your team differently every single week."

"If you get a few injuries, there's a good chance you'll get beat because any team in the Championship can win on any given weekend - it's such a close competition."

"The players have bought into what we've been teaching and we're going ok," Harrison added.

"They're very young and very inexperienced, and that's probably why we lost a lot of games early in the season. But they're learning about the Championship now."

"The average age of the team is about 21/22, it's a team of young boys, so it'll be good if we can keep this group together. It all stands Batley in good stead, but I'd be very happy if a few of my players do move up."

"I've tried to develop them the right way, to improve them firstly as players and also as individuals. They're all buying into my philosophies and it's showing in the recent performances." Although Batley came through their Northern Rail Cup group, they won just two of their opening nine league games. But they have hit their straps over the last month, suffering a late defeat at Sheffield before beating Whitehaven and Widnes, while disposing of Swinton in the Challenge Cup after Halifax were disqualified.

"We had the disruption of the Halifax fiasco, which put an extra burden on us because we had to play an extra game in midweek," said Harrison. "But we just got on with it and did it as best we could, and the team's doing well at the moment. The same sort of faces have been playing week in, week out, and we're becoming more consistent."

"It's more down to a team effort than individuals but Gareth Moore is settling down and playing extremely well, as is Paul Handforth, so we've got solid half-backs now."

"Byron Smith and Sean Hesketh have been setting standards for the team in the front row too."

And the Bulldogs will aim to maintain their recent form by pushing for the play-off places and beating Sheffield to reach the Northern Rail Cup semi-finals.

"It's a big game," Harrison said. "Sheffield are a good team and we both want to progress to a semi-final."

"We've managed to get this far and it's important you take these opportunities because they don't come round often."

"We played Sheffield three weeks ago and it was a great game. It could have gone either way and they sneaked it at the end so it should be another close encounter at Mount Pleasant. We've set ourselves a target of getting into the top six in the league," he added.

We're seventh at the moment and I think we've a really good chance. We had a tough schedule at the start of the season but we've got nine league games left and six are at home so there's plenty of points to pick up there."

AND SO it wasn't to be. Despite the 'advantage' of their renowned Mount Pleasant slope, the gulf in class between the engage Super League and the Co-operative Championships was too much for Batley's Gallant Youths to overcome.

The margin of defeat suffered by Karl Harrison's boys against top-flight strugglers Catalans will have surprised many. We didn't see that coming, at all, and suddenly the French team, which looked like it couldn't win a raffle if it bought all the tickets, is within 80 minutes of a second appearance at Wembley.

Mistress Fate, a fickle bedfellow, eh?

Meanwhile Barrow's thrilling Cup run came to a more predictable conclusion as Knowsley Road bade farewell to Challenge Cup rugby forever, though the Raiders did defy the odds-makers at least and at just 16-12 down going into the final half hour, they put up a mighty battle against St Helens. But it wasn't to be yet again and the dreams can be put back on ice for another year – at least for the minnows of the competition.

What the Cup no longer provides, it is becoming increasingly apparent, is a financial equivalent of a lottery win for the smaller clubs landing a big fat fish of a Super League giant in the draw. More a sprat than a mackerel these days.

The clubs along with the RFL have done their damndest to spice up the attraction of Cup games to fans with some innovative ticketing offers, lures for season ticket holders and a hefty thwack with the central marketing budget. All, it would seem, to no avail.

When Blackpool upset Whitehaven to earn a trip to the mighty Rhinos chairman Bobby Hope may have been rubbing his hands with glee – surely if any tie would help offset his substantial investment, this was it? But just 5,316 fans bothered to turn up at Headingley. Take off all the expenses of running a game and split the pot and it isn't quite the Euromillions, is it? Equally for Leigh, with a mouth-watering clash of their own at Bradford – and, in the event, just 4,250 sparsely spread about the massive Odsal bowl. A disappointment to say the least.

And even for the Championship clubs progressing to the quarter-finals there is very little to write home about.

I doubt that it ever entered Batley's head to swap their tie to the Catalans' home ground, as might have been the case had they drawn, say, Leeds. So in the event an attendance of over 2,000 at the Mount was a result for the Bulldogs – especially when you consider that Catalans brought with them zero fans.

Zero, really? Just about. Unless you count a couple of directors and the coaching staff as being 'fans'.

And the real perspective in that number comes when you compare it with the attendance for Catalans' last draw in the cup, away at Super League new boys Crusaders, which they edged 35-34.

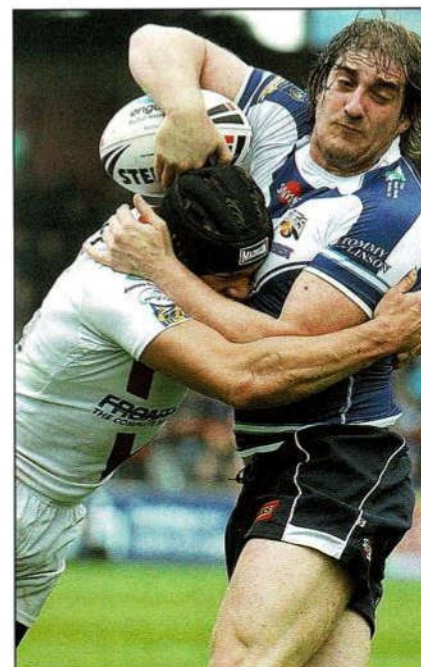

The attendance for that game? A meagre 1,814. At least the people of Batley seem to appreciate the magic of the Cup rather more than the converts of Wrexham and its environs.

In fact based on that logic, and if the Bulldogs bounce back and produce the not-totally-improbable feat of lifting the Northern Rail Cup, you could make an argument for them getting a Super League licence in 2012! Now that would be something, to see Tomkins and McGuire following in my dad Jim Lockwood's sidestepping ways up the Mount slope, or Keiron Cunningham swinging in a number 9 shirt where my granddad Harry once kicked shins-a-plenty in the Batley front row.

Robbie down the line

You know the great thing about the Northern Rail Cup? It can set clubs back on the right track. Take Barrow Raiders for example. They've had their fair share of injury problems which has been reflected in some tough games for them in the Co-operative Championship.

But playing in a knockout Cup competition is different and gives the players something else to focus upon. That's why, like the Carnegie Challenge Cup, the Northern Rail Cup is such a tonic for players and clubs.

And isn't it strange how many times it happens! A club is suffering in the league and goes on a great Cup run. When they go back to the league they're revived and on track.

Life's a bit tedious for me at the moment because I'm out of action with a painful groin injury. I've had some surgery and am on the road to recovery, but it's so frustrating being on the sidelines at an exciting time of the season not just for my club Leigh Centurions, but the whole of Rugby League.

But taking time out for recovery and rehabilitation has given me an opportunity to reflect on the quality coming your way with the Northern Rail Cup Quarter Finals. Four fascinating games and eight ambitious clubs all determined to take some silverware as well as make a point to the rest of the sport. Let's look at the four ties and see what mouth-watering prospects they offer the fans.

KEIGHLEY COUGARS V YORK CITY KNIGHTS

This is a tough one to predict. York are going well in Championship One while Barry Eaton's boys are giving it their best shot in the Championship having had to come from a minus nine-point start to the season. Assistant coach Chris Thorman has been out injured for the Knights but if the classy stand-off is available for the Knights it will certainly increase their chances at Cougar Park.

The Cougars have chalked up some impressive results beating Dewsbury Rams, Whitehaven and Sheffield Eagles away from home. That proves they are worthy of respect and they're a good footballing team. The two sides have had some tussles in the last couple of seasons but I think home advantage will tell for the Cougars.

WIDNES VIKINGS V BARROW RAIDERS

Wow, this has to be the tie of the round and it will be battled out in front of the Sky cameras. Paul Cullen's Vikings have been erratic but they have some great players who are capable of beating the very best on their day.

We played the Vikings in a televised game not long ago and, although we beat them at the Sporting Village, they impressed me. After a calamitous first half they had enough ability to change their tactics on the hoof and we had a real struggle to see them off in the end. Only good teams have that talent and that makes them slight favourites in my book.

As reigning champions the Raiders demand respect and they have a great coach in Steve McCormack, but they're not as consistent as last year so they have a great deal to do.

BATLEY BULLDOGS V SHEFFIELD EAGLES

Karl Harrison has fashioned the Bulldogs into a very capable team. They proved that by beating Widnes and that's not easy! Playing on the slope at Mount Pleasant gives them a slight advantage because they know how to play it best and they've got enough smart players to take advantage too.

