X --- O X O NOBBY'S NOTES O X --- O X

Hello and welcome to today's game against London Skolars at the Whitebank Stadium. This will unfortunately be our last game at the ground this season in front of our fans so hopefully it will be the result everyone is hoping for.

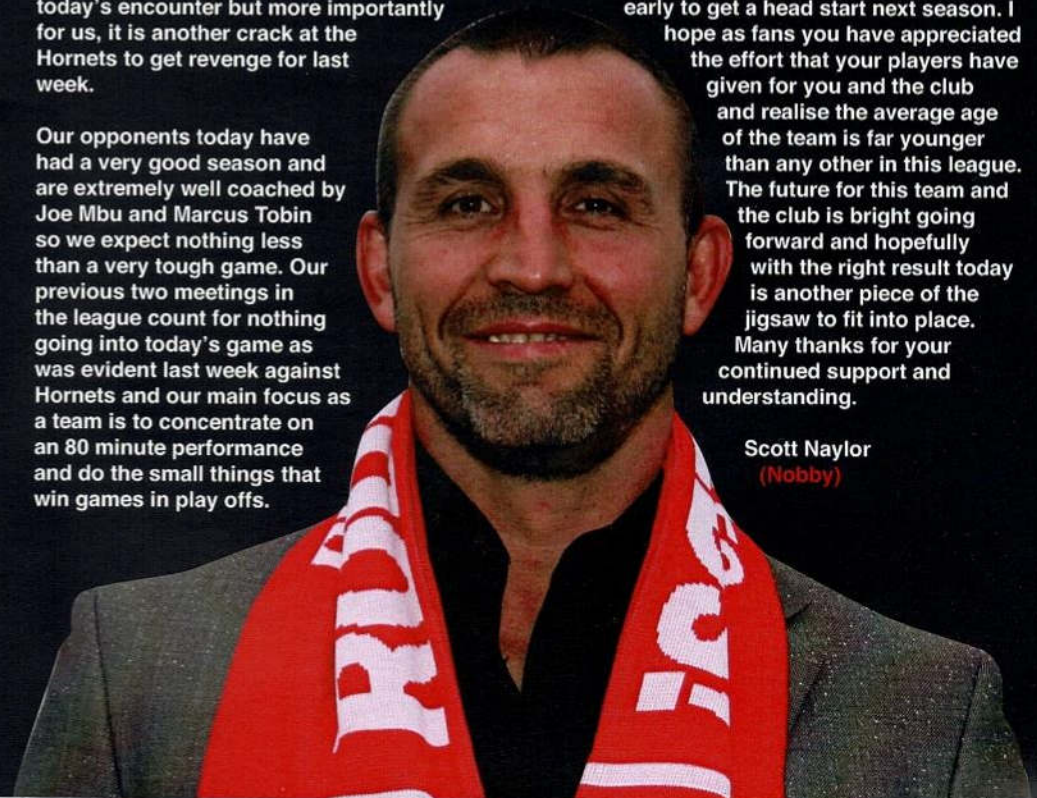

Last week against Rochdale Hornets was a steep learning curve about play off rugby for our young team, but as always they have responded in training and I can assure all our fans that your lads will be giving nothing short of 100% in today's game to get the win they want so badly. An appearance in the championship 1 final awaits the winner of today's encounter but more importantly for us, it is another crack at the Hornets to get revenge for last week.

Our opponents today have had a very good season and are extremely well coached by Joe Mbu and Marcus Tobin so we expect nothing less than a very tough game. Our previous two meetings in the league count for nothing going into today's game as was evident last week against Hornets and our main focus as a team is to concentrate on an 80 minute performance and do the small things that win games in play offs.

Joe has some quality players and the use of dual registration from the London Broncos which makes them extremely dangerous all over the park which is evident in the amount of points they have scored this season home and away. I went to watch London play Rochdale two weeks ago and was very impressed with the Skolars fringe players and half backs so we have to be at our best defensively today from start to finish.

As you may be aware we have already begun signing players for next season whichever league we play in and are fully focused on the future of the club and putting things in place early to get a head start next season. I hope as fans you have appreciated the effort that your players have given for you and the club and realise the average age of the team is far younger than any other in this league. The future for this team and the club is bright going forward and hopefully with the right result today is another piece of the jigsaw to fit into place. Many thanks for your continued support and understanding.

