NOBBY'S NOTES

Hello and welcome to today's playoff game at the Whitebank Stadium.

Unbelievably we are again playing our derby rivals Rochdale Hornets for the fifth time and incredibly maybe not for the last time this season. Whoever wins today's encounter will be in the Final and waiting to see who they will play. I firmly believe that Rochdale and ourselves will both be in the final on the 29th September and so today's game is very important to get the week's rest before that huge game.

It's been 4 weeks since we played a fully competitive game against anyone in our league so freshness and eagerness won't be a problem today. I can definitely say that our lads have been looking forward to this game from the minute the final whistle went last week at Spotland Stadium.

I went to the game last Sunday along with Spanner to keep an eye on our rivals along with the London Skolars and was treated to a quality game from both teams. Rochdale pinched the game in the last minute and I have to say I honestly felt for the Skolars, as they gave everything they had, only to end on the losing side.

Today is going to be a typical derby encounter with the added bonus of being the first team in the final, what more can a rugby fan ask for. Hopefully the Roughyed fans have turned out again in force and get the result they have come for.

The club this season has worked incredibly hard from top to bottom and along with a great bunch of players I firmly believe things are moving in the right direction on and off the pitch. In a first year as head coach I couldn't have asked for a better bunch of players and staff to be involved with and appreciate how the fans have also welcomed Spanner and myself into their club. Hopefully the team can deliver the rugby and performance we all want today and finish the season off at Whitebank in style.

CHRIS' COMMENTS

Welcome back to Whitebank for today's crucially important game against our local rivals. Everybody knows that the winners of the game will take their place in the Grand Final on 29th September at Leigh Sports Village so nobody will need any motivation whatsoever. Throw in the added ingredient of a local derby and you probably have the perfect mix for a match of this importance.

Having finished the season in second place we have already bettered what a lot of people expected for us this season but there is no way that we are happy to settle for what we have done already. Everybody at the club is focused on going further and hopefully completing what we have strived for over a number of years - promotion to the Championship. We are under no illusions at all about the size of the task ahead this afternoon and we know we will need to be on our game to have a chance of getting to the Final. The last few weeks have presented us with a challenge of a different kind in so much that we have had no competitive matches to play since we last played Rochdale in front of the TV cameras but I would like to think that we have put a lot of thinking and effort into planning what should happen in that period to ensure we are ready to go today.

Certainly the players will tell you that there has been no lack of intensity in training and the match against Leigh under 20s and even last week the squad was given what Scott described as a "big mental challenge" with a very hard session involving a large set of steps! Suffice to say the lads came through with flying colours just as they have all season when faced with adversity in one form or another.

If you are like me you will have been through every scenario possible in terms of the Playoffs and what could happen but there is no doubt we have earned the right to be here with a group of lads who have given their all, week in week out and I certainly hope they pass the latest test today. I am hoping that I won't have to write any more notes for a game next week so I want to take this opportunity to thank everybody who has helped to make this season so good so far.

There will be other occasions where the players and staff connected with the team get their plaudits but I want to publicly thank our volunteers and match day staff who year after year give up their time to help the club put on matches. Without you we couldn't do it and we are very grateful.

To you the fans who back us up and down the country I mention every week how important and how appreciated you are and we will certainly be trying our level best to give you something to shout about today.

Your support does make a difference and there is no better incentive than a place in the Grand Final in two weeks time to shout and sing your hearts out to encourage the lads on the field today.

Enjoy the game!

A SEASON THAT HAS ALREADY SURPASSED ALL EXPECTATIONS

says Roger Halstead (Roughyeds' media manager)

THE editor's edict was all-embracing ... "Sum up the season -- in as many words as you want."

As my former sports desk colleagues on the Oldham Evening Chronicle would testify, that's an open invitation for this observer to write a book, so I need to be as disciplined as a good rugby league player, keep my tendency to waffle in check and get to the point.

Where better to start than the final table for Kingstone Press Championship 1? Stats don't lie --- well, not very often --- so what does the table tell us, and what does it conceal, about a 2013 season in which a former Super League star in his first head coach's job, assisted by a bloke called 'Spanner', took a bunch of largely untried youngsters and turned them into a fighting force that surpassed all expectations?