Sheffield Eagles have enough class players on their staff to pull off a good result but first they've got to solve how to deliver 80-minute performances. They got out of jail at the Tetley's Stadium with a clinching penalty in the dying seconds against the Rams, but failed to see off the Cougars after a second-half fight-back at Bramall Lane.

HUNSLET HAWKS V LEIGH CENTURIONS

My own club go into action against Championship One opposition in the shape of the Hawks. But we won't be taking anything for granted. Our coach Ian Millward will make sure of that - believe me!

The Hawks are going well in the league and they're a tidy side with the two aces in the hole, brothers David and Paul March.

The March twins are two fierce competitors and they drive their team forward. We will have to be on our best form to cope with them and we're expecting a tough match.

So there we are four superb games in the Northern Rail Cup quarter finals - and eight teams who all fancy their chances of being in that semi-final draw. What a recipe for excitement and great Rugby League action. Enjoy yourselves.

ROBBIE PAUL IS NORTHERN RAIL'S RUGBY LEAGUE AMBASSADOR

NR Cup goes on schools tour

The Northern Rail Cup recently took pride of place at school assemblies along with a galaxy of stars who dropped in to chat to pupils.

Organised by Northern Rail in association with clubs, the Momentum Tour of Schools enables children to see highlights of last year's Northern Rail Cup Final as well as learning about the dangers of playing near railway lines.

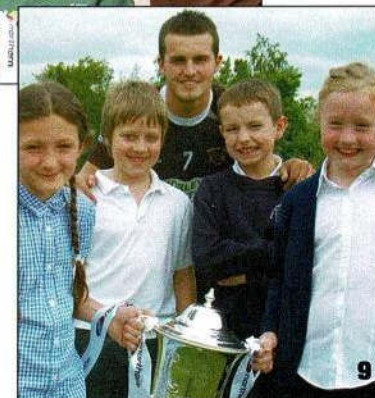

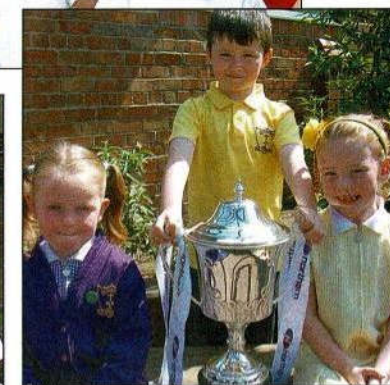

Past and present Widnes players John Foran, Tim Holmes, Anthony Thackeray and Mark Smith were on hand at St Bede's RC Primary School and St Gerard's RC Primary School to talk about their tie against Barrow Raiders.

St Bede's PE Teacher, Tony Hutton said: "It is important for children to be inspired and the Momentum Tour combines the importance of acting responsibly near railway lines with the fun element of playing or watching the great game of rugby league."

In Batley two primary schools, St Mary's and Hanging Heaton were thrilled to see Bulldogs half back Gareth Moore, while Keighley Cougars playmaker Jonny Presley took time out to chat to children at Oakworth and Kildwick primary schools.

Hunslet Hawks' Papua New Guinea stars Michael Mark and Charlie Wabo were a big hit at St Anthony's and Beeston primary schools in Leeds and encouraged the pupils to get behind the team to cheer them on against Leigh.

Northern Rail Commercial Director, Jamie Burles said: "It is important to use our sponsorship of rugby league to put something back into the communities we serve and our visits to schools is a rewarding way of fulfilling that objective."

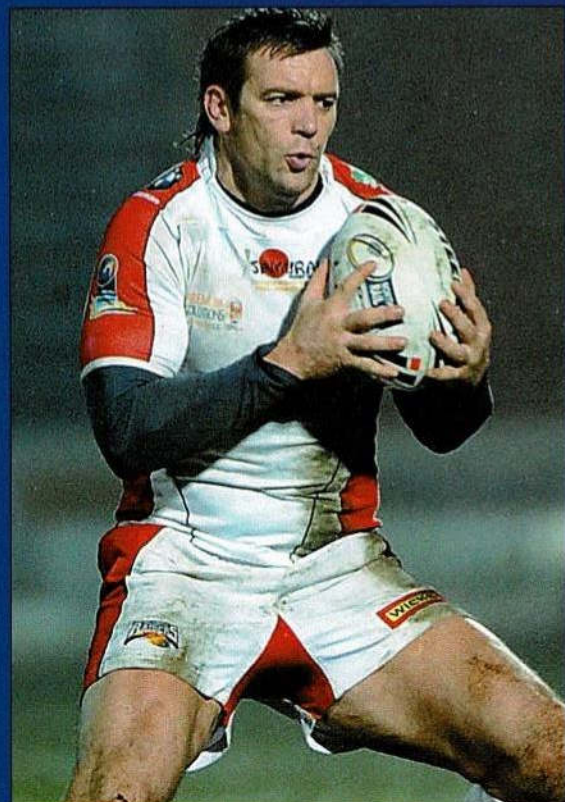

From Bondi and 'Cas Vegas' to the Barrow high life

Ned Catic has been there, done that and got a few of the tee-shirts – but Barrow's a bit on the quiet side, so the Aussie reckons working out in the gym is the best place to be, as he told BEN COLLINS

CUMBRIA is a fair old trek from West Yorkshire, never mind Sydney, so Ned Catic's move to Barrow was always going to be somewhat of a culture shock.

After three years in Super League with Wakefield and Castleford, the Australian back-rower signed a two-year deal with the Raiders following their promotion to the Championship in 2008.

In his bid to lure Catic to Cumbria, chairman Des Johnston told him there were better surfing beaches up there than Bondi.

But the former Sydney Rooster was having none of it. "I think he's blowing smoke up people's asses with that one!" he joked.

"I knew it was pretty isolated but I didn't know just how much till I got here.

"It's a small place and everyone talks. If one of your farts smells different, everyone knows about it!

"And there's not much to do here apart from gambling, drinking and training.

"Drinking's not on for me because I'm too old and gambling makes me depressed. There's a bookies up here called Chas Kendall and there's about 20 of them just in Barrow. Every two streets it's like 'oh look, it's another Chas Kendall!'

"So I have to keep training, but that's alright because I kill myself in that gym, I love my training."

The gym takes up a lot of Catic's spare time – and not just because he doesn't have a family to devote his time to in Barrow. At 31, he knows he has to put the extra hours in to make sure he stays in tip-top shape and the hard work is paying off as he made the Game On team of the month for April and May, in his dual roles as a back-rower and deputising in the centre for boss Steve McCormack.

"I've been flying solo since I got over here," he said.

"It's hard at times but there's worse people out there. If that's the worst of my problems, I'll take it!

"I turn 32 in August. I'm still very much enjoying it and I'm doing okay at the moment. But the minute I think 'forget this' I'll get caught out, so that's why I train so much. I don't want to be one of those players where people are saying 'he's washed up, let him go'.

"At the moment I'm looking at another one or two years, it's just a matter of where that's going to be."

Catic helped Barrow win the Championship Grand Final in his first year at Craven Park, setting themselves up as the team to beat this season. The fact that some are grumbling about losing just three of their opening 16 games in all competitions shows how far the club has come in the Ned Catic – "too old" for drinking and gambling makes him depressed!

More of this please ... Barrow players celebrate as Halifax are left disconsolate in the 2009 Grand Final last two years. But Catic, who has been filling in at centre for the injured Anthony Blackwood, has sent a warning to the rest of the Championship, saying the Raiders' best is yet to come.

"Last year was a fantastic year because we took out the comp," he said. "But now everyone wants to beat us. It's a shame we're not going as well but at the same time, it's refreshing to know we've so much improving to do. We're not even close to being at our best.

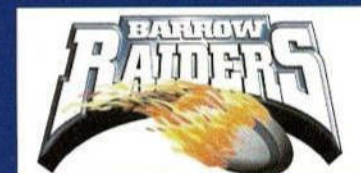

"But we've only lost three all year so we're still travelling okay for a team that's not firing as we should be. It depends if you see it as the glass being half full or half empty.

"People are frustrated we're not as dominant as we were last year but they've got to take into account that every other team has improved as well so it's a much closer comp this year.

"Leigh were relegated last year but look at them now, and Daryl Powell's doing a good job at Featherstone. Anyone can beat anyone on their day."