CHRIS' COMMENTS

Welcome back to Whitebank for what we all hope will be a better day - in more ways than one - for our club! Last week saw our local rivals win with a drop goal in the last minute but we probably lost the game earlier than that with the mistakes we made in the first half.

The conditions were dreadful and the players officials and fans all deserve a lot of credit for even turning up in that awful weather! One thing is for sure Scott Naylor knows exactly why we didn't win and daft as it may sound that is a big plus. Whenever I speak with Scott he is without fail very explicit in his views on the game and on individual matches and as we spoke about last week's match it was no different. Throughout the course of the last few months, since his arrival, he has built the same mentality into the players in terms of them all knowing what their role is and how to go about it.

There is no doubt that the areas where we weren't at our best last week will have been addressed and rectified and the mind set of the players we have at this club will also ensure that any areas we need to improve on will be. Every time we have needed to react from a defeat this season - and there haven't been many - the lads have done so and we are all hoping that will again be the case today. London Skolars arrive today having had their best season ever, regardless of today's result, and we just need to make sure it doesn't get any better!!

We know we need to be on our game today if we are to get to the Grand Final and we certainly don't want to finish second in the normal league season with no reward, so it's all set up for an afternoon of high drama once again!

You will also have seen over the last couple of weeks some of the work we started several weeks ago coming to fruition in the form of players re-signing for next year and hopefully there will be more announced before today.

Myself and Scott had long discussions about what was required to keep us going forward in lots of different areas and whilst this match and hopefully one more next week are absolutely crucial it was also important to start to put the building blocks in place for next year. There is still a lot of work to do but things are happening in lots of different areas.

As ever you did your utmost last week to lift the lads and they almost did it but with hopefully better weather and more fans present you can be our 18th man and get us over that line and into the final.

As I have said on many occasions we need to generate a noisy atmosphere and urge the lads on - I know you want let them down!!

Enjoy the game.

'The Roughyeds Programme'

The E-mail ether was buzzing, deadline time was drawing near,
And these two giants of the 'business' were getting very near,
To their final programme edit and to send it on its way,
To meet the printer's deadline, to be ready for another match day.

Much midnight oil was burned on this, the candle at both ends!
And despite occasional heated debate, they still remain good friends.

There's no praise can be high enough, for this dedicated pair,
Who produce this cracking programme with such tender love and care.

So when you next read your programme, just think of these two gents'
Who beaver away in the wee small hours and don't get two 'red cents'.

Because it is a labour of love on behalf of our much loved 'Roughyeds'.

And all of this completed, whilst you're still tucked up in your beds!!

ROUGHYEDS' NEWS

RICHARD Lepori, who missed our 23-22 play-off defeat by Rochdale, is expected to be back on duty for today's final eliminator against London Skolars at Whitebank (3pm).

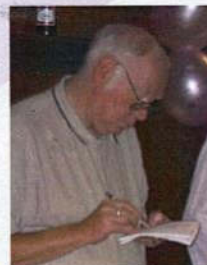

The young full-back was on international duty with Italy last weekend and he went with coach Scott Naylor's full approval even though he missed the Roughyeds' most important game of the season so far.

Said Oldham's boss, "I would never hold back a young player from getting the chance to play for his country. Richard went with our best wishes. He deserves the recognition he is getting."

Richard and hooker Adam Files, who is on a season-long loan from Salford, are both among five nominees for the Kingstone Press Championship One Young Player of the Year award.

Nigel at his favourite occupation...

ROUGHYEDS' NEWS

CHRIS Hamilton, Oldham RL Club chairman, has expressed his "disappointment" that Roughyeds coach Scott Naylor is not among the three nominees for Championship One coach of the year.

The prestigious gong, to be awarded at the Kingstone Press Championships awards night in Leeds on Thursday, September 26 --- three days before the play-off final --- will go to Clive Griffiths (North Wales), Joe Mbu (London Skolars) or Troy Perkins (Hemel Stags).

Votes are cast by the division's coaches themselves.