It tells us that North Wales Crusaders, the champions, and Oldham, the runners-up, were by far the best and most consistently successful teams in the competition, given that they were separated by only two league points and the second-placed Roughyeds finished an astonishing NINE points better off than Rochdale and London, their closest rivals.

It tells us that Scott Naylor's boys were the only club to have as many bonus points as defeats; in other words the only team to pick up at least one point from every occasion they took to the field.

It tells us that by averaging nearly 32 points a game and conceding 18, they had the third best attacking record and the second best defence.

So, purely from a statistical standpoint, what does it fail to reveal?

For starters, it doesn't tell us that by remaining unbeaten over their last nine league games --- eight wins and a draw --- Oldham went into the play-offs while able to boast the longest unbeaten run over all competitions in the entire professional game, Super League, Championship, Championship One.

It fails to turn the spotlight on a team, led by rookie skipper Lewis Palfrey, that finished with the division's best away record; only one defeat on a long and winding road and even that a desperately close 22-20 loss at the Wrexham home of the champions elect on June 9.

It fails to show that while Roughyeds harvested a bonus point at Wrexham, the champions couldn't manage it in defeat at Whitebank; nor did they come out on top in the aggregate scores of champions and runners-up over the two home-and-away games, the runners-up finishing "victorious" by 48 points to 32.

By all the laws of sporting justice, both North Wales and Oldham should already have started their promotion celebrations. Alas, it doesn't work like that. The system calls for only the champs to go up automatically, so Roughyeds must now do battle in the play-offs, starting with today's home game against derby rivals Rochdale Hornets.

Hornets won't give a hoot about their nearest and dearest's achievements over the course of the regular season. Nor would anyone expect them to.

Having said that, the play-off format rewards Roughyeds for finishing second by offering them one, and maybe even two, home games en route to the final at Leigh Sports Village on Sunday, September 29.

And they have shown already this year that they possess the skill, strength, mental toughness and insatiable appetite for success to make life difficult for any club in this division.

The young squad's backbone was never more tested than on its travels to many parts of the country and it was Oldham wins in far-flung outposts such as North London, Hemel Hempsted, Oxford, Gateshead, Neath and Cheltenham that provided proof positive that here was a group of players who had the stomach for the fight and the desire to overcome adversity.

The SS -- Scott and 'Spanner' --- were responsible for that; Scott with his firm and straight-talking leadership, allied to his many years of experience at the highest level; 'Spanner', or should we give him his real name, Lee Spencer, with his infectious enthusiasm, unrivalled love of rugby league and all it stands for and his background in identifying, coaching and developing young and talented players.

A word too for conditioner Mike Hughes, a 26-year-old with a degree in sports physiology, whose job it has been to make sure the players are strong, fit, fast, as injury free as possible and well fed.

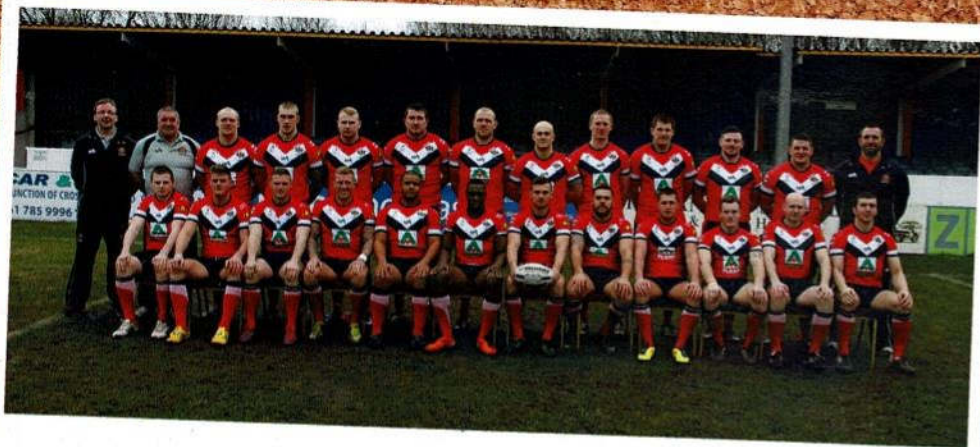

Like the physiotherapy team, Mike has done a top job in his first season at Whitebank and, like the coaches, has often spoken of the great relationship they enjoy with the staff at Oasis Academy, Hollins Road where players enjoy the benefits of wonderful, state-of-the-art training and recreational facilities.