Barrow proved that in the Challenge Cup by pulling off a 34-28 upset at Castleford, setting up a fifth-round trip to the mighty St Helens.

And that fourth-round win had particular relevance for Catic having been shown the door by Cas in 2008.

"I got a lot of satisfaction that day," he said. "They didn't want to sign me again and Andrew Henderson was in the same boat – they let us go at the same time.

"When we saw the draw we were like 'can't wait, bring them on', so it was nice to go back there and say 'one back for me', you know.

When we saw the draw we were like 'can't wait, bring them on'...

"When we were 16 points down we thought the opportunity had gone but to come back the way we did was brilliant. And for me to score the winning try was the icing the cake."

Yet league success remains the priority for Barrow and their ambitious chairman Des Johnston, and under new coach Steve McCormack they are determined to repeat their Grand Final win.

But Catic knows just how difficult that is having been in the Sydney Roosters side that lost 18-6 to Penrith in the 2003 NRL Grand Final, meaning they missed out on backing up their 2002 Premiership.

"We want to go back-to-back," he said. "It's a very hard thing to do but that's definitely the aim for us.

"We've got a few things to fix, like our defence – we're leaking a lot more points this year – and our attack has not been as strong.

"Injuries haven't helped – we didn't get many at all last year. And we've lost a couple of key players in Andy Ellis (Harlequins) and Dave Allen (Widnes).

"But we've brought some good players in to replace them so we've just got to be honest with ourselves and start putting our hands up.

"Some of it's personal too. We need to look in the mirror and say, 'if I need more fitness, I'll have to go work more on my fitness'. It's a matter of getting off your arse, going out there and doing the extras.

"It's been a massive test this past month but we've got the squad. It's just a matter of turning up on the day and getting the job done."

Batley v Sheffield

Exciting days at 'Mount Hollywood'

To be involved in our second quarter-final in two weeks is exciting for everyone at the club.

Although the final result last week was disappointing, at 57 minutes the score was 12-26 so it did not reflect the game and the efforts our players put in.

There is no doubt Catalans were a huge side and must be the biggest side in Super League even though they lie at the wrong end of the table.

It was a great turnout from Batley and from visiting supporters who attended for a day out and I thank you all on behalf of the club and hope you enjoyed the event.

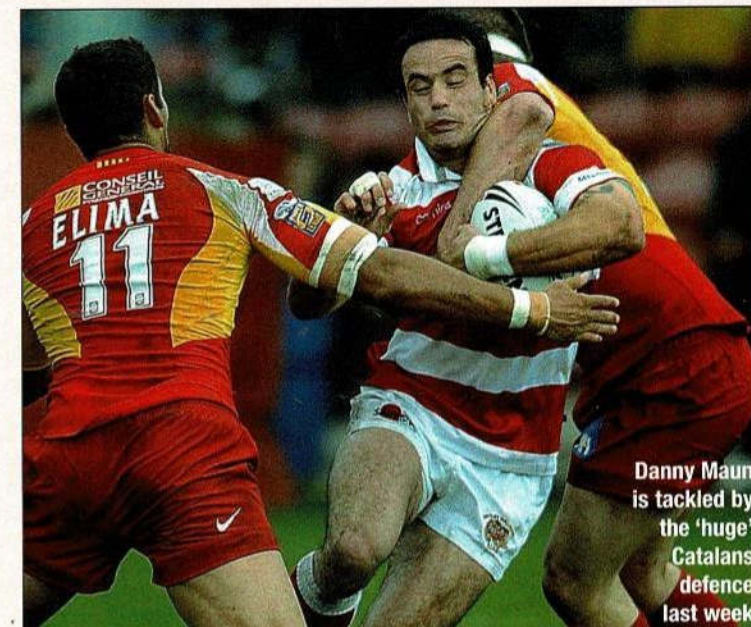

On the right occasion we have now proved that we can get home crowds of 2,000 without away support, so there is some light at the end of the tunnel there. Judging by our bar and food sales, everybody seemed to have embraced the occasion and enjoyed themselves which is good to see.

We put a lot of time and effort into promoting the game and we did manage to get plenty of publicity for the club but we just do not have the manpower and resources to maintain that level, which is frustrating but a reality as Super League clubs have full time staff to do what we did over the last couple of weeks.

Nevertheless, we will try to improve, as we know it works but the cost of promoting and marketing is an issue.

In any event we have not had sufficient time to properly market today's game so we just hope that people are interested enough to come and watch what should be a cracking game.

We lost it in the last ten minutes at Sheffield who undoubtedly are our bogey team. Then I saw that they lost it

Danny Maun is tackled by the 'huge' Catalans defence last week in the last minute against Keighley with a decisive drop goal, which shows how competitive games are.

Clearly we are seeking to avenge that defeat as well as trying to progress to a semi-final where we need to perform better than our last semi against Doncaster, but I think somehow we would if we win today.

This week has seen our premises used as a film location in relation to a production company who hope to have the film released in early 2011.

The Bryan Cooney Suite has made its debut in the world of cinema in what we are told is a gritty northern comedy drama. More will be revealed shortly but let's hope it is a box office success.

Finally, a mention about next week when the Bissa dinner is next Friday the 11th June at the Ponderosa, so please make that a sell out.

Then before the Leigh game there is a touch and pass curtain-raiser between GB All Stars and Batley All Stars which is not to be missed with some great names in the GB line up and some Batley names in the Batley line up.

It is all to raise money for the 'Life 4 a Kid' charity so please support it and get to the ground early. However, before then enjoy today's game.

This Father's Day why not treat your rugby mad dad to his own dedicated seat in the Kirkwood Hospice Community Stand at Batley Bulldogs Ground?

Seat dedications are also an ideal way to remember those dads who, sadly, are no longer with us.

Fifty per cent of all seat dedications will go to Kirkwood Hospice.

Seat dedications cost just £50 and are in place for twelve months with the option to extend for subsequent years. Please phone Lesley on 07901 566 711 to arrange a seat dedication or look on the club's website for further information.

Hunslet v Leigh

Gee but it's great to be back home...

AFTER six consecutive away games we finally arrive back at South Leeds Stadium for today's NR Cup tie against high flying Leigh.

Games against Leigh in the past have produced some memorable and exciting moments and I see no reason why today's game should be any different.

Leigh are pressing for the title in the Co-operative Championship and we are in with an excellent chance of gaining automatic promotion from Championship 1.

We also come into this game on the back of some excellent league results, typified by the beating of league leaders Oldham by 60 points to 4 away from home.

We played some of the best rugby seen from a Hawks side for many a year, which even the Oldham fans were applauding in the last 10 minutes!

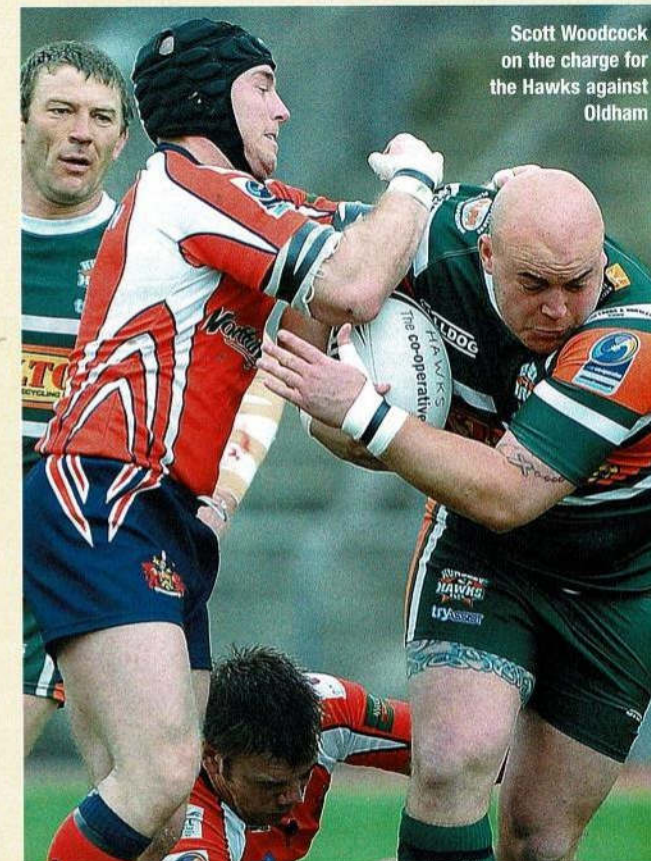

Let's hope that today's crowd proves that the Hunslet public really do want a side in the RFL.