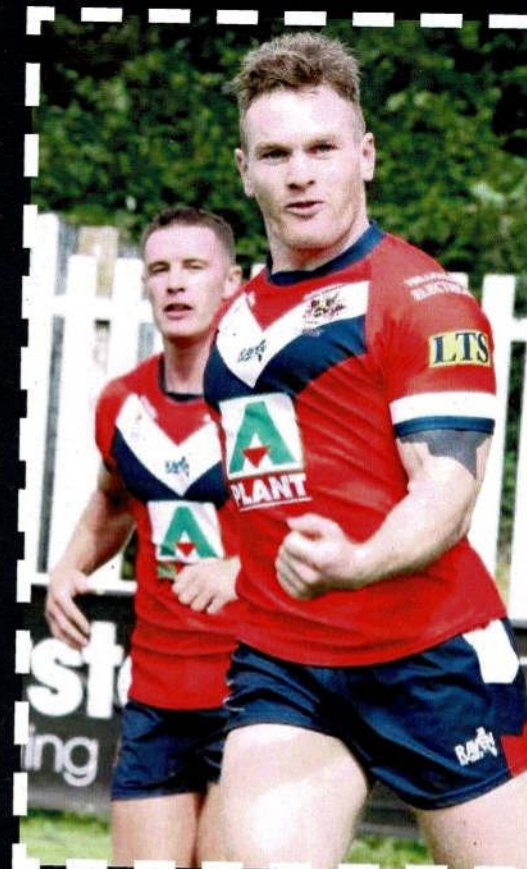

North Wales topped the league and won the Northern Rail Bowl, but Naylor's Oldham finished league runners-up, only two points behind the champions, but with nine points more than Mbu's London and 13 more than Perkins' Hemel Stags.

Said Chris: "You have to respect the vote, but it's beyond me how anyone can think three coaches did a better job than Scott Naylor and his No 2, Lee Spencer."

"Scott did a remarkable job in his first year as a head coach, with limited resources and with the youngest squad in the division."

"We were in by far the tougher of the two Northern Rail groups, but we won three of our four games in that too, losing only to North Wales".

There was some solace for the club in the naming of Richard Lepori and Adam Files among five nominees for young player of the year.

Said Chris: "We are the only club with two nominees, and it was nothing more than the boys deserved. They have both had excellent seasons."

They are up against Tyla Hepi of Gloucester, Luke Hardcastle of Gateshead and Tommy Johnson of North Wales.

The division's player-of-the-year award will go to Andy Mouldsdales or Jono Smith of North Wales or Dylan Skee of London Skolars.

ORSA

A Little Gem

As the season comes to a close a very small band of Roughyeds supporters feel very proud of the part they have played in a season, whatever the result today and hopefully next Sunday, that has been a great success.

Oldham Roughyeds Supporters Association has only a small number of paid members and active members can be counted on the fingers of both hands. Despite this they have, from November of last year to today, managed to help the club to the tune of just short of £5000.

This has been achieved through the Squad Strengthening Appeal (£1750 to date) which has helped the club with loan signings during the season. On top of that ORSA has to date given the club another £2750 through Player Sponsorship, Shirt Sponsorship and Sponsorship of The Players 2013 Awards Night.

A further £320 has supplied the players, coaching and conditioning staff with nutrition and ice baths.

ORSA Chairman, Nigel Marland said, "By the end of November we hope the figure we have raised over the year will top the £6000 mark. I cannot thank enough our handful of active members who sweat blood for their club, organising events, donating prizes, selling raffle tickets and name cards. At the time the reward looks small but when you add it all up at the end of the year it's something they should all be very proud of. I must also thank our fans and indeed the fans of visiting clubs who have generously supported our fund-raising activities"

ORLFC Chairman and Chief Executive, Chris Hamilton added, "In my notes for last week's programme I thanked the match day volunteers for the invaluable help they give the club, without which we could not continue. Many of these volunteers are also ORSA members who manage to fit in money raising events on match days as well as fulfilling their match day duties. These are real fans and it often means they miss watching part of the game which for them is an extreme sacrifice. I cannot thank them enough for the support, both financial and physical, they give to the club."

Assistant Coach, Lee Spencer (Spanner) said, "ORSA have backed the lads all season and whatever we have asked for they've provided, and for that we are eternally grateful."