On the field the players have done club, town and their loyal fans proud. It would be unjust and unfair to pick out individuals in what has been a team effort in every sense of the word.

Suffice to say that, while history will gauge Oldham's success or otherwise this year on the outcome of these play-offs, those closer to club and team know that, whatever happens in the next two weeks, Scott, 'Spanner' and all the boys can take a bow for producing in their first year here a dressing room that overflows with pride and purpose.

THE SEASON SO FAR

SPANNER'S TURN ON THINGS

As we enter the play offs I would just like to say how proud we are of the whole squad for their commitment and dedication to the cause that Scott set out back in November of last year.

From day one the players have bought into our philosophy on how we wanted the game to be played.

We have had only one non contact injury in a whole season which is remarkable but not surprising as it is a consequence of our belief in young talent who listen to all the staff, the conditioners and physiotherapists, especially on looking after their bodies.

At the start of the season we had a group of players largely untested in this division from a diverse range of previous clubs. They had been involved with lots of different coaches with varied coaching styles and philosophies. They had the unenviable task of quickly gelling and learning from each other as well as understanding Scott's and my take on things.

As the season has progressed they have done all of these things and been tested further by Scott and myself to mature and become a very solid group of players.

Much of what we do is built on the players own desire to learn and the ability to never say "We can't do that".

We have constantly challenged them to raise their standards and their response has been nothing short of phenomenal.

I don't want to go into depth on individuals as that is for Scott to do in his end of season review, but we have some special players at this club now.

Look at the attendances at the end of the season games, people will come to be entertained and even if the result goes against us they appreciate honest determination, desire and skill.

Bring on the play-offs

Oasis Academy Oldham celebrates Roughyeds partnership landmark and record breaking GCSE results

Principal David Hayes and ORLFC Chairman and Chief Executive Chris Hamilton with Roughyeds' players and staff and students of Oasis Academy Oldham.

Staff and students at Oasis Academy Oldham will be cheering on Oldham Rugby League Club in today's crunch play-off game at Whitebank exactly six months after signing an exclusive partnership with the club.

The Academy struck an exciting deal with Oldham Rugby League Club in March in a bid to drive fitness and sporting standards at the school.

It has seen club coaches and players rolling out special training and mentoring sessions with students.

In return the Roughyeds have been carrying out high level training sessions at the Academy's cutting edge sports facilities at its Hollinwood campus.

The partnership is proving to be a great success and continues to develop with plans in place to involve club physios and nutrition experts in school lessons.

Record breaking GCSE results

The six month milestone comes within days of the Academy achieving the best GCSE results in the school's history. Oasis Academy Oldham principal David Hayes said the results marked a significant shift in the school's progression after recording sharp increases on last year figures.

"We are delighted with this set of GCSE results which show major improvements," he said. "I am extremely proud of our students who have secured the best ever outcomes for themselves in the Academy's history. I would like to pay tribute to all Year 11 students and to our team of dedicated staff who have been rewarded for their effort. These results are the culmination of high expectations, sheer hard work, determination and a relentless focus on every child achieving their full potential. The number of students achieving at least five A*- C grades including English and Maths has risen to 50%, up 17% on last year's figures. Similarly, the percentage of pupils achieving five or more A*- C grades has catapulted by 18% to a total figure of 85%"

Roughyeds' partnership

Oasis Academy Oldham Head of P.E., Joe Varey said the school's partnership with Oldham Rugby League Club had further helped to drive up sporting and fitness standards outside of the classroom.

"The partnership has been a terrific success," he said. "It has provided us with the opportunity to work with some of the leading sports stars in our area. The club now regularly trains at our site using the 3G pitches, athletics track and Multi Use Games Area.

Our relationships continue to grow positively and we are planning to deliver a number of new joint initiatives in the future. We are tapping into the club's knowledge and expertise in areas like fitness and nutrition by involving them in suitable BTEC lessons. We are also rolling out leadership, responsibility and team working sessions with players acting as mentors."

The partnership has seen after school coaching sessions for Year 7, 8 and 9 students. It has also enabled pupils to provide half time entertainment on match days and support with ball boy duties.