The team has done all it can to provide entertaining and successful rugby league and it is now up to the stay-away fans to back the club and return to the fold.

Today's gate and those for our remaining five home fixtures will be closely monitored and hopefully will show that the fans are indeed returning to support the Hawks.

We've Swept the Seas Before Boys - And So We Shall Again!!

Alan Stephenson
Chief Executive

Scott Woodcock on the charge for the Hawks against Oldham

This tie will be a benchmark

Today's Northern Rail Cup match against Leigh will be a hard test and a measure against the progress we have made in the league.

The month of May saw the Hawks play five consecutive away fixtures and today's home fixture is a welcome respite away from travelling.

Positive wins for the Hawks and a defeat for Blackpool saw us head the league for the first time this season on merit.

The club is firmly focused on winning Championship 1.

We are hoping for a bumper crowd as we entertain Leigh this afternoon.

Leigh with their wonderful ground, firm support and wealth of locally talented players are genuine contenders for a Super League licence.

Yet they need to win a trophy and the Northern Rail Cup gives them a chance to frank their Super League application.

Ian Millward is a great coach and has built a solid team after last year's disappointment in the league.

They start the match favourites but with the Hawks in a rich vein of form, a cup upset may be on the cards.

We are all hoping for a big attendance, big game and hopefully a big result!

Keighley v York

Welcome return to Cup and a great opportunity

Well it seems like a long time ago now that our season got under way with the Northern Rail Group stages but we have arrived in June and we are really looking forward to playing York in today's quarter final game.

It will be a very tough game today as York have some very talented players in their squad, Chris Thorman is just one who has played For England, and in many big Super League and NRL games.

Dave Woods has also recently joined the coaching team at York and he has had great success at both Castleford and Gateshead.

That will only help York's promotion bid this year in Championship 1 but like us today they will see this game as a respite from the league and a one-off game with a chance to progress to a semi-final.

We have never been to this stage of the Northern Rail Cup in my time at Keighley so it has been a good achievement - but it is something which we are desperate to keep going as well, so it is really exciting that we have progressed to the knock-out stages.

We shouldn't be too far away from being able to select from full strength today with only Greg Nicholson and Dan Belcher ruled out with rib and hamstring injuries.

Both are well on the road to recovery and will be back in contention in the next couple of weeks.

Enjoy the game,
Baz

Your ideas always welcome

GOOD afternoon and welcome to today's Northern Rail Cup quarter final against the York City Knights.

I would like to welcome the York players, fans and directors to Cougar Park today and I hope you enjoy your day with us and have a safe journey home.

I would also like to welcome Tony Hargreaves and Richard Allan and guests from Northern Rail, who will be presenting the Man of the Match Award today to be selected by the media.

Our match sponsors today are new to us this season, they are Select Group and Skipton Hand Car Wash.

Peter Spencer from Select Group is here with Roger from Skipton and Bruce's Hand car wash along with their guests.

You will have noticed that Skipton and Bruce Hand Car Wash are our new Stand sponsors and Select Group have become new advertising board sponsors. For all that Select Group have to offer please go to www.select-group.org.uk

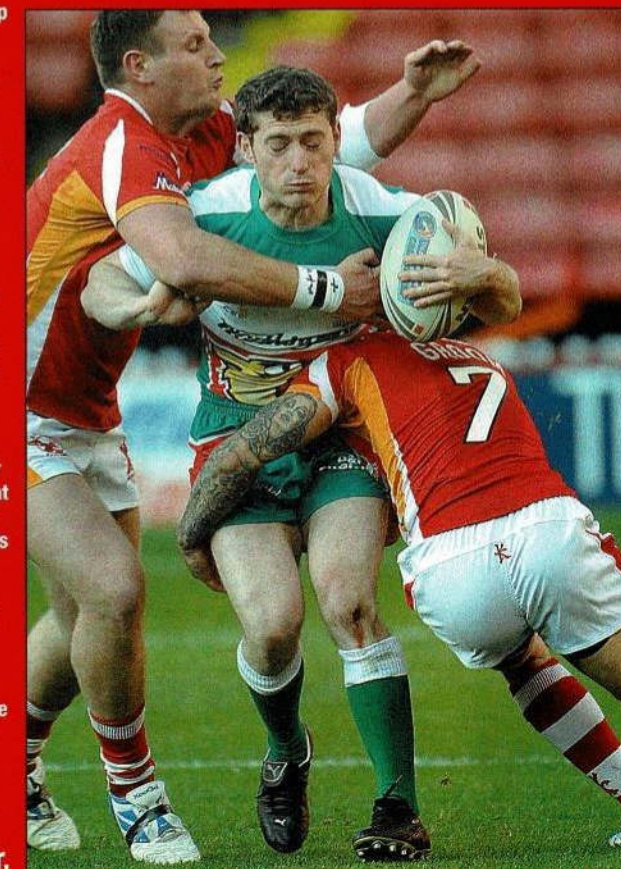

For the next programme I will ask Foundation Manager Dean Muir to write for you as the Foundation is growing at a monumental pace, delivering in more schools, summer camps plus some great news about the Champion Schools competition.

We will be holding a fans forum on the 10th June to discuss the gameday experience and how we can attract more fans to the game. Please all come along and bring some friends.

We have already made some alterations to the game day with more going on as a result of your ideas that have come from our meetings and the forums. But we are still keen to find out how we can attract more people to the games and are keen to hear your views.

I think that's it for now but I hope you enjoy the game and I'll see you soon.

Widnes v Barrow

True extent of Vikings work is not always apparent

GOOD evening and welcome to everyone for tonight's clash with Barrow Raiders.

We've had some poor first half performances over the past three Championship games and our collective display in our last outing against Batley fell short of our usual standard.

The very obvious reason for this is that the injury crisis that we have endured from day one and the unwanted departure of our most senior and influential player, finally took its toll.

The Bulldogs were by far the better team on the day and thoroughly deserved their victory. It's fair to say that as a unit their team has hardly changed for the past eight weeks. As a result of this, they've had consistency in both their preparation and their performance which is a luxury that we've not had in training sessions let alone important games.

However, at times like this it's also important that you look at the bigger picture too, and with that particular weekend in mind, we fielded four different teams over this period, whereas Batley fielded just the one.

At Widnes, we are leading the field in our efforts to tick more than the one box. In addition to the senior squad we run an U21's, an U18's, an U16's and a Scholarship/Service Area programme, so while most of our opponents only have 25 players to manage and pay for, we have 100 plus and our resources are stretched to breaking point week after week, because we're trying to do the right thing for the town and the game.

We should not overlook that we have doubled up twice this season so far at U16 and U18 level with impressive victories over Super League's Warrington Wolves and Salford City Reds.

There's far more going on at Widnes Vikings than just first team matters and we are incredibly proud of our in-house structure.

We're the only Championship club to run and manage a first team, U21's, U18's, U16's and a Scholarship/Service Area system, without relying on local amateur clubs to double up as professional junior teams on our behalf.

Typically, players are cherry-picked from their junior clubs around the age of U13's upwards and are invited to join our 'Scholarship and Service Area' system, which we believe should be the first port of call for any aspiring Halton Rugby League player who has a dream of making it in the game.

We operate a player-pathway that goes far beyond the nuances of Rugby League, and offers a holistic approach that encompasses lifestyle intervention, nutritional guidelines and educational assistance for all our U14's, 15's and 16's.

We're not alone in looking after the younger element though, as Featherstone, Whitehaven, Sheffield and Leigh also run an U15's and U16's Scholarship, but having said that we are the only Championship club to run an U18's!

Another option we offer at the Vikings is the opportunity to gain a 'NVQ Level 3' in Sporting Excellence whilst studying towards a National Diploma at our educational partner, Riverside College.

We also run the all-new 'AASE Programme' (Advanced Apprenticeship in Sporting Excellence). This is brand new to Rugby League this year and explores a whole host of topics ranging from Psychology through to Career Management. It gives the lads a good grounding in not only their sporting career but future outside the game, too.

Overseeing both our U16's and U18's is Phil Finney and his 20-man squad won 6 from 6 in 2010 against Super League license challengers Leigh and Whitehaven, whilst also seeing off the threat of Salford and Warrington, and putting more than 60 points on both Crusaders and Harlequins. Further to this, there were also England U16's Representative honours in 2010 for both Tom Gilmore and Lewis Whitty.