Nigel added, "The job's not over yet, we will still be running a name card today and there are big events in line before the end of the year. A Whisky Tasting on October 4th, full details available elsewhere in the programme. A Quiz Night at The Lyceum Theatre, Union St on Thursday 7 November and a Race Night organised jointly with Higginshaw ARLFC at their Sport and Social Club on Friday 15 November. It is also planned to run a Cheese and Wine Evening early in the New Year. Any support for any of these ventures will be greatly appreciated. You don't need to join ORSA, just support our events and who knows what we will achieve next year?"

THE ITALIAN JOB

BACK from his Italian job, Richard Lepori is determined to make up for lost time by helping Oldham RL to conquer London Skolars in Sunday's big play-off game at Whitebank.

He followed up a try hat-trick on his Italian debut in July by producing a man-of-the-match performance in a 32-20 win against Serbia in Este, a small town in the Veneto region of northern Italy.

The win clinched Italy second place in the final European Shield table -- and hopefully enhanced the Oldham full-back's dream of making it into the World Cup squad.

Lepori (21) said he was "gutted" when he got off the plane in Manchester, rang Roughyeds skipper Lewis Palfrey and was told that Oldham had failed to win through to the Championship One play-off final after a 23-22 loss against Rochdale Hornets.

In-form Skolars now stand between Oldham and a re-match with derby rivals Rochdale in the final at Leigh Sports Village on Sunday, September 29 for the right to be promoted to the Championship.

Back in training with Oldham last night, Lepori said: "I'm focused on only one thing now, and that's getting the job done against Skolars."

"Having had time to reflect, I think the Rochdale defeat might be a blessing in disguise because it gives us another game. And whatever anybody says we were bound to be a little bit under-cooked, not having had a competitive match for nearly four and a half weeks.

"Lewis (Palfrey) has given me the run-down on what happened last Sunday and we're determined to learn from that and not make the same mistakes again.

"The boss played in loads of play-off games, winning a lot more than he lost, so he knows what it's all about and he can identify what needs to be put right from last week.

"I'll always be grateful to him for letting me play for Italy even though it meant me missing two important Oldham games. (cont)... "I didn't want to turn down the opportunity to prove myself at that level and to give myself a once-in-a-lifetime chance of getting into the World Cup squad.

"None of this would have happened without Oldham's co-operation and without the backing the club has always given me.

"I can think of no better way to repay that faith than by helping the boys to do the business on Sunday.