Academy Open Days

The Academy is now preparing to open its doors with a series of Open Days to prospective students and parents interested in finding out more about the school.

The first open day takes place on October 1 at the campus in Hollins Road, Oldham, Greater Manchester OL8 4JZ. The event takes place between 6pm and 8pm. It will provide Year 5 and 6 students and parents an excellent opportunity to see what the Academy can offer. There will be an opportunity to meet teachers and tour the site. For more information contact Mr Heatley on 0161 624 9630 or email carl.heatley@oasisoldham.org.

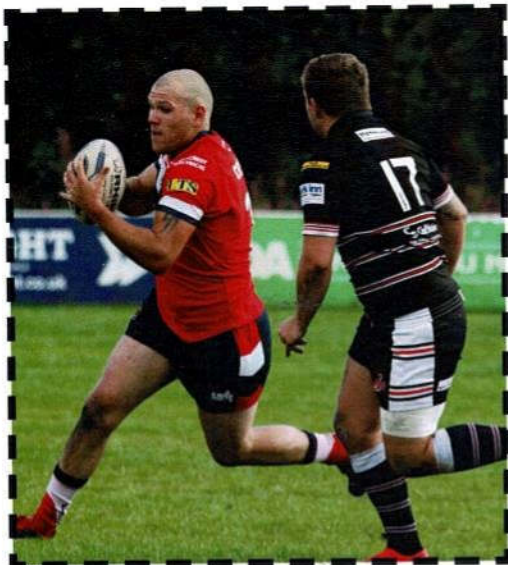

For further information about Oasis Academy visit www.oasisacademyoldham.org or email office@oasisacademyoldham.org or phone 0161 624 9630.

AND SO TO THE FUTURE

MANY of you will have read on the club website (www.roughyeds.co.uk) and in the local press that we are already well into our plans for next season in terms of re-signing players.

We are delighted to confirm that Phil Joy, Danny Langtree, Sam Gee and Josh Crowley had signed new deals by the time this programme went to the printers.

All of them have committed to Roughyeds for another year irrespective of which division we will be in --- positive proof, surely, of their loyalty to the club and their high regard for coaches Scott Naylor and Lee Spencer, who are both on two-year agreements and, as such, will also be with us in 2014.

When each of the players was interviewed after putting pen to paper for next year the common theme was how much they had enjoyed being part and parcel of the first-team squad this season and how much they were already looking forward to working with Scott and 'Spanner' again in the new season, hopefully at a higher level.

Here are tit-bits from what they said:

Phil Joy: "It was always going to be a challenge for me to break into the first team and stay there, but we have a great team spirit and playing alongside some great mates made it a lot easier for me."

Danny Langtree: "A lot of us stepped up into our first full season of senior rugby, so we were all in the same boat. We helped each other along, with great backing from Scott and 'Spanner'."

Sam Gee: "I've never enjoyed my rugby as much for a long time. Whatever happens in the play-off games we have had a great season and I've loved every minute of it."

Josh Crowley: "We all aspire to get up into the Championship, but I've signed for next year no matter what because I'm sure the club is going places and it will be good to have Scott and 'Spanner' in charge of us again."

Keep an eye on the website, where we try to update fans DAILY about all aspects of the club, for news of more signings as they happen.

PHIL'S NOTES

The last game of our season against York City Knights was probably the most satisfying of our campaign. After being trounced away at York 3 weeks prior to our home encounter, to turn round a 54-0 defeat into an 18-17 victory, was extremely satisfying. We played with a lot of guts and determination and not withstanding a fair amount of skill.

An enormous pat on the back to all the lads was fully deserved.

The format of the league fixtures was a disaster, with large gaps between games, which does not give much chance to build any type of consistency.

Overall, I am extremely pleased with the players' progress throughout this season. They have worked very hard and both Mark and I found it a privilege to work with such an outstanding bunch of young players.

I would like to sign off these programme notes with a massive thank you to Chris Hamilton for giving me the opportunity to coach the U20s under such difficult financial circumstances, Scott and Spanner for their support and direction, all the First Team Squad for their encouragement to the U20s Squad both at training and on game days and finally to our superb fans whose support carries you through - win or lose!

Best wishes,
Phil