Our 22-man U18's squad is made up mostly of local players who have come through our in-house system. We take great pride in the fact that we develop and nurture the players ourselves, rather than relying on the development systems of our local competitors.

Our Reserve grade team is supervised by Head Coach Dave Banks, who is assisted by former Bradford Bulls player, Vinny Myler. To cut a long story short, the U21's is a 'holding-bay' for players in a transitional period of their careers and whether it's injury or form related, the Reserves provide a vehicle to transport players toward the last stage of the Vikings development system, and in a best case scenario all the way through to the first team.

As I've mentioned on many occasions, this framework and infrastructure hasn't happened overnight or been fast-tracked for the benefit of a license application.

We're blessed with a tremendous set-up which has been the envy of many of our rivals for many a year and we're leaving nothing to chance, when it comes to our objective of returning this great club back into the elite competition.

Enjoy the game and please support the collective efforts of the Vikings.

Barrow v Whitehaven

Cumbria should be home to a Super League side!

WELCOME to Craven Park for our game against our neighbours from up the coast, Whitehaven.

Today will be our first league game since our defeat at Halifax and it is important to get back to winning ways.

Whitehaven, as always, will provide a stern test for us and I am sure Ged Stokes will have his team well prepared.

Last week was a tremendous occasion for the club at St. Helens.

Everybody connected with Barrow Raiders, both on and off the field can be very proud of our efforts.

At the end of the game the players and coaching staff were a little disappointed that we didn't win the game, however St. Helens proved what a quality team they are under pressure.

Finally, welcome to the supporters, directors, coaching staff and players of Whitehaven. I have nothing but praise for everybody connected with Haven.

Cumbria is a fantastic place to be involved in Rugby League and I believe the work done over the last decade in the county has proved that a Super League club would thrive in this part of Europe!

Enjoy the game,
Steve Mack

Saints' Paul Clough meets typically resolute defence from the Barrow boys

Huge pride from Saints match

Good evening everyone and a warm welcome to the players and staff of Whitehaven to our Furness Heating Components Stadium

Well I hope we find you all fully recovered and refreshed from the travels to St Helens and Widnes.

At the time of scripting this I obviously can't speak about the Widnes encounter but the St Helens display I can.

I was swollen with pride to witness the display posted by the team and at 16-12 there was a euphoric feeling that maybe there could be something in it for us.

Alas the full time athletes began to wear us down in the last quarter of the game and added to the points tally to give a numerical view of an easy win.

Well the accolades that were bestowed on our players by the St Helens team were very much that from a team that were made to battle all the way.

When current Gt. Britain internationals heap praise on your performance you know you have given a good account of yourself and each and every member of the team's infrastructure can feel justifiably proud of their achievements.

Well done one and all.
Of course it is no good posting performances like that against teams from the Promised Land and then relaxing against opposition from your own division.

We were well below our desired level against a Halifax side that do not require a second invitation to score an easy try last time out in the league.

Tonight will be a similar case if we afford Whitehaven the same level of respect.

Earlier in the season up at Whitehaven I felt we controlled the game in the fact that we wore the Whitehaven lads down.

The format of this game will be of a similar pattern as the opposition are also a proud bunch of individuals who want the bragging rights back and do not want to be the first Haven team to have inflicted upon itself an unwanted double from the Raiders for many a year.

I hope you all enjoy the match and I will see you in the bar after the match.

Halifax RLFC v Dewsbury

It's a topsy-turvy game as Stan Gene shows with this acrobatic touchdown in the win against
Barrow at The Shay

Critical week lies ahead

Dewsbury Rams were the first side to visit the Shay at the start of the 2010 season. I remember that it was bitterly cold, the East Stand was (still) not ready, and Halifax produced a hard fought 24-0 victory.

After the match, I ventured the opinion to my opposite number Mark Sawyer that Dewsbury, who had returned to the Co-operative Championship, "would be alright, if they play like that." In the intervening period, a lot of water has passed under the bridge, and in some respects this has become a season to forget.

But from the Halifax point of view, the positives have been the opening of the East Stand, and a major turn around from a spell of very poor form which saw elimination from the Northern Rail Cup and which threatened to remove all prospects of success in the Championship.

Now the whole season could hang on two matches within a week, home to Dewsbury Rams and Featherstone Rovers.

Dewsbury are far from the pushovers their league position might suggest.

The combination of a crippling injury list and unlucky bounce of the ball has given them a false position - a fact they demonstrated, clearly, last weekend with a bonus point, which some reports suggest should have been a win, at Featherstone. We will treat them with respect, they have earned it.

The weather forecast suggests that this match will be played in proper summer conditions. I am one of those who questions the point of a 'summer' season starting in January or February.

The game, now, is about running and handling, and last weekend at Leigh, or the previous weekend at Keighley, demonstrated how entertaining that can be. I'd like to think that a Halifax win could be safe, early, but I'm pretty sure we'll be on the edge of our seats throughout.

Bring on the entertainment.

Gateshead v Swinton

We've more than meets the eye

TWO notable events happened to me last Sunday. The first was that Gateshead Thunder 1st Team lost to Rochdale.

For many people that will be all they know about Thunder. I was recently surprised to be told that someone knew enough as they had seen the scores, knew the attendances, knew that we were up-to-date on tax and had seen our community figures.

That doesn't tell anyone the real story – and that was the relevance of the 2nd notable event.

I walked down to the game with one of our under 18 players. He told me that he had first seen rugby league at the age of six when he was bought a 1999 Super League Gateshead Thunder season ticket.

At the age of 14 he had decided against rugby union and persuaded his parents to ferry him miles to a junior rugby league club. Three years later he has now made his debut for the 1st Team. It struck me that actions might not pay off immediately but investment is rewarded in time.

And I've used the words "1st team" and "club" deliberately as we are more than just the Championship One side. We have an under 16 squad, an under 18 team in the National Youth League and the beginnings of a reserve team - if it were not for the RFL's short sightedness, they too would be playing in a league structure.

Gateshead Thunder is a club. It might not be this season, but we will become a strong club with your support.

Enjoy the game.

Winning 'go-forward' is vital to our progress

GOOD afternoon and welcome to everyone from Swinton Lions.

I understand that Swinton are going through a few difficulties that unfortunately come with change, but with perseverance and determination, I'm sure that it will come go for the club and it's fans.

Last week was a disappointing performance as we seemed to stop going forward on our progression as a fledgling team.

We struggled to cope with Rochdale's go-forward, thus giving them control of the ruck and ultimately the game.

We have discussed it as a team and where we need to go to improve our performance for today's game.

We are now set for our Under 16 Extended Scholarship programme, our Under 18 National Youth League team, our Centre of Excellence with Durham Tigers in South Durham and our continued progression with a reserve team.

We now have a competent and productive pathway to give junior players and coaches the opportunity to gain real experience and the chance to play professional rugby league.

This club is finally giving real opportunities to the people that count across our football, commercial and community departments, all within our first year as a new club and business.

As I always say, I am extremely proud to be associated with Gateshead Thunder and its players, staff, volunteers, sponsors and supporters.

Enjoy the game.

Oldham v Blackpool

The Roughyeds have been in great form on the road, including this win at South Wales Scorpions

A great bunch here all round

Welcome to Whitebank Stadium for this afternoon's game. With Blackpool having suffered their first defeat of the season last Sunday the competitive nature of the division was again underlined.

We showed a lot of courage and application to get a win up at Workington especially as we had a poor first 25 minutes. This team however has already demonstrated this season that it has a strong resolve amongst its ranks and last Sunday was further demonstration of that.

The games at our new home are certainly coming thick and fast for both the first team and the reserves and the match day operation is getting more comfortable each time we play here.

I would like to thank everybody who works on a match day, both volunteers and staff, for their renewed efforts at our new home which already has a good feel about it.

We have more development work to complete yet which is obvious but everybody connected with the club is pulling in the same direction and together we can make things happen.

This season our reserve team again looks to have some real good exciting players and John Hough and his squad have worked hard throughout the winter months and into the season on lots of different aspects which are all designed to hopefully pushing players through to professional contracts and the first team.

We have always prided ourselves on our ability to give opportunities to such players and will continue to do so.

If you get the chance please come down to the ground and watch them in action as they deserve your support. You never know you might be one of the first to see some future international playing!

Let's hope we again have good numbers attending which has been the case so far at Whitebank as this makes all the difference to club's financial health.

Everybody within the game is facing hard times (nothing new there then!) and it is a difficult balancing act finding a good competitive side within a tight budget. With that in mind our new home can hopefully be the catalyst for the club to go from strength to strength.