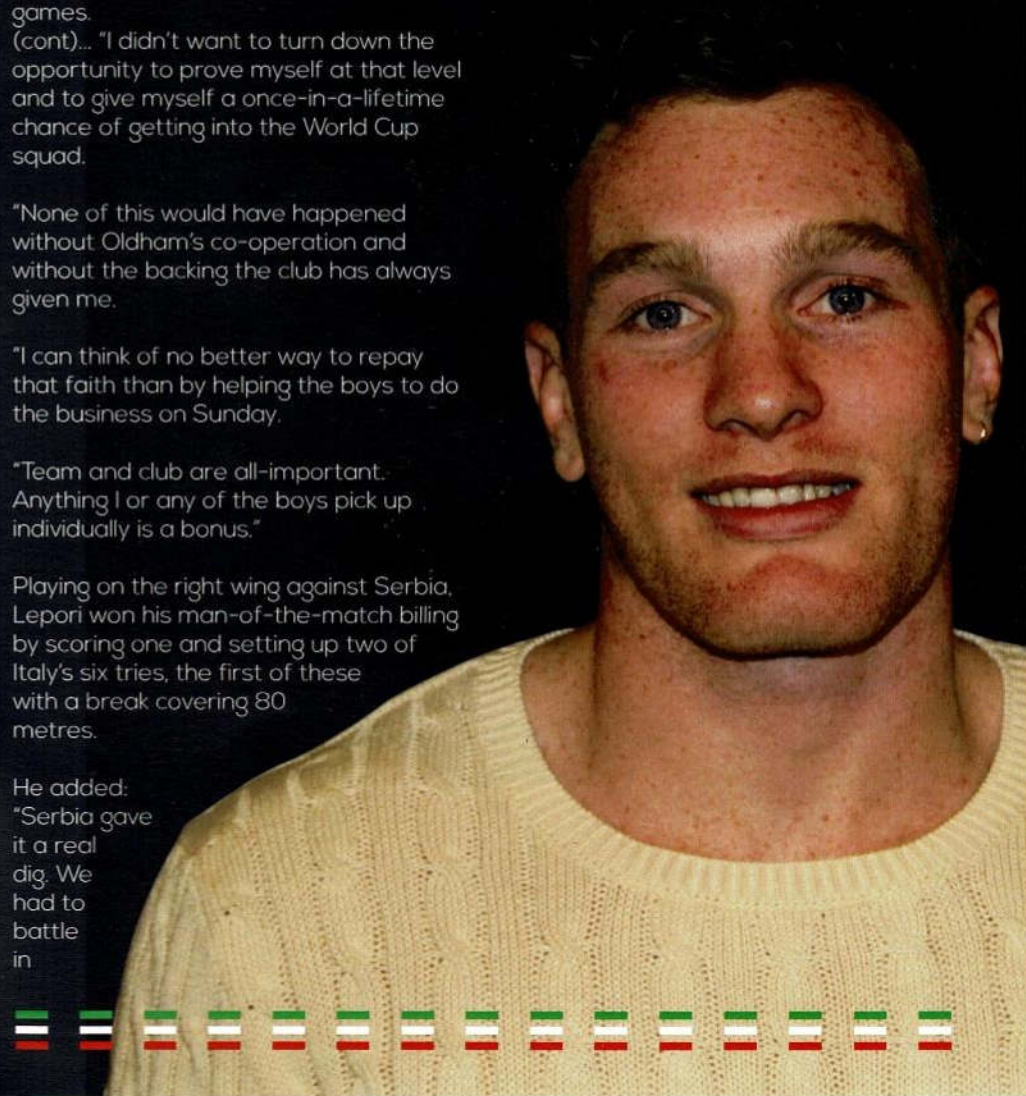

"Team and club are all-important. Anything I or any of the boys pick up individually is a bonus."

Playing on the right wing against Serbia, Lepori won his man-of-the-match billing by scoring one and setting up two of Italy's six tries, the first of these with a break covering 80 metres.

He added: "Serbia gave it a real dig. We had to battle in defence, but we stuck to our plan and scored most of our tries down the flanks.

"I think the coach was pleased with me, but I'll have to wait for a few days to find out whether I'm in the World Cup plans. I'm not banking on it because there's a lot of competition and it's another step-up in standard."

THE WEMBLEY EXPERIENCE

ROUGHYEDS' media manager Roger Halstead summed up his Wembley experience in one word - awesome.

Roger (72) literally flew the flag for Oldham Rugby League Club at the Wigan Warriors v Hull FC Tetley's Challenge Cup final.

He was one of 95 representatives of the clubs that set out on the Wembley trail and who were invited to form a guard of honour, with flags bearing their club crests, for the two teams as they entered the famous stadium in front of a crowd of 78,000.

Said Roger: "It was one of those experiences you never forget. Sitting high up in the stand you can't comprehend what the atmosphere is like at pitch level.

"To be down there during the singing of 'Abide With Me' and the national anthem was awesome. And even though it was raining it was extremely hot and humid.

"No words of mine can adequately describe what a privilege it was to represent Oldham Rugby League Club on such an occasion."

NEW CLUB LOTTERY

ROUGHYEDS have launched a new Club Cash lottery with better prizes. Up for grabs each week now - and it only costs £1 a week - are a first prize of £1,000; a second prize of £250; a third prize of £125; and 30 consolation prizes of £10.

In addition there is a £500 per week rollover jackpot up to a maximum of £10,000.

Results will appear weekly in the Oldham Evening Chronicle, the Oldham Advertiser and on the club's website at www.roughyeds.co.uk

To everyone who is already in the lottery we thank-you for supporting us in providing vital funds for the development of the club. Your support on the lottery is especially important and especially appreciated during the long winter months of the off-season when we have no income from gate receipts.

To join, or to seek further information, ring our Lottery Co-ordinator John McAndrew on 0161 624 9630 Extension 70552 or leave a message on that number or with any other member of staff and we will get back to you.

Thanks again for your support.