There will inevitably be blips along the way but if we all keep believing we will eventually get there - after all dreams do come true because we have a ground! Enjoy the game and please get behind the lads.

Workington always tough so result was excellent

IT WAS a great feeling heading back on the long trip from Workington with three points in the bank.

Workington away is a tough assignment on its own without heading up there the week after the 60 point hammering Hunslet delivered us on our home pitch.

I take my hat off to the players for mental toughness they displayed. To remain confident in themselves and each other is a very difficult task after a sound beating.

I'm not saying I didn't expect them to bounce back because they are a special bunch of players who have punched well above their weight for almost half the season.

They have high expectations of themselves and each other and are not happy to deliver anything but their very best.

I also take my hat off to the staff that are true professionals and also remained positive and began rebuilding the moment the final whistle sounded.

And of course I take my hat off to the board and true Oldham fans who offered nothing but genuine support right through the week.

Your positive attitude and support is immense and one of the most important components in a strong and stable club.

Adversity only makes us all stronger and on this occasion the test was not if and why we fell, but how we got up, and last week's positive result against Worky was true testament to what the Oldham Club has become, and the great future we have in front of us.

I'll take this opportunity to welcome everybody from Blackpool to our ground and we hope you enjoy the experience in the heartland of Rugby League.

Enjoy the game.

Trust in Widnes takes RL for a real ride...

FOCUS ON the organisation bringing a new perspective to running Rugby League clubs

I'm Laura Harrison and I'm responsible for the development of rugby league supporters trusts for Supporters Direct. Hello and welcome to the second edition of my new column aiming to highlight the fantastic work being done by supporters' trusts across rugby league.

Many people ask me exactly what a supporter's trust does and to be honest, there isn't a set answer. A key message for all trusts is that they should be aiming to return the club to its fans and increase community involvement and one trust doing just that is Trust in Widnes (TiW), the supporters trust made up of Widnes Vikings fans.

The volunteers at TiW have been doing a sterling job in promoting rugby league in their local area and I caught up with them to find out a little more about their latest project – the Mersey Vikings.

So, what made you decide to develop the community role of the trust?

We see developing the game as a key factor in increasing crowds, not just for the Vikings but across rugby league.

We're really proud to be involved with rugby league and we want to see as many people as possible getting the same enjoyment as we do from it.

Working in the local community seems to be the best way to do that and hopefully the more work we, and others, can do, the stronger the game will be in the long run.

Who are the Mersey Vikings and how did the idea come about?

The Mersey Vikings are a new wheelchair tag rugby league team based in Widnes. We've been instrumental in setting up the team and we're hopeful they'll be a real success in the area.

We initially picked wheelchair rugby league as we noticed that since England won the 2008 wheelchair World Cup, the popularity of the sport has been increasing but wasn't really represented in our area. We're all big rugby league fans and we wanted to do something to increase participation in rugby league.

And how did you go about getting the team together?

Obviously there was a lot of money to be raised which we managed to secure through grant funding. This money was used to purchase 10 specifically adapted chairs and some of it was also used in the organisation of our launch events.

We worked closely with the Local Authority and Sport Development Officers to ensure we had a good base for developing the team and also took the idea to local schools and colleges to raise awareness and interest in what we were trying to do.

It was also very important to us, as it is for all voluntary organisations, to utilise any contacts we had so we were able to secure favours in a number of areas such as catering and marketing in return for publicity.

I was at the launch of the team and had a fantastic day; can you describe how it went?

The overall launch of the team was split into three smaller events. On the Friday afternoon, we had an open-house taster session at Riverside College and encouraged students and staff alike to come down and give the sport a go. Many of them really enjoyed it and the college have now offered us the use of their sports hall for training and matches plus storage of all the equipment in return for the use of it.

They're also planning to add wheelchair rugby league to their curriculum.

Saturday was the most high profile day for us. It started with an exhibition day featuring two matches. First up we had a warm-up fixture pitting staff and students from Riverside College against each other.

We were then really lucky to have the England Wheelchair RL team against a team from the Steve Prescott Foundation. It was a great day and we had a crowd of around 200 people which was fantastic. The event was also featured on Granada TV news and Boots n' All.

Finally we held a Sportsman's Dinner at Widnes Masonic Lodge with over 100 people in attendance, including Steve Prescott, Dave Woods and Robbie Paul.

Overall, the event was a massive success and the Vikings are now up and running and looking forward to their first

Members of the Trust in Widnes tag team with Paul Sculthorpe and the Supporters Direct Challenge Cup they won season. They're fully registered with the RFL so will receive all of the support other community clubs do and the inclusiveness of the sport means that players can come from literally anywhere – there are no barriers.

Fantastic stuff, so what would you say to anybody else thinking of taking the supporters trust route?

Do it! Supporters Trusts are gaining momentum and a reputation that is far greater than just a team of committed supporters for their club.

The Supporters Direct Trust movement will assist the setting up of your trust so that it becomes one of the many transparent, membership led organisations that we have today.

Supporters Direct will also provide the stepping stone and advice that is needed to ensure that you have the procedures and systems in place to comply with the obligations of insurance, finance reporting etc.

Supporters Direct isn't just about purchasing shares in your club, it is about what you can do to promote the sport, support communities and provide access to the sport to those who may not have had interest in the past.

If you'd like to know more about the Mersey Vikings or Trust in Widnes you can visit their website at www.trustinwidnes.com

To find out more about Supporters Direct, please contact me on 07985 628 215 or you can email me on Laura.Harrison@supporters-direct.org.

Jones drops in to lift May honour

PLAYER OF THE MONTH - MAY DANNY JONES, KEIGHLEY COUGARS

It's been a strange month in the Co-operative Championship, what with Halifax being thrown out of the Challenge Cup but surging with their league form, leaders Featherstone losing their unbeaten record and gallant Dewsbury still battling away winless – but giving a few teams a scare!

For the performance of the month it was a toss-up between two Thursday night tv thrillers – Toulouse, inspired by Nathan Wynn, turning over Featherstone at the Bigglands Stadium, and battling Keighley ending Sheffield's run of four wins, again away from home.

But for his sensational form in that game, hitting the 'shanghai' of a try, six goals and the last-gasp, match-winning drop goal, Cougars scrum half Danny Jones lifts the Player of the Month Award for May.

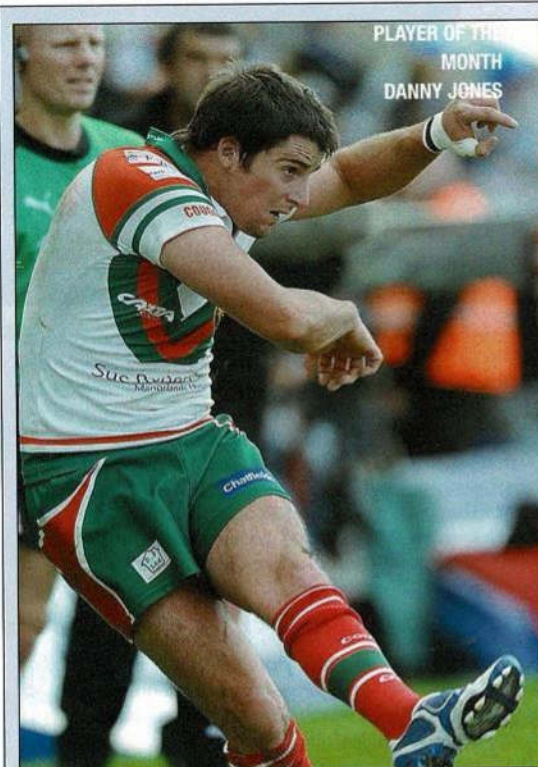

Jones had to fight off the challenge of Wynn for the scrum half berth and he is joined in the halves by Batley's Paul Handforth, who was outstanding as the Bulldogs wracked up wins over Whitehaven, and notably Widnes away.

LEE DORAN – MR VERSATILE

Handforth, ever the crafty playmaker, has forged a great partnership with youngster Gareth Moore, and had to be at his best to resist the claims of Leigh's ever-maturing Martyn Ridyard and Halifax's off-season recruit from Gateshead Luke Branighan, who has been fundamental to Fax's recent form.

On the flanks Tommy Saxton has been a potent strike force for Featherstone while Rob Worrincy's power

Cup debacle can't halt Calland's men

UNBEATEN MONTH – ON THE FIELD – MATT CALLAND

COACH OF THE MONTH - MAY MATT CALLAND, HALIFAX RLFC

HALIFAX coach Matt Calland found himself briefly suspended in the wake of the club's disqualification from the Challenge Cup, before football manager Martin Hall took responsibility for the mix-up over Michael Ostick's appearance against Swinton Lions and stepped down.

The controversy and disruption notwithstanding, Calland led his men stoically on through an unbeaten month which saw them propelled onto the heels of leaders Featherstone and Leigh.

Most importantly, they recorded wins over two of their likely title contenders in Barrow and Leigh and with a game in hand can get within three points of Featherstone, whose serene form was rudely interrupted by a narrow home defeat to the Frenchmen from Toulouse.

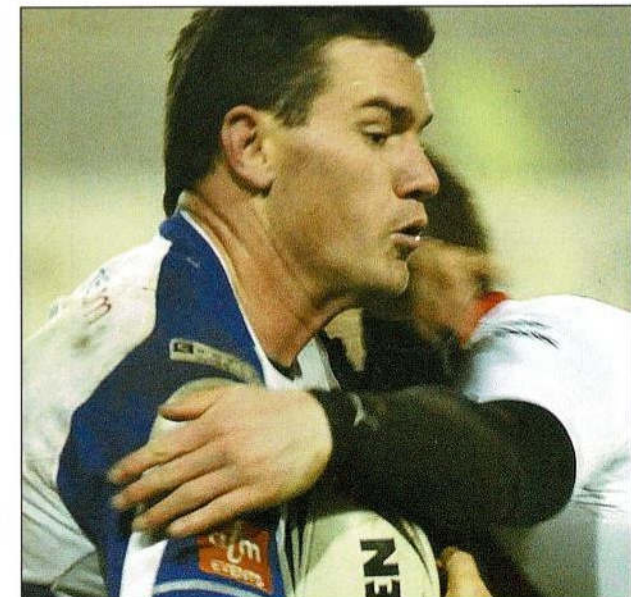

and pace was to the fore with a hat-trick as Halifax disposed of Leigh in a high-scoring thriller at the Sporting Village.

Shad Royston again takes the full-back berth for his assured work and try-scoring nous, and filling out the three-quarters are a 'repeater' in Ned Catic, this time switched from the back row to centre where he has deputised in excellent style for Steve McCormack's men, and Batley evergreen Danny Maun, the stylish centre impressing throughout the month.

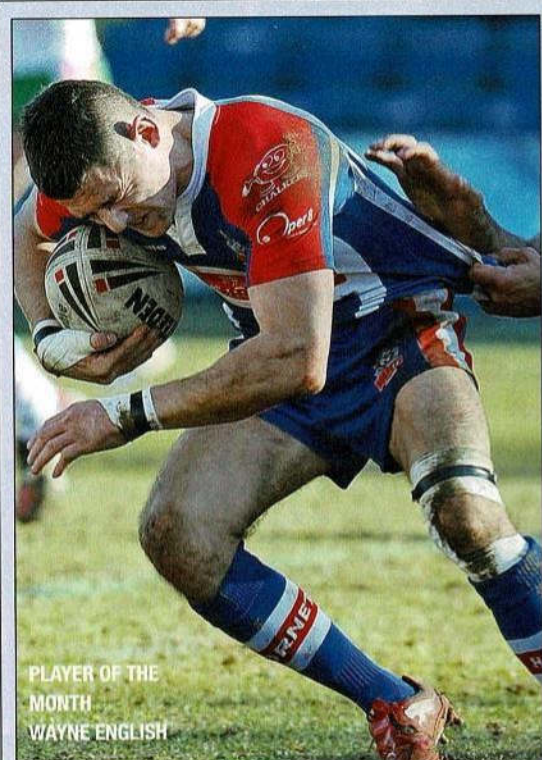

Apart from imposing TOXII prop Brendan Worth there's a new look to the pack for May. Craig Cook, Sheffield Eagles' arch-try sniper, plays at 9 with the Bulldogs' consistently rumbustious Sean Hesketh the other prop.

Another with great utility value has been Widnes Vikings' Lee Doran, doing everything Paul Cullen could ask of him in a difficult month for the Stobart Stadium men, and he is joined in the backrow by the Leigh pair of Tommy Goulden and the ex-Barrow Aussie import Dave Armitstead.

PLAYER OF THE MONTH - MAY WAYNE ENGLISH, HORNETS RL

MAY Championship 1 Player of the Month Wayne English is a legend at Swinton Lions – but the extra lease of life he has found at new club Hornets RL was exemplified in a period when he started and ended the month with hat-tricks.

In sealing the full-back spot English also edged out Paul March who had an almost – almost – irresistible claim to both the Player and Coach of the Month crowns as he literally led the irrepressible Hunslet Hawks unbeaten through the month.

Instead, March has to settle for the consolation of the scrum-half jumper in the May line-up.

It was an up-and-down month for the York City Knights but winger Dennis Tuffour has been in great form and he is joined on the flanks by Blackpool's Damien Munro, in a month where league action was restricted for the Panthers, in part due to their Challenge Cup heroics.

Despite their amazing 132-0 drubbing of Gateshead Munro is the only Blackpool player to make the May team.

Workington's Mike Backhouse and Swinton's Rob Foxen were also strongly considered.

In the centres are the Hawks' Wayne McHugh, who has been prolific with both try and goal scoring performances, despite sharing the kicking duties with David March. It is a repeat appearance in the side for McHugh. Joining him is perhaps a surprise selection is Doncaster's Shaun Leaf.

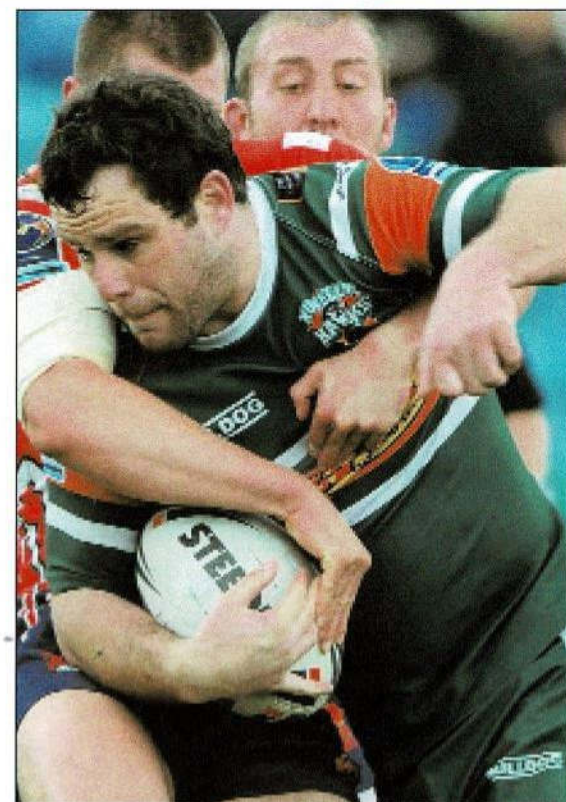

Leaf starred in the Dons' 16-0 victory over Swinton and maintained his good form, seeing off strong challenges for the centre berth from Hornets' reinvigorated Damien Reid, Oldham's Mick Fogerty and South Wales Scorpions' Ash Bateman.

Doncaster's Simon Brown and 'exile' in South Wales Loz Wildbore get honourable mentions for the stand-off berth, but Hornets goalkicking playmaker Paul Crook partners Hunslet's Paul March in midfield.

In the pack only Hornets' in-form Craig Ashall retains a spot from April and he is switched to the loose-forward berth, seeing off the challenges of David March and Dons' new signing from the Rams, Rob Lunt, who has added stability to Tony Miller's forwards.

In the back-row are Workington's Mike Whitehead and Hunslet's Tommy Haughey, although Scorpions pair Lloyd White and Christian Roets had strong calls.

Up front there are two more of the Hornets contingent in Paul Raftery and hooker Phil Wood, with Oldham prop Jason Boults getting a nod in what has been a turbulent month for the Roughyeds as they try to settle into their new home.

HUNSLET'S TOMMY HAUGHEY IN ACTION

A coach vindicated

COACH OF THE MONTH - MAY JOHN STANKEVITCH HORNETS RL

IN a difficult start to his tenure at Hornets, ex-St Helens and Widnes star John Stankevitch kept assuring his team that if they stuck to the script then all would come good. It certainly did in May as an unbeaten month and some excellent wins over play-off rivals Swinton and York saw the Hornets surge up the league table above perhaps the better fancied City Knights and even South Wales Scorpions.

Although Hunslet and Oldham still have breathing space and the Panthers have games in hand, Stankevitch, formerly head coach at Doncaster and assistant at Widnes, has managed to gel his team into a unit that will give any team in the competition work to do if they are not at their very best.

It was a tough decision in a period when Paul March also led his team unbeaten throughout, including a demolition of rivals Oldham at their new Whitebank ground. But for the measurable progress he has got out of his side, Stankevitch gets the thumbs up.

Fairytale over, now real season hots up

THE dream of a trip to Wembley is over for the Championship's last two representatives in the Carnegie Challenge Cup as they went out of the competition to Super League opposition in the quarter-finals.

Barrow Raiders put in a battling performance at St Helens as they were cheered on by around 2,000 travelling fans.

Saints had a 16-6 lead at half-time but that was cut to four points soon after the restart as Ned Catcic claimed his second try after a touch of magic by Jamie Rooney. Only as the Raiders tired did Saints take control and book their place in the semi-finals with late tries to win 32-12.

The Barrow performance following on from the win at Castleford will boost the Cumbrians' Super League case.

Coach Steve McCormack said: "We competed really well and at a times looked on a par with St Helens."

It didn't start well for Batley Bulldogs as they faced Catalans Dragons with prop Sean Hesketh sin binned after only 50 seconds.

The French side built up a steady lead although the Bulldogs fans were boosted by tries from Jason Walton just before half-time and soon after the restart from Kris Lythe. There was no stopping the Super League side in the final 40 minutes as they ran in eight of their 13 tries to win 74-12.

IN THE Championship, Sheffield Eagles' four-match winning run came to a halt with a 25-24 defeat at home to Keighley Cougars.

Eagles coach Mark Aston had wanted to put on a show for the Sky Sports cameras at Bramall Lane. There was a nail-biting finish but the show-stopper was the Cougars' Danny Jones who kicked the winning drop goal in the final minute.

Sheffield out-scored Keighley by five tries to three but couldn't match Jones when it came to adding the two-pointers with the scrum-half kicking three conversions and three penalties – plus scoring a try and the vital drop goal.

Cougars coach Barry Eaton said: "The team's character was tested to the full in the last 35 minutes but the boys hung in there and Danny Jones got the opportunity to get the drop goal, missed one but showed great composure to take the second opportunity."

With the Challenge Cup ties there were only two games in the Championship on Sunday but they were significant.

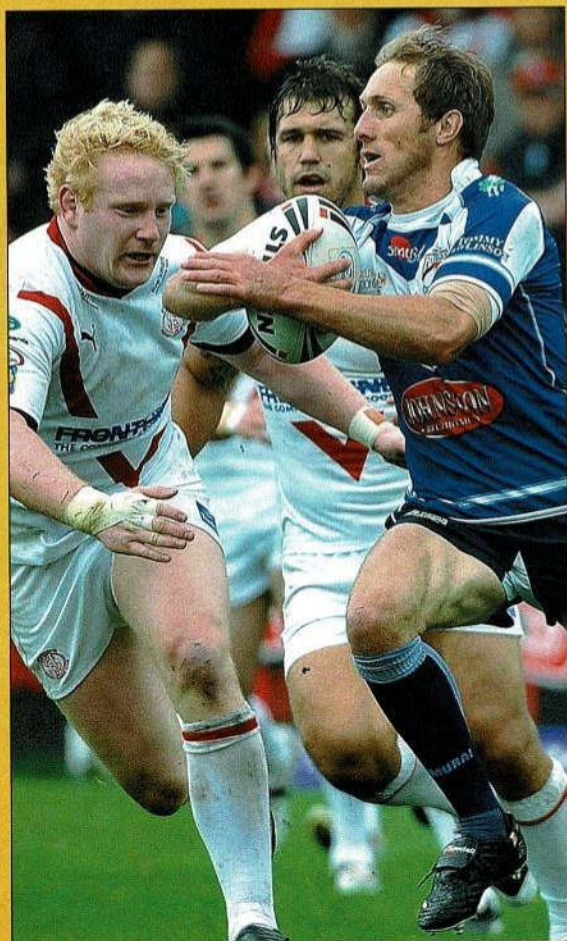

COMING UP...

The Northern Rail Cup is back on the menu with the quarter-finals. It would be difficult to find a more tasty first course than a repeat of last year's final as holders Widnes Vikings have Barrow Raiders as their guests for the Sky Sports game on Thursday.

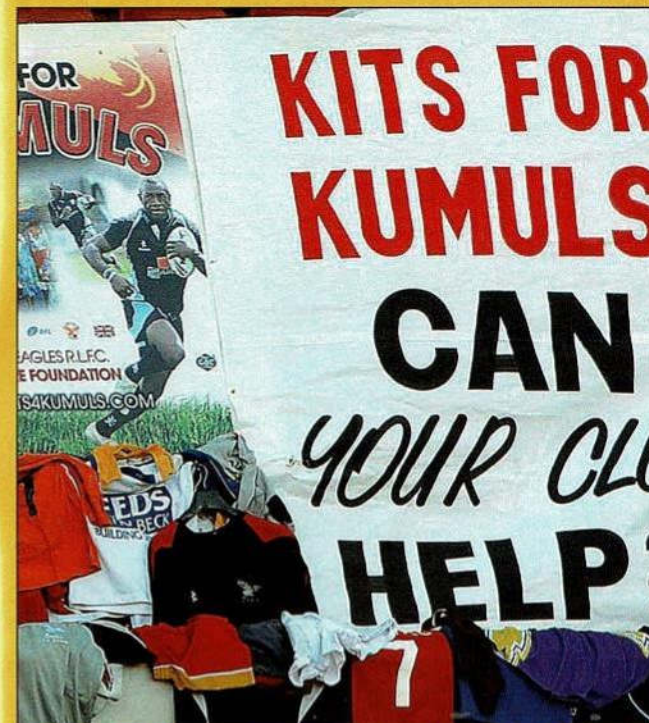

Sunday's games see Championship 1 leaders Hunslet Hawks entertaining a Leigh Centurions side who will want to bounce back in style. Two other sides coming off defeats Batley Bulldogs and Sheffield Eagles clash at Mount Pleasant with Keighley Cougars at home to York City Knights another intriguing tussle.

Dewsbury Rams hope to claim their first win with a tough trip to Halifax before Barrow double up with a home game against Whitehaven on Tuesday.

In Championship 1 there's a cracker in prospect as second-placed Oldham are at home to third-placed Blackpool Panthers. The new-look Swinton Lions travel to bottom club Gateshead Thunder.

Featherstone Rovers had to thank a late try from Kyle Briggs for a narrow 36-32 win over Dewsbury Rams.

Rovers had been hit by a 16-point blast from the Rams late in the second half that wiped out a 30-16 lead. Briggs finished the game with two tries and five goals.

For the Rams it was the second week running they have lost by two points – they now have seven bonus points but still no win.

The win gives Daryl Powell's team a three point lead at the top of the table helped by Halifax's 46-40 win at second placed Leigh Centurions in a game that produced 15 tries.

Winger Rob Worrincy scored a hat-trick for third-placed Fax as they sent Ian Millward's men down to only their second defeat in the league.

In Championship 1 Blackpool lost their first league game of the season going down 24-22 at York City Knights.

The game was decided in the final minute with Knights' winger Tom Lineham squeezing in at the corner for a try. Referring to recent disappointing results coach James Radcliffe said "the real York turned up today". Leaders Hunslet Hawks kept their two-point advantage over second placed Oldham but had to work hard at Doncaster.

Hunslet led 30-8 early in the second half but the Dons came back and earned a bonus point with two late tries with the final scoreline 30-20.

Hawk's player-coach Paul March said: "We didn't show up today – we have some tough games coming up and we have got to play smarter. We are top and clubs are looking to knock us off our perch."

Oldham got back on course and kept up their challenge with a 28-16 win at Workington Town.

Swinton Lions also put recent events on and off the field behind them as they gained a morale boosting 56-28 win over London Skolars. For Skolars it was defeat number 12.

Fellow strugglers Gateshead Thunder were also hit for 50-plus points by visitors Rochdale Hornets. There were hat-tricks of tries for Wayne English and Craig Ashall for Rochdale in the 64-6 win.
